Trial

I heard from Bess Hines Har-kins of Oxnard, California this week. Bess is daughter of Mrs. Bess Hines who spends her winters in Kenansville. Bess is really going places in the field of poetry. She is to publish a notable new volume, "Songs Out Of Silence" and these are some comments made about the new publication. I also am fortunate enough to have two short poems taken from "Songs Of Silence" which I shall share

Poems of Inspiration Serenity and Rejuvenation

There are grounds for high expectation of beauty of thought and expression in the for-thcoming collection of poems by Bess Hines Harkins, widely known in literary circles for an earlier book. "Singing Of The Heart", which went through two editions. Her second book, "Unknown Seas", was also greeted with immediate acclaim. She now has the distinction of being among the Nominees for California's next Poet Laureate.

"The melody of her poetry lingers on, long after the singing has ceased - that intangible music of wind and sky and seathe irristible rhythmus of the oems that keep singing in ne's soul." Edythe Hope Genee, Editor, American Bard.

Faison P.O. Dedication Sunday

Faison's new post office will be dedicated at 3 p. m. on October 18, 1964, Postmaster C. D. McCullen announced today.

The new facility, located at East Main Street, is part of the Post Office Department's lease construction program, the local postmaster explained.

Under this program, investment financing is used to obtain needed facilities which remain under private ownership, pay local taxes to this community, and are leased to the Federal Government.

At the same time, the need for large outlays of money from the Federal Treasury for construction purpose is elim-Like most of the new postal buildings that are going up across the country, this post office is leased to the Post Office Department. This gives the Department some flexibility in adapting its building program to changes in mail volume, transportation and population, Postmaster McCullen said.

The Department is now concentrating on constructing new postal units only where they are most urgently needed. In areas where it is practical to do so, existing buildings are undergoing renovation.

"The fact that Faison has been chosen for a new post office." Postmaster McCullen said, "reflects credit on our growing contribution to the economy and and life of the na-

Meanwhile, for the local postal dedication, the postmaster announced that the following are among the guest expected to attend: Hon. David N. Henderson. Member of Congress Third N. C. District and Hon R. W. Bass, Dnrector of Postal Data Center, Atlanta, Georgia.

"Our patrons will derive more enjoyment from doing business here, their mail will be handled more efficiently and this building and its up-todate equipment will enable our postal employees to work under the best of condition," the Postmaster commented

"The new facility,' he added, "will be a link with a postal system that today has over 45,-000 postal installations. This system serves more than 180 Million Americans and handles over two-thirds of the world's mail. Our 580,00 postal employ-ees are handling about 67 billion pieces of mail a year, in-cluding over a billion parcels," the postmaster addeded.

"Mail business in this area has gone up," the Postmaster noted. "For example, 10 years ago revenue was $8,758.62 compared with $12,804.64 today."
The local post office was first established on March 13, 1844 as Faison's Depot. Later on December 26, 1883, the name was changed to Faison.

The public is cordially invited to attend the dedication program which is being sponsored by the Faison Junior Chamber of Commercs.

Wallace and Warsaw Men Win Football Money

There were more near misses in the weekly football contest this week than ever before, according to the judges who found that a large number of entries missed only two, while three missed only one game.

Milton Costin, Route 1 Warsaw, took first place money with only one miss (picking Mississippi) which turned out to be the same miss made by both winners plus another entry picking all but one game correctly.

Costin, gets a check for ten dollars while Arthur Apple, Wal-lace, took the five dollar second place spot with the exact miss made by Costin. Jack miss made by Costin. Jack Carr of Beulaville missed the same game selection but lost on points. The highest score was 39 and Costin guessed the exact number. Apple guessed 40 and Carr guessed 35. Football contestants are urg-ed to be careful to deposit their entries in the postoffice before noon on Saturdays to be eligible. The time limit has been extended from 6 p. m. Friday to Saturday mornings. More entries are being received each week which indicates increasing interest in the contest. Many envelopes contain five or six entry forms apparently coming from the same store or office.

The football contest is sponsored each week by the following merchants:

ville FCX of Beulaville; Wallace Gas Service, Inc., M & J
Finance Co. and Gowan's Drug Store of Wallace; Farmers Hardware, Home Federal Savings, and Evan's Tenans

Let There Be Light

Thomas Jefferson was quick to perceive that repre-sentative government couldn't endure in the absence of an informed electorate.

He wrote in 1832 that the press was "the best instru-ment for enlightening the mind of men." In 1802 he had written:

"Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without a government I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter." His plain inference was that an enlightened elector-
