Trial & Error 4800 Eat Chicken At Poultry Jubilee

Everyone seems to be enjoying "Indian Summer" so very much this fall. Perhaps it is because we had such a dry year before, maybe it is because we realize winter is so close at hand or it even could be that one would have to be in a terrible frame of mind not to enjoy "Indian Summer."

Recently some of us got into a discussion as to the origin of Indian Summer. So we went to the encyclopedia, which says that it is a short period of especially fair weather and mild days which come in late October or early November while the leaves are turning color and falling from the trees. Indian summer has no definite dates to begin or end.

The encyclopedia further says that Indian summer follows the autumn's first period of cold, wintry days and even though the days get warmer the nights remain cool. Throughout Indian summer, the sun shines dimly and softly. The sky turns a rich blue and always appears gentle and hazy near the horizon. An Indian summer noon often has a soft yellow or orange hue.

Indian summer is caused by a large mass of warm tropical air. South winds carry these warm air masses northward over the country. During Indian summer, the air mass remains stagnant, or still. This causes the weather to remain clear and mild.

The origin of the name Indian summer is uncertain. One story says that the American settlers named the period after the American Indians. Another story says that the settlers used the name because this period of good weather gave the warlike Indians a chance to make more attacks on the settlers. The settlers also believed that smokiness of Indian summer came from fires that the Indians built on the prairies.

This period of fine weather also appears in other parts of the world. Europeans generally call it Old Wives' Summer; sometimes, Second Summer. The English call it All Hallow Summer or St. Martin's Summer. In Poland, the period last for three or four weeks, and is called God's Gift to Poland.

Yes, we all hate to see it leave.

Hon. Hector MacLean of Lumberton will deliver an inspiring address.

Duplin To Receive Million Dollars In Better Schools Vote Nov. 3

FAVORABLE VOTE ON STATE SCHOOL BONDS WILL PROVIDE NEW SCHOOL FACILITIES FOR COUNTY

If North Carolina voters approve the one hundred million dollar bond issue for better school facilities proposed by the 1963 General Assembly in the November 3rd election, Duplin County will receive $988,151.38 to be used for construction of badly needed facilities. The proposal has received the support of all major candidates of both political parties as well as the endorsement of state and local school authorities.

For more than a decade Duplin citizens have exceeded the average county of the state in the effort to provide adequate facilities with local funds. All of the high schools have been consolidated on a pay-as-you-go basis, but all lack space. New teachers and programs have been provided, but the county's schools still lack adequate space for them. Many of the older buildings are in need of renovation.

This much-needed assistance from the state will give local taxpayers a helping hand without raising state taxes, since the bonds will be retired from funds available each year under the existing tax structure of the state.

The proposal has received the unanimous support of Duplin County Commissioners, Board of Education and other leading citizens of the county, since it will help to meet the county's school building needs without raising taxes. They have pointed out that without such assistance the only other source of funds will be the county itself and the county has been doing better than the average county already, but still has building needs that are not yet solved.

REVIVAL SERVICES
Revival services will begin Monday night, November 2 and last through November 6 at Snow Hill F. W. B. Church in Duplin County. Services will begin each evening at 7:30. Clarence Bowe of Wilson will be the visiting minister.

UNITY REVIVAL
The Annual Revival Meeting of Unity Methodist Church will begin November 1, 7:30 p. m., and continue each night through November 6 at the same hour.

Rev. W. R. Crowder, pastor of Warsaw Methodist Church, will be the guest preacher. You are cordially invited to come and worship in these services with us.

Brady Named Christmas Seal Chairman

Mr. J. A. Brady, prominent figure in Wallace, has been named Duplin County Christmas Seal Chairman for 1964. This announcement was made by Dr. E. L. Boyette, president of Duplin County TB Association.

Mr. Brady, office and personal manager of J. P. Stevens and Company has lived in Wallace since 1951. He has been with the company for 22 years.

Mr. Brady is an ex-board member of the Wallace town commissioners, chairman of Wallace airport commission, ex-commander of the Wallace Civil Air Patrol.

A Baptist, Mr. Brady has served his church in many ways. Dr. Boyette in making the announcement of Mr. Brady's appointment stated that he was confident Mr. Brady would give the Christmas Seal Campaign the leadership it deserves.

Turkey Farm Dedicated 4-H Achievement Program Saturday, Nov. 7

Marvin Johnson of Rose Hill, president of Raeford Turkey Farms, Inc., along with turkey growers and buyers from throughout the Carolinas, took part in a dedicatory program yesterday of its new freezer facility.

The freezer facility, with a 200,000 pound daily blast freezing capacity, was put into operation earlier this year and has doubled the production of the plant. The plant has been processing a million pounds of turkey a week since August 1, compared to a capacity of 500,000 pounds a week a year ago.

The plant employs 218 persons compared to a payroll of 160 last year.

The program included tours of the plant and a demonstration of various methods of preparing and cooking turkey given by Miss Joreka Rippe of Atlanta, field home economist for General Electric.

Over five million turkeys are produced annually within the supply area of the plant. Leonard Frahm is general manager.

How We Voted

With an estimated 1,500 more voters registered for this election than ever before in Duplin and a total vote of some 12,000 expected in the county, the favorite pastime is guessing what the outcome will be November 3, next Tuesday.

To help you with your estimate, we turned back through some old Duplin Times and came up with these figures to refresh your memory.

The Stevenson - Sparkman Democratic ticket in 1952 received 6,392 votes in Duplin against 2,115 for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket. The only precinct to go Republican that year was Rose Hill by 6 votes.

The Democratic presidential electors received 275 in Rose Hill Precinct against 281 for the Republican electors. At the same time, Rose Hill cast 349 votes for William B. Umstead, the Democratic candidate for governor, against only 175 for his Republican opponent.

This same year, not a Republican vote was cast for the presidential electors in Smith Precinct and only one vote in Cabin Precinct. The Democratic vote in Cabin was 216 to 1 Republican.

Four years later, 1956, the vote in Duplin was 6,931 for the Stevenson-Kefauver Democratic electors and 2,110 for the Eisenhower-Nixon combination. The last General Election in

Henderson Announces Emergency Loans

Congressman David N. Henderson announces the Department of Agriculture has authorized the making of emergency loans pursuant to section 321 of Public Law 87-128 through June 30, 1965 to eligible farmers in Duplin County. Other counties in the Third Congressional District so designated are Craven, Pender, Sampson and Wayne.

Mr. Henderson stated that any farmer desiring information about emergency loans or other types of assistance available through this agency should get in touch with the local office of the Farmers Home Administration serving his county.

This action was taken because of extensive damage and losses to this year's crops and pastures as the result of almost continuous rainfall from October 9 through 12 which caused the overflowing of rivers and streams.

Ku Klux Klan Leases Duplin Land

Information has been received that the United Klans of America, Inc., Klans of the Ku Klux Klan, Realm of North Carolina, Granite Quarry, N. C. has leased a piece of property on Highway 117 below the Charity Road intersection and south of Rose Hill.

The land, it is understood belongs to L. B. Bradshaw of Rose Hill but is not within the town limits, but just south of town.

The lease extends from 8 a. m. on Saturday morning, October 31 to 8 a. m. on Sunday morning, November 1.

Klansmen have the right to assemble on leased property and to burn crosses if they desire. No law is violated, just as with all citizens, as long as they maintain themselves in an orderly and lawful manner.

It is assumed that a rally is planned on this property for Saturday night, but this is an assumption as no announcement has been made at press time and no permit has been issued for any parade.
