This week has been upside down, downside up, turned around, backed up and I can't think of anymore adjectives to describe it. It has been a confusing mess. We are building two offices downstairs, we are planning to move my office down there, and are also planning to move the paste-up room from the second floor so it will be next to the photography room. With carpenters, electricians, men working on the floor, we are crawling over each other—not even mentioning the hammering. But that is nothing compared with the saw—get a line of thought, be concentrating or wording a story, all of a sudden the scream of the saw plows through your brain and leaves it white washed.

On top of that the mail ser-

On top of that the mail service got us messed up and we are losing a complete half day on this week's paper.

Well, there is always one bright light. The Beulaville Lions invited us of the news Media, and gave us a most wonderful supper at the Town House Restaurant and thanked us and praised us for our work. That is a change!! We are so used to taking a cussing, that treatment of that sort got next to me, but I surely did like it.

Had a most unusual experience this morning. I went on my first fox hunt. That is the most hunting for the least exercise that I have ever seen. we got in cars and rode around and around looking for the dogs. Finally we heard them barking real close to the road, we jumped out of the car and stood waiting for them to cross the road. All of a sudden silence then the dogs started baying way off in another direction. I had to come to work then and could not see them catch a fox.

Riding with me in my car was Mr. Dunn Smith, a far-mer from Albertson who likes square dancing as well as fox hunts. He told me I was like the fellow who came from the city to watch the fox chase, The hunter said to him, 'Listen, isn't that the most beautiful music you ever heard." The man looked at him and said, "don't hear any music. hear is dann dogs baraing."

You should get James Ward of Rose Hill to tell you about his trip to Las Vegas. He surely enjoyed it and said he had never seen as many gambling devices in his life. He said machines were in the hotel lobbies, dining rooms and every where you looked. He said he didn't lose or win any money.

The public is urged to be present for this important meeting to hear this plan explained, A copy of the proposed ordinance and map are on file in the Town Office for inspection by all interested citizens.

Heretofore, we have had a news cut-off at 12 noon Wednesday.

But, due to the hours the mail runs, and due to the fact that the ACL refuses to pick that the ACL refuses to pick up our papers on the early morning run going South, we are forced to meet a deadline at the Kenansville Post Office at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Please correspondents II Have your news of local items in on Monday or Tuesday. We cannot accept it after Tuesday, and we cannot run it the next week, because the old news will crowd out current news.

Politics is rolling eventhough it is early in the season. LeRoy Simmons of Albert-son has filed for State Senate as a candidate to succeed him-self. Simmons has been State Senator for two terms, Last week John N. "Nick" Kalmar of Faison announced that he is running for this office.

Leon Brown of Beulaville has filed for Commissioner of the third district. The encumbent in office is Murphy Simpson of

The most talked about race seems to be U. S. Congressman for the third district, David N. Henderson of Wallace has not filled but it is understood that he is very much in the running.
Don Howell, a Goldsboro man, is seeking the office and is giving the race much time and effort.

Senator Robert Morgan of Lillington sald this week that a court order to realign con-gressional districts could not be ignored by potential candidates for U. S. Congress. But the Lillington attorney and presi-dent candidates for U. S. Condent pro tem of the State Se-nate said he still has not asideration to run against David N. Henderson.

Morgan is on the western end of the Third District. The seclose to a formal announcement.

County Acquires Copies Of Oldest Deed Records And Indexes From Sampson For almost 200 years, Dup-lin County residents have year-ned for the Duplin County Re-gister of Deeds office to have the original books or copies of the books containing deeds recorded in Duplin County dur-ing the period 1749 to 1784. Duplin County was cut off from New Hanover County in 1749 and from 1749 until 1784 Duplin County comprised the areas now known as Duplin and Sampson counties. During the period 1749 to 1784 the Duplin County acquired all of the re-cords which have been known

Legend has been that there were three (3) deed volumes for this period but an actual inspection of the records in the Sampson County Registry found eight (8) volumes of deed re-cords which were recorded from 1754 to 1784 in Duplin County. It is not known what happened to the records for period 1749 to 1754. The earliest deed in Book No. 1 of the Duplin County deed re-cords on file in Sampson County is a deed from Patrick Canady to Henry Byrd made in 1753 and recorded in 1754.

Through the years much in-terest has been manifested in these early records and it has been necessary to refer all interested persons to the Samp-son County Registry for use of these records. These eight (8) books contain a total of 2929 deeds and 3656 pages and to employ someone to copy them by hand would have been a prohibitive cost to Duplin County. It was not until 1959 that the present register was assured of a method by which Duplin County could acquire a copy of these records at a small cost. In 1959, when Mrs. Christine W. Williams, the present register, was serving on the State Advisory Committee on county records and the committee was working for the passage of the statewide program to permit the State Department of Archives permanent county records; she obtained a commitment from the State Department of Archives that when the Sampson County records were microfilmed under the state program that Dup-lin County would be furnished a a copy of the microfilm of the eight (8) Duplin County deed books which have been in Samp-son County since 1784.

Last fall the Sampson County records were microfilmed by the State Department of Archives and History and a copy of the microfilmed by the State Department of Archives and History and a copy of the mi-crofilm of the Duplin County deed books was made available to the Duplin County Register.

The Recordak Company was employed to prepare full size pages from the microfilm. The pages were sent to a book binder and the results are eight (8) volumes of photographed deed records which are in better condition than the original volumes on file in Sampson County from which the copies were made. The original books were written with pen and ink by four registers of deeds who served Duplin County as fol-
