Carltons Married Sixty Years

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carlton quietly celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary at their home here Friday, November 11. Mrs. Carlton was the former Lela Williams of Route 1, Rose Hill.

Medal.

Beaver Dam Club won the County Safety Award, and had more exhibits than any other club.

The meeting adjourned for delicious refreshments of home made ice cream and cookies. Guests at the meeting were: Dr. and Mrs. Boardman, Mr.

Because of declining health, the anniversary was not really celebrated but Mr. Carlton gave an interesting account of the wedding which took place at New Hope Baptist Church, November 11, 1906. Mr. Carlton accompanied by the bride-to-be, her mother and father, the late Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Williams, and Mr. Luke Herring of Rose Hill and his girl friend left her home which was nine miles west of Rose Hill. They went to the church, the ceremony was performed and all the wedding party returned to the home of the groom, a few miles south of Warsaw where, in lieu of the modern wedding reception, the traditional "infare" was held. All the guests spent the night.

The next morning as the guests departed, Mr. Carlton kissed his mother-in-law good bye. This was before he had even had the opportunity to kiss the bride, and Mr. Carlton believes this must have set some sort of record.

Their daughter Elizabeth, now Mrs. Dan Story of Suffolk, Va. spent the previous week with them and that was the best celebration they could have had.
