

F. E. Wallace, 77, Duplin Native Ex-State Legislator From Kinston Dies

KINSTON — A former state legislator, Kinston attorney Fitzhugh Ernest Wallace, 77, died yesterday in Tucson, Ariz.

A native of Duplin County, Wallace had practiced law in Kinston since 1918.

He served in the 1939, 1941, 1943, 1945 and 1947 terms of the General Assembly, serving as chairman of the Finance Committee in 1943 and as a member of the Advisory Budget Commission.

He was former secretary-treasurer of the Atlantic and N. C. Railway Co., secretary of Parrott Memorial Hospital trustees for 25 years, and a trustee of the Consolidated University of North Carolina.

Wallace was a Mason, Shriner, Kiwanian, Elk and elder of the Presbyterian Church. He was a past president of the LeNoir County Bar Association.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church by the pastor, Dr. Thomas Hamilton. Burial will be in Westview Cemetery.

til she could enter Claremont Jr. College. From Claremont she went to Flora McDonald College at Red Springs, N. C. for three years. From there she went to Lees McRae's Institute at Banner Elk, N. C. where she served as Matron and supervised the Girls That Did The Cooking.

From Lees McRae she came to Kenansville to James Sprunt Institute to act as Matron and teach Home Economics. After three and one-half years at James Sprunt she married Lawrence Southerland on February 11, 1919 and moved into the house that has been home to the Southerlands every since. She also joined the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Southerland passed away in 1939.

Magnolia To Get New Business

Mr. and Mrs. Ivey Bowden of Kenansville have purchased the John Bradshaw property located on highway 117 in Magnolia and are planning to open a quality grocery store.

The property includes a grocery store, barber shop and garage. They plan to open the grocery store about the 1st of April and the barber shop about the 1st of May. The garage will be used for storage.

The store will carry a quality line of groceries at a quantity price and will feature choice meats.

man of Family Relations or Family Life for the South Kenansville Extension Homemakers Club. Last year she was Education chairman and chairman of the loan fund, and has served for several years in that capacity. She stressed good reading and patronizing the Library keeping up with number of books read by club members from the approved reading lists from year to year. She is also Chairman of the Duplin County Library Board.

Mrs. Southerland was a charter member of the Kenansville Woman's Club, serving as one of its first presidents, as well as many other offices in the club. She is a past president of the local P.T.A. and served on many committees of that organization. She is a member of Kenansville Chapter #215, Order of the Eastern Star, and has served as Chaplain and now protems for the Station as well as other places when needed. She was president of the Women of Grove Presbyterian Church and is the present chairman of Personal Faith and Family Life, and has served the church in various other capacities. She is Home Nursing Chairman for the Duplin County Chapter of the American National Red Cross.

Mrs. Southerland is proud of her five children and justly so. The oldest two were twins, Eleanor Council and Ellen Tolar. In high school Eleanor was Valedictorian and her twin sister, Ellen was Salutatorian. This entitled Eleanor to a small scholarship.

In the fall of 1941 the next oldest girl, Pattie Sue went to College in Greensboro. The twins, Eleanor and Ellen graduated in May 1942 with B S Degrees. All three girls worked in tax work in the summers.

Ellen taught in the Home Economics department in the Clinton High School for two years before accepting a position as Assistant Home Demonstration Agent in Johnson County. She also worked as Home Agent in Wayne County and married William Edward Willis in 1943. They live near Raeford and have four children. Ellen has accepted work as assistant Home Agent in Hoke County and she and her family are active in all phases of religious and civic life in their home community.

Eleanor, the other twin daughter, came from college to be Assistant Home Agent in Cumberland County. Later she became Home Agent in Sampson County, leaving there for a similar position in Rowan County. After three years there, she left to go to Columbia, South America for the U. S. Government with the Agency of International Development program. She lived in Bogota and it was her special duty to train Home agents in that country. She taught women and girls how to make better homes with the crude material available. The government broke its policy and sent Eleanor back another two years making six years in all that she spent in South America. Her next assignment for AID was in Iran with headquarters in Tehran. She is now working with Foreign students in Washington, D. C.

Pattie Sue went through eleven years of grade and High School in Kenansville without missing a day. She majored in business at Woman's College in Greensboro. She married J. W. (Jim) Newlin. They live in Guilford College and have three children in high school. They belong to the Quaker of Friends Church and she is Secretary-Treasurer of their church. They are active in religious and civic affairs.

Lawrence Jr., the only boy was not a student of books but a brilliant young man. After graduating from High School he attended North Carolina State College for two years. In 1949 he went to Southern Technical Institute in Atlanta, Ga. One of his teachers was instrumental in getting him a job with Lockheed Aircraft. While there he became a member of the Air National Guard. He went into the Air Force to spend his Military Service and was commissioned a 2nd Lt. Upon separation from service he returned to Lockheed and is with the Research Plant. He and his wife Kathy reside in Marietta, Ga. where they attended the Presbyterian church.

Mary Beth Southerland, now Mrs. Wade Gaylor, is the youngest of the children. After finishing high school in Kenansville she took a business course at William and Mary College in Norfolk, Va. She did office work in a bank and also a doctor's office. She is married to Wade Gaylor of Magnolia and they have two children. Mary Beth spends her time making a home for her family in Dunwoody a suburb of Atlanta. They are active in the Methodist church and she works with the girl scouts and other civic projects.

Mrs. Southerland was chosen to represent Duplin County in the District and she will now compete with the other districts for the title of "North Carolina Mother of the Year."

Social Security

BY: JAMES P. TEMPLE
DISTRICT MANAGER

If you are a student between 18 and 22, and the son or daughter of a working parent who is retired or disabled, or who has died, you may be eligible for a monthly benefit check from social security.

James P. Temple, Social Security District Manager in Goldsboro, explained that the 1965 Amendments to the Social Security Act provided for student benefits in order to encourage and aid young people in continuing their education. To qualify, the student must be in full time attendance at an accredited high school, vocational school, college, junior college, or university.

Think you might qualify? Mr. Temple urges you to visit the local office of social security and get the facts. Representatives there will discuss the requirements and help you complete an application for the benefits.

Anyone who is now receiving social security benefits and is under 18, will have his or her monthly benefits continue until they are 22, if they remain in school. All they will need to do is advise the Social Security Administration their school attendance beyond age 18.

Young people who had their social security benefits stopped when they became 18, should apply again if they are full-time students under 22.

What if you work during your summer vacation, or at any time during the year, for that matter? No problem. You may earn up to $1500 a year and still receive your social security student benefits. Also, you can even get benefits during vacation periods, provided you are not out of school more than four months and will be going back full time at the end of your vacation.

Mr. Temple said his office is ready to provide answers to any question on student benefits. Don't be a "drop-out". "Drop in" at 311 E. Walnut St. Goldsboro, N. C. or telephone, 736-6811.

It's Time For A Chowder Supper

Get out the soup kettle and stir up a thick, nourishing chowder for supper, one that's full of enticing flavors, promising aromas. Creamy-rich chowders and other soups of great substance can provide the basis for a satisfying good meal, with nothing but a crisp green salad, bread and butter, and a simple fruit dessert to round out the meal.

Rich creaminess and full body so important to chowders and cream soups are achieved in the following recipe by the use of the non-dairy powdered creamer, Pream. This is the creamer currently making culinary news as a convenient replacement for milk and cream in cooking. Count on this new kitchen shelf staple to give this Corn Cheese Chowder rich flavor, creamy smoothness.

Corn Cheese Chowder

- |                           |   |
|---------------------------|---|
| 6 slices bacon, diced     | 1 cup non-dairy Pream                     |
| 1 small onion, chopped    | 1 cup boiling water                       |
| 3 tablespoons flour       | 1 1/2 cups grated cheddar cheese          |
| 2 cups water              | 2 cups cooked or canned whole kernel corn |
| 1 cup raw, diced potatoes | 1 teaspoon salt                           |
| 1/2 teaspoon dried sage   | 1/2 teaspoon pepper                       |
| 1 large bay leaf          |   |

Combine bacon and onion in large saucepan; cook until bacon is done and onion is tender. Blend in flour; cook 1 minute without coloring. Add the 2 cups water, potatoes, sage and bay leaf; cover and cook until potatoes are just tender (10 to 15 minutes). Remove bay leaf; add Pream, 1 cup boiling water, grated cheese, corn and seasonings. Heat until soup comes to the boil and cheese melts. Sprinkle with chopped parsley and chives. Makes 6 cups, or 6 servings.

It is not too early to be thinking about what you will need this summer to fill the family freezer with high quality fruits and vegetables. While most housewives are familiar with quick freezing methods, we are not always well informed about good quality in the processed product.

It is well to remember that harvested fruits and vegetables are highly perishable. While attached to the mother plant, they are supplied with food and water and build up reserve energy. When removed from the plant, they are still very much alive and dependent entirely upon the energy stored within them to keep alive. This means that their useful life as food for the family is rather short unless some method of preservation is immediately employed.

Of all the methods used, quick freezing probably preserves the fresh flavor and nutritive value better than any other method. If suitable varieties are used and harvested at the proper stage of maturity. Apples, peaches, strawberries, raspberries and dewberries should be tree or vine ripe and suitable for eating out-of-hand. Vegetables should not be allowed to become overripe. Snapbeans will become tough; okra, fibrous; broccoli, coarse.

At 85 degree F. sweet corn will lose approximately 50 per member of the pre-commissioning detail aboard the Coast Guard Cutter Southwind (WAGB-280), homeported in Baltimore, Md.

Formerly the Navy icebreaker Atka, the 6000-ton polar icebreaker is presently undergoing a 1.5 million dollar overhaul and modernization program. She is scheduled to depart on her first deployment in June when she will undertake a four month Arctic resupply and scientific exploration mission.

Originally commissioned in 1944 as a Coast Guard cutter, for five years the Southwind served under the U.S.S.R. flag through the lend-lease program, and later with the U. S. Navy.

HOLMES W. LANGSTON

MOBILE, Ala. — Holmes W. Langston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Langston of Route 2, Warsaw has been promoted to airman first class in the U. S. Air Force.

Airman Langston is an air policeman at Brookley AFB, Ala. He is a member of the Air Force Logistics Command which provides supplies, equipment and services to keep the USAF's combat units ready for immediate action.

The airman is a 1964 graduate of James Kenan High School.

cent of its sugar content within 24 hours. Lima beans and garden peas also lose sugar rapidly after harvesting.

Quick freezing is important. The lower the temperature (minus 20 degrees or lower), the smaller the ice crystals formed during the process. This brings up the question of over-loading your freezer with unfrozen material. Limit to about 10 per cent of freezer capacity the introduction of unfrozen packages.

Here are some fruit varieties you will find satisfactory: Apples, Golden Delicious, Rome Beauty, York and Stayman; Peaches, Dixigem, Candor (non-browning), Red Haven, Georgia Belle and Elberta; Strawberries, Dixieland, Albritton, Tennessee Beauty and Surecrop. For vegetable varieties, write the Agricultural Extension Service for the "Garden Manual," or see your county agent.
