Rose Hill To Host Annual Meet Of District II

G. A. Coronation Ceremony

The Girls Auxiliary of the Rose Hill Baptist Church held their Coronation Ceremony on Sunday evening September 24 in the church. The theme for the coronation was "O Worship the King".

Mrs. W. S. Wells, Jr. served as narrator. The girls who passed their steps as maidens were: Misses Margaret Butler, Da Sue Davis, Kim Herring, and Brenda Smith. Each of these girls, wearing white robes with green collars, was presented, a green octagon, the symbol of a Maiden, by Mrs. Dewitt Sheffield.

Miss Debbie Hardison was Lady-in-Waiting. She was presented a green octagon with a white star in the center.

Miss Debbie Cottle and Miss Susie Smith were Princesses, and were presented green octagons with a white star in the center topped with the gold G. A. emblem.

Miss Susan Carter received her charge as Queen. She wore a white robe with a gold collar. She was presented the gold trimmings which surrounds the green octagon, white star, and gold G. A. emblem. As she knelt she was awarded the Queen's Crown. She was then congratulated by Rev. Hugh Ross Williams. The Queen's attendant was Miss Robin Teachey.

Miss Sally Williams received her charge as Queen-in-Servant. She wore a white robe with a gold collar. She was presented an emblem on her crown. Miss Llewann Murray served as her attendant. She was congratulated by Rev. Williams.

The ceremony closed with the girls singing, "O Worship the King". Leaders for the Girls Auxiliary are: Mrs. W. S. Butler, and Mrs. W. S. Wells, Jr.

Swingmasters Band Featured At Poultry Jubilee

Featured at the Rose Hill Poultry Jubilee will be the popular Swingmasters' Band. This band was organized in 1943 with only three members and has now expanded to six members. Composing the band are J. C. Bryant, Sr., who plays bass guitar; Clyde Mattocks of Kinston, electric steel guitar and Spanish guitar; McNeill Raynor of Beulaville piano and organ; Jimmie Williams of Jacksonville, Drums and Saxophone; and Charles Albertson of Beulaville, featured soloist. One member of the band, S/Sgt. Gene Davidson who has been with the group for three years, is now stationed at Bedford, Va., with the U. S. Air Forces.

The Swingmasters are very much in demand. They have weekly engagements at the Alcoa Club, at Seymour Johnson AFB, Del Montys Steak House in Goldsboro and play each Saturday night at the American Legion headquarters in Wallace. They have also played at the Moose Club in Kinston on numerous occasions and at the Hadnot club at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

The Swingmasters are known for the variety in types of music they play. Their repertoire includes popular, country, western and blues. They play their own recorded arrangements and some original songs. The band has made a record entitled "Time" and one entitled "Once in a While", both of which were written and sung by Charles Albertson. Their latest record will be released at an early date.
