

Fig Arts will Present Dolans Barton

The Tar Heel Fine Arts Society will present its third concert of the season featuring Dolans Barton, Soprano Soloist. The concert will be presented in the Kenansville Elementary School Auditorium on Tuesday evening, February 6, 1968 at 8 p.m.

Miss Barton has appeared as soloist with the Chicago Philharmonic Orchestra and the Columbus Symphony Orchestra. A native of Zanesville, Ohio, she received her musical training in New York as a special student of Giuseppe DeLuca, the distinguished Metropolitan Opera Tenor and teacher. She furthered her musical training at the Juillard School of Music in New York, Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, and with Rudolph Ricci in Rome, Italy.

A part of Miss Barton's singing career was spent in Miami, Florida, where she performed as leading soloist with the Miami Bayfront Orchestra under the direction of Maestro Caesar Lamónaca.

She performed before an enthusiastic audience of 21,000 appreciative concert goers and was honored with special recognition by the City of Miami. She returned to Miami last November and was extended a standing invitation to return for other performances. Maestro Lamónaca remarked that Miss Barton received the largest ovation of any soloist that has appeared with the Bayfront Orchestra.

Miss Barton is now a resident of Mount Olive. Prior to moving to Mount Olive, she served as head of the Department of the Hollywood Branch of the Miami Conservatory of Music. She also lived in Chapel Hill where she appeared in the singing role of Queen Sheba in a performance of Handel's "Solomon" by the University of North Carolina Orchestra and chorus. She is the wife of Albin Pikutis in private life.

Miss Barton recently conducted a class in voice technique, music appreciation and chorus at James Sprunt Institute. She has been soloist in programs presented by the Mount Olive Methodist and Presbyterian Churches, and at St. Stephens Episcopal Church in Goldsboro. She also performed as soloist in a presentation of the "Messiah" and "The Last Words of Christ" by the Mount Olive Community Chorus.

The public is invited to attend this concert. Admission to the concert will be by season tickets. However, tickets for this individual performance will be on sale at the door. Adult tickets will be $2 and children $1.

H Gets Industry

Continued From Page 1

ment will consist of approximately 60 people when the plant opens about June 1, 1968, which is the target date for having the building ready for occupancy. James Sprunt Institute will work with Rose Hill in training the persons selected for employment. The Employment Security Commission will do the trainee recruitment and testing program.

Manufacturing operations and sales will be handled by Rose Hill Textiles, Inc. Stock in this company was made available to the stockholders in the building company. Rose Hill Textiles will make ladies and childrens garments that will be sold through established sales distribution firms.

Officers and Board Members of Rose Hill Industries, Inc., are: Dennis Ramsey, President; Dr. G. P. Matthews, Vice President; Harvey Braddy, Secretary; N. R. Mattocks, Treasurer; C. W. Surratt, Jr.; John Rich; and M. E. Edwards. Efforts to secure a building for an industrial operation started with the Rose Hill Chamber of Commerce, Richard Burton, Elwyn Murray, Jr., and Verne Cayton, along with those named as officers and board members of the building company, gave unsparsingly of their time in getting the appropriate organizations formed and chartered as provided by state law.

Officers of Rose Hill Textiles, Inc., are: D. J. Fussell, Sr., President; Roy Carter, Vice President; C. W. Surratt, Jr., Secretary; and Cecil Worsley, Treasurer.

Mr. Johnson urged the importance of unity with the National Turkey Federation, and the strength which would result from a solid and united industry as an aid to various problems now besetting the existing groups. He points out the fact that such unity is of benefit to all producers.

In closing his address Mr. Johnson, stated that he expects the turkey industry to be the best informed group of agriculture business leaders in any segment of agriculture production. His entire address presented a bright outlook and a determination for still further improvement within the industry.

Harless Hurt

Continued From Page 1

day afternoon when he was driving on highway 50 to his home in Raleigh. A car pulled out from an intersection into the path of his vehicle. The car received extensive damage.

Authorities say that Mr. Harless will be able to be back on the job at James Sprunt Monday.

Heart Fund

Continued From Page 1

tional ability, she has devoted a great deal of her talent to the publicity of all the Heart Fund Activities. In 1967 she received the Founders Award presented by the North Carolina Heart Association for distinguished leadership in the Heart Cause.

Mr. O. P. Johnson of Kenansville is Superintendent of Duplin County Schools, and has worked faithfully at this job for 33 years. He was born and raised four miles west of Burgaw at Stoney Run, graduated from Burgaw High School in 1923, attended Trinity College which was renamed Duke University. Shortly after graduation from Duke University he married Minnie Croom of Burgaw, they have one son James Owen of Willingboro, N. C. and two grandchildren. Mr. Johnson has worked several years as Kenansville City Heart Fund Chairman, and during this time has brought a personal appeal to our Duplin Citizens and shown them the vast importance of supporting Heart Fund research, education and community Heart programs. Mr. Johnson also received the Founders Award in 1967.

Mrs. Hervey Kornegay, Sr. of Calypso is a lifetime resident, was born and raised in this community and now resides on her farm outside of Calypso. She has one son, Dr. Hervey Kornegay, Jr., a physician practicing medicine at Mt. Olive and two granddaughters who all live at Calypso. Mrs. Kornegay is a member of the Calypso Presbyterian Church and takes an active part in the civic and religious life of the Calypso community. Her special interest is supervising her farm.

Mrs. Addis P. Cates of Falsion is a native of Rochester, New York, married to Mr. Addis Cates, they are the parents of three sons, Curtis of Falsion; Brooks of Burlington, N. C.; and Ted of Parkton, N. C., they have five grand children. Mrs. Cates has lived at Falsion for several years, is a member of the Falsion Presbyterian Church, Sesame Club, and the Falsion Garden Club.

Mrs. James F. Strickland of Warsaw, is a resident of this community, married to James F. Strickland, mother of two children, one son - James F. Strickland, Jr., who is in the Air Force and stationed at Toccoa, Wash-

Dennis Ramsey, President of Rose Hill Industries, Inc. left, congratulates D. J. Fussell, right, President of Rose Hill Textiles, Inc. as P. B. Ralford (center) congratulates both men for their part in bringing a new industry to Rose Hill.

TRIAL AND ERROR

Continued From Page 1

thing about nothing. Small boy to mother: "Can I help Dad put on the snow chains? I know all the words." Charles V. Mathis, Quote.

Ruth

Kornegay

Continued From Page 1

dation, a member of the Trojan Club, chairman of Red Cross Bloodmobile for area, member of Elks, Chairman of Girl Scout Fund raising campaign, charter member and one of the original organizers of Southern Wayne Recreation.

As an outstanding Young Democrat he has served the organization in many state and local posts, and was chosen one of the ten most outstanding Young Democrats in North Carolina by the YDC.

An active member of the First Methodist Church of Mt. Olive he is a member of the Official Board, Stewardship and Finance Committee, and Chairman of the Every Member Visitation Committee.

Kornegay is a member of many legal organizations including the American Trial Lawyers Association, Young Lawyers Section of N. C. Bar Association, and American Bar Association.

Mrs. Kornegay is the former Evelyn Peterson of Raleigh, and they have two children, Stephanie age nine, and Russ, age eight.

Oswald Honored

Continued From Page 1

been active in the Lions Club since its organization in 1937. He is also a Mason, a Shriner, and past governor of the Wallace Loyal Order of Moose. He served for a number of years as director of the N. C. Press Association and has served as its president for one year.

Presently Mr. Oswald is President of Wallace Progress Unlimited, Inc., Treasurer of Wallace Development Corporation, and a director of Duplin Development Commission.

He is married to the former Polly Davis of Whiteville and they have three children H. L. (Sonny) Oswald III, Mrs. R. H. (Mary Wingard) Wilson, who are both associated in business with their father, and Mrs. James T. (Sue) Johnson, teacher at Wallace-Rose Hill High School. They also have five grandchildren.

Forty years of service is the price Harry Oswald has paid for the honor being bestowed upon naming him by the VFW in naming him "Man of the Year."

Announces

Continued From Page 1

lington Mills and Daniel Richard Sutton, who is serving in the Navy, stationed in the West Indies Islands. Mr. Sutton has one granddaughter whom he says "is the very tops."

A retired merchant, Mr. Sutton is now in the real estate business in Warsaw and is a farmer.

Health Board

Continued From Page 1

Sutton, Warsaw; Dr. C. F. Hawes, Rose Hill; and Dr. John F. Powers, Wallace. These members represent a Dentist, Medical Doctor, Health Director, Chairman of County Board of Commissioners and a public spirited citizen.

Among other matters of interest before the board was the urgent need for citizens to use space provided for deposit of trash and garbage instead of cluttering highways with same, and the new federal meat inspection law.

Dr. Herring

Continued From Page 1

sent had met to show appreciation to him as the "father of the Community College System" which, during the coming years, has spread across North Carolina.

Two Bladen County school girls, Beth Hester and Jane Parker came forward and presented Dr. Herring with a fountain pen from students of the Bladen schools. He also received a country ham, and a gold Hamilton pocket watch was presented from the people of the county. These gifts and the dinner were expressions of the appreciation of the people of the county to Dr. Herring for his efforts for the Community College System and for his help for Bladen County, which now proudly contains the fifteenth community college unit in North Carolina.

Poultry Convention

Continued From Page 1

address to the convention had, as its subject "A Modern Organization for a Modern Industry."

In his address Mr. Johnson stressed the importance of integrated production within the industry, the industry's place for the individual breeder, and contracting as a business basis. The problem of cutting back production was examined, and he stated that this was the main question now being debated by producers in all areas of the nation. He offered an optimistic outlook for its being solved on a sound business tion WLSE. They invite all other ministers in the area to unite with them for the benefit of the entire area and for fellowship with each other.

Ministrial Asso.

Continued From Page 1

The group will meet monthly for lunch, discussion and a program on each Monday following the fourth Sunday. The next meeting will be on Monday, February 27 at Effies Restaurant in Rose Hill.

Officers of the new organization are: President, Rev. N. D. Lucas of Wallace Pentecostal Holiness Church; Vice President, Rev. Charles Sparks, minister of Rose Hill Methodist Church; Secretary and Treasurer, Rev. George W. Ports, of Wallace Methodist Church; Rev. Edgar Whitlock, chairman of Radio devotionals.

Others present at the organizational meeting were: Rev. C. H. Beale, Magnolia Methodist Church; Rev. David Coners, North East Duplin Free Will Baptist; Rev. R. D. Riggan, Island Creek Baptist Church; Rev. J. D. Morrison, Wallace Presbyterian Church; Rev. Edwin D. Carroll of Sharon Baptist Church, Chinquapin; Rev. Matthew T. Douglas, Rockfish Presbyterian Church; Rev. Ronald S. Mizell, Church of God of Wallace; Rev. W. C. Porter III, Mt. Zion Presbyterian Church in Rose Hill; Rev. Tom Dorman, Willard Baptist Church; Rev. Charles E. Sparks, Rose Hill Methodist Church and Rev. Norman S. Aycock, minister Magnolia Baptist Church.

Robbery Motive

Continued From Page 1

entire body. A long sharp instrument had been jabbed into the buttock and ripped out, bearing the bones.

The two men allegedly took Wells' pocket book, beat him with a stick, carved and stabbed him after he passed out from drinking.

The victim had been dragged from the porch of a house from which he had been evicted. His body was left, unclad, about fifty yards away and between two houses.

Our Interest Is People

That's why when natural disaster splinters poles and shreds lines, the electric cooperatives join hands to restore service as speedily as humanly possible—and often the job they do seems superhuman. Because every director, every manager and every lineman knows the burden sustained by electric cooperative members when their power is out, they have developed a statewide plan of cooperation between cooperatives when disaster strikes. Cooperation built rural electric service. Cooperation restores it. Dependable low-cost electric service. You can count on it from the electric co-ops whatever the weather may do.

1304 N. William St. Goldsboro, N. C.

For Goodness Sake Rose Hill Brand Chickens

AT YOUR Favorite Grocer's

ROSE HILL POULTRY
CORP.

Rose Hill, N.C.

Ecumenical Mission Study

An Ecumenical Study is being given at the Kenansville Woodland Methodist churches. Last Sunday evening the first session of the study was conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. T. Clark. The topic is "That the World May Believe". The text being used is "That the World May Believe" by Albert Outler, renowned Methodist professor at the Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University. Dr. Outler was previously on the Duke Divinity School faculty. He has been one of the Methodist observers at the past sessions of the Vatican Council being held since Pope John XXIII.

The first session was held Sunday, January 14. The second session was held Sunday, January 21 at Woodland Methodist Church. The third and final session was held Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at Kenansville Methodist Church.

The purpose of the study is to discuss the possibilities of future church unity among Christian people. Serious discussions on church unity have been going on since 1910. Church mergers have been taking place. Serious talks are going on between Methodist, Presbyterians, and Episcopalians. There is a noticeable absence of Southern Baptists involved.

Mr. Clarke is discussing the history of the Ecumenical Movement and quoting pertinent statements from the most important documents of the popes and Eastern Orthodox leaders. Two filmstrips will be shown: "The World in a Word, and One Heritage! One Faith! One Church!"

This same Mission Study will be presented at the Warsaw Methodist Church from 7 till 9 p.m., February 4 and 11. Mr. Clarke will also present the study. The public is invited. This is a relevant study for all denominations and all Christians. Let's discover what we believe.

Mr. Clarke is discussing the history of the Ecumenical Movement and quoting pertinent statements from the most important documents of the popes and Eastern Orthodox leaders. Two filmstrips will be shown: "The World in a Word, and One Heritage! One Faith! One Church!"

This same Mission Study will be presented at the Warsaw Methodist Church from 7 till 9 p.m., February 4 and 11. Mr. Clarke will also present the study. The public is invited. This is a relevant study for all denominations and all Christians. Let's discover what we believe.

This same Mission Study will be presented at the Warsaw Methodist Church from 7 till 9 p.m., February 4 and 11. Mr. Clarke will also present the study. The public is invited. This is a relevant study for all denominations and all Christians. Let's discover what we believe.

This same Mission Study will be presented at the Warsaw Methodist Church from 7 till 9 p.m., February 4 and 11. Mr. Clarke will also present the study. The public is invited. This is a relevant study for all denominations and all Christians. Let's discover what we believe.

MERCHANTS LEADERS—Mount Olive Merchants association installed new officers Monday night. They include, left to right, Retiring President George Martin, who presents the gavel to New President Harry Lee Cobbs; Secretary Mary Dallas Sutton, and Treasurer Lonnie Rackley. Vice President Breedlove Shaw was absent when the picture was made.

EASY-UP CONCRETE STEPS
3 Steps High $24.00

EASY-UP
One-piece, light-weight, concrete steps. Nothing else to buy or do. Just Set Up - Walk-Up. Lifetime Concrete. Beautiful 4-foot-wide - All heights. 1 step thru 5 steps - also available with platform.
LOWEST PRICE EVER - PLUS SIMPLE PLACING

734-4321 Goldsboro, N. C. 858-4321 Mt. Olive, N. C.
These steps may be purchased at Builders Supply Co. in Mt. Olive also