Those who publish weakly newspapers in ural areas are usually so very busy reporting liths, recording deaths, keeping a journal of those "who entertained at bridge" or nade an "out-of-town shopping trip last riday afternoon" -, until little time is of to even keep one's self well-informed bout national and world affairs, much less of express opinions editorially.

But, if (and they most certainly did) the values and the Carpenter found a spare noment in which they quit Carpentering and Waltussing" long enough to talk of "many hings" --including "Ships, Shoes and Sealing Wax - Cabbages and Kings --" And a suspect that each discussion was not assed on any profound learning or research.

Then it would certainly seem that even a Country Editor would (or should) have the same freedom of speech as granted to a Walrus and take this moment not "to write of many things" or even of many ships - but of our own lost Pueblo and the brave crew that manned her.

Until all of the facts are known, no one could fairly blame or praise her Commander or critize, or uphold the policy that sent her into such dangerous waters so close to such a hostile land. But all can sympathize with the families of those sailor boys whose fate is unmown; and all should pray for their safe return.

Until we have further knowledge, we think it well to remind ourselves and our readers that even here on our own North Carolina Coast, Sea Faring families glory in their own tradition, and proudly trace their own lineage, so that their names shine out brightly, as beacons of bravery. The Fulchers, The Mideyetts, Millis, Willis, and Davis families are really all a part of a larger family; the family of those who through the years have sent brave men "down to the Sea, in Ships--" in Ships--"

And while it is hoped that the Pueblo incident may be honorably settled by peaceful endeavor; Yet no one (including the pirates of North Korea) should even forget that this is the Navy of John Paul Jones; and that his words ring forever in their hearts, as in our own ears we hear the echo from the class rooms of Childhood "We Have Just Begun to Fight."

10 Years Ago

en Wedding Anniversary.

logging accident near Dover.
Rose Hill citizens buy old hotel for use as civic center.

example, runs into financial problems the solution is appa-

The local Community Action

Agency, located centrally in Rose Hill with expected branch offices to be established in Pender and Sampson, has con-centrated on four main projects. Headstart for underpriviledged pre-schoolers is a year round program serving 375 children, Eight centers are located in the three county area, and in addition to a regular completement of teachers and aides, three full time social workers and one full time nurse with assistants serve the physical needs of the children. A full time qualified dietician supervises the food program.

Planned Parenthood is ano ther popular program and in the short time this program has been in operation almost two hundred low income mo-thers have enrolled. Three full thers have enrolled. Three full time registered nurses are em-ployed under the supervision of the County Health Departments. One of the nurses in her re-port stated emphatically that this was the greatedst program ever devised and "If people could see as we see the results achieved no one would consider achieved no one would consider achieved no one would consider terminating so meaningful a program,"

Neighborhood Youth Corps is another component designed to help low income high school students stay in school, and an allied program helps those who have dropped out secure additional training.

A rural program specializing tional training.

A rural program specializing in a new possible source of revenue for low income farmers, has been a "feeder pig" en-deavor. Data compiled through reports indicates this a very successful project. The direc-tor expressed interest in fur-ther development of the rural projects to make them more in-clusive.

Other areas in which the lo-cal agency has been active is rently to fund more money.

I. Year Ago

Pellets roll again at Ramsey Feed Co. after distructive fire closes plant.

Mrs. Thelma Dail Taylor resigns as Director of Social Worlin Duplin County.
Former Congressman of Third District, Graham A. Barden, dies in New Bern.

5 Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Brewer attend Diamond Jubilee Drug Convention in Atlanta, Ga.

Robert Ray Thomas of Route 2, Pink Hill and H. L. Sander-son, Jr., Route 1, Magnolia attend Farmers Short Course in College.
Rockfish merchants, Walter Johnson, is murdered by blow from axe assallant still at large.
Mrs. A. Brooks of Brooks Department store is on buying trip to New York.

Changes In

Poverty War

Announced

J. L. (Lude) Quinn, promi-nent Chinquapin man, dies sud-denly of heart attack at his

Two Duplin County deaths attributed to severe cold wea-

Well! Well!

pieces, then very generously all the others were invited to partake. It was simply delicious!

in off moments. So I am sure, Lee, this was written just for me, and thanks a million.

the pounding of my heart by the quieting of my mind. Stea-dy my hurried pace with the visions of the eternal reach of time. Give me amidst the confusion of my day, the calm-ness of the everlasting hills. Break the tensions of my ner-ves and muscles with the sou-thing music of the singing streams that live in my memory. Teach me the art of taking minute vacations - of slowing down to look at a flower, to chat with a friend, to pat a dog, to read a few lines from a good book. Let me look upward into the branches of the towering oak and know that it grew great and strong because it grew slowly and well. Slow me down, Lord, and inspire me to send my roots deep into the soil of life's enduring va-

Arthor Unknown.

ment with the program. Ninety people are directly employed to administer the quite far reaching opportunities.

year will bring some $900,000 to the three counties and like a giant industry, the effects of third to be elected by the poor.

The thrust of the program continues to be for the economically deprived, and sixty-two per cent of all people within the three county area fall in that classification.

ers, but rather from the de-henry lipcorn

* SAYS *

WASHINGTON - Americans of this generation live in an atmosphere of crisis. Not only do we face perilous problems of national security, but we face critical problems at home. This atmosphere of "crisis" has clouded the division of powers among the three branches of our mushrooming Federal Government and has caused some encroachments which en-danger our constitutional sys-tem of government by three se-parate and independent, bran-ches.

deral Government in our day-to-day affairs has triggered a rising volume of complaints with the Congress, in the courts, in the press, and from the peo-ple that the Executive and Judicial branches of the Federal Government have encroached upon the power of Congress.

The Senate has become so concerned about such encroachments and the problems they raise that it has established a Special Subcommittee on Separation of Powers, which I have the privilege of chairing. The function of the Subcommittee will be to study the operation of specific areas of the Federal Government to discover the present state of the division of authority, and to recom-mend steps for the es-tablishment of appropriate lines of separation of powers con-sistent with the Constitution and the needs of modern times,

Although many people now-adays charge that our consti-tutional division of powers is inappropriate to the needs of The involvement of the Fe-

This year the Subcommittee will begin a comprehensive study of this problem with a view toward recommending reforms to enable Congress to discharge its legislative re-sponsibilities. In recent years, agencies have not always had a high regard for the standards and limitations enunciated by Congress in the statutes which they administer.

Co., Warsaw, N. C.; married to Boyd Walker and they are the parents of three children; Linparents of three children; Linda, Mrs. James Grady, Landis and Lans. She is a member of the Bear Marsh Missionary Baptist Church and her special interests include knitting, sewing, fishing, music and reading,
As Medical representative,

Dr. Corbett L. Quinn will re-present the health and medical profession the organization's leadership. He will provide members of local health professions with research reports and other medical assistance in the diagnosis and treatment of heart disease. In addition he will help family physicians to se-cure through the association patient management items to supplement their treatment of heart disease victims.

Dr. Corbett Quinn is a wellknown physician who lives at Magnolia, is married to the former Ruth Montgomery Quinn of Brogue, Pennsylvania, and they are the parents of two children, Corbett Jr., and Lisa. He attends the Magnolia Methodist Church, and is very active in Civic affairs, and at active in Civic affairs, and at present serves as Mayor of Magnolia; President of the Medical Staff of Duplin General Hospital; and a member of the Finance Committee of the North Carolina Academy of General Practice.

Mrs . Hattie Dobbins will serve as Heart Fund Co-Chairman and will be responsible for organizing, supervising and appointing her local community leaders for our 1967 campaign.

Mrs. Hattle Dobbins lives at Teachey and is a retired tea-cher. She is married to C. W. Dobbins, and they are the pa-rents of two children, Kenneth ns who attends Winston Salem State College; and Anna McCullough who attends State College at Fayetteville, Mrs, Dobbins is a member of the First Baptist Church at Tea-

Duplin County Heart Associa-

Chittlin Switch

On account of February being the Lincoln Jesson out of the month of birthdays, the fel- way furlers at the country store Satur- he didn't know t day night was saying a few frog story come for words about Lincoln and Washington and such February he the Bible credit for a rose that went to their reward long afore what Ed Doulitile the subject, so he an always calls the "Dread Dawn was planning to change the subject of t

It was Ed that right off wanted to git Abe Lincoln on the agenda. So while he still had the floor from reporting on the Groundhog perdictions for February weather, he went on to recall some of them "immortal words" from Lincoln. Clean with names like Adams Brown. He said the world gitting so crowded folks had words" from Lincoln. Clem Webster says Ed always uses that term when he sets out to quote Lincoln.

Anyhow, Mister Editor, Ed said ole Abe always enjoyed telling the story about the bullfrog, so he used that fer the Lincoln lesson of the year. It Anyhow, Mister Editor, Ed said ole Abe always enjoyed telling the story about the bull-frog, so he used that fer the Lincoln lesson of the year. It seems this bullfrog fell into a wagon rut and couldn't jump out no matter how hard he tried. He called fer his friends and these antiled and rolled on him. they pulled and pulled on him but couldn't git him out. Final, the friends went off and left him. The next day the ole bullfrog The next day the ole bullfrog was at his usual place on the banks of the pond. His friends was suprised, and they said they thought he couldn't git out of the rut. "I couldn't git out," said the bullfrog, "but I heard a wagon coming and had to." Ed was of the opinion we got a that Federal administrators of heap of them bullfrogs living ten do not pay strict attention off the country simply because to Congressional intent in the they ain't never heard the wagon application of our laws.

It has been charged that this is exactly what is happening in the administration of the TaftHartley Act through the Ne-one out the store door. Personal, Mister Editor, Pm going to keep my name and take my chances.

Uncle Pete

the Minister's Desk

By: D. E. Parkerson: Carrboro, N. C.

Hartley Act through the Na-tional Labor Relations Board. It has been alleged repeatedly, and I think there is evidence to These hearings will touch upon vital governmental pro-cesses which affect every citi-

and I think there is evidence to support the allegation, that the NLRB, through its interpretations of plain statutory language, has largely nullified the major reforms of that Act. The Subcommittee plans to investigate these charges and will attempt to formulate recommendations for a more effective Congressional oversight of the NLRB as well as other Federal administrative agencies. A tourist in Idaho hired an Indian guide for a journey th-rough some uncharted country. Indian guide for a journey inrough some uncharted country.
He wanted to get in some good fishing, and he felt that this seldom traveled area was an excellent place to commence.
They way back seemed much further than the way out from camp one day. The sun was going down, and the Indian guide began to look more and more confused. And the tourist fisherman, noticing this, asked,
"Are we lost?" The Indian guide's reply was, "We not lost, We here. Trail lost," You do not have to go fishing to lost your way in this modern age. The same has probably been true of any age, We lose our way beause of two things: we either do not know where we are going or we rely on the the NLRB as well as other Federal administrative agencies.

The Subcommittee plans to review the powers of the President and his administrators to use "executive orders" and "guidelines" to accomplish "legislative" goals, it will also be looking into the powers of the President to refuse to carry out statutory programs energed out statutory programs enacted into law. Anothe phase of the study will survey the appro-priation process with a view to-ward making it an effective me-thod of legislative program re-are going or we rely on the wrong guides.

There are so many things to be learned about life and so much that can be done that we need constantly to define our goals in life. Our world is a zen. I am confident that the college, events are teaches, Subcommittee's report will influence the pattern of America government for a long time to point, and character is the because they have lost the way. There is a big difference be-tween a learned man and awise close veins and such. Clem said he reckoned that was why ole Josh Clodhopper was so healthy. Josh said he didn't know noth-ing about this alfabet study but-said he ain't never wanted nothing bad enough to stand in lin fer it except his discharge from the Army in 1919, Ed said he was glad to hear about the study on account of he'll git the last word at the sessions. Clem Aaron, he said, would be the first

Some people think small be-cause thinking big is too con-fusing for them and leads them fusing for them and leads them to pay a price greater than they are willing to pay. They do not like to struggle. But thinking big and following through demands the having of a purpose in life. It also demands that this purpose be pursued at all times with all the energy at hand. Marching to a goal and assuming a purpose in life may not free you from struggle, but it will free you from frustration. It is from frustration that modern man needs to be demodern man needs to be delivered. Seeking and gaining a genuine purpose for living opens the ddor to the future.

Look at your own life. What goals have you pursued? Have these goals been mere theoretical goals, or have you put your life where your mouth is? Have you achieved certain things already as a result of your aim in life? And are you making much effort on an everyday basis in climbing your mountain toward the pinnacle of your astoward the pinnacle of your as-pirations? The reason I put it this way is that wishing will not make it so.

No man achieves success merely by starting in the right di-rection; it is what you finish that counts. Do not be frus-trated if the achieveing of your goals is not easy. If at first you don't succeed you're in the mo-don't succeed, you're in the ma-jority. Achievement is like the old Model T Ford - moving for-ward depends on more than just cranking it up; you've go to keen it running.

keep it running.

And the motor will not run unless you have some gas in the tank. Why not attend the church or synagogue of your choice re-gularly?

ANSWER BLOCK APPEARS

AMONG ADVERTISEMENTS

Duplin Times-

Progress

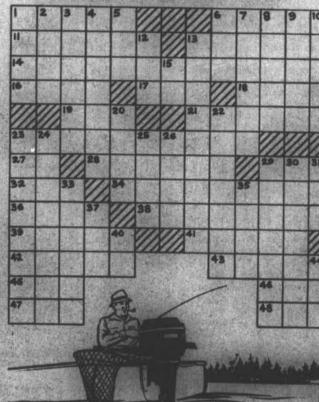

Sentinel

Published Weekly by

Progress Sentinel, Inc.

Kenansville, N. C. 28349

Sportsword Puzzle Jack Lumatte

15. Big little 20.

2. Golf club

Second Class Postage 22. Bo Kenansville, N. C. 23. One way to

SUBSCRIPTION PRICES in Duplin and Adjoining

Paid at 6 Mos. — $1.51 1 Yr. — $8.61 Outside Of Duplin and Adjoints Counties

"Hope For Hearts" Campaign

The Duplin County Heart Association will begin its local campaign on February 1, under the leadership of the following officers: President: Mrs. Edward L. Chinquapin. surer: Mrs. Boyd Wal-ical Representative: Dr. tr L. Quinn, Magnolia. licity: Dr. Edward L.

Heart Fund Co-Chairman:
Mrs. Hattle Dobbins, Teachey.
As Treasurer, Mrs. Boyd Walker will be responsible for banking and maintaining accounts of funds raised during the 1987 Heart Fund campaign, in addition she will handle memorial effects to the legal Maraddition she will handle me-morial gifts to the local Heart Association, and these gifts are acceptable throughout the year. Mrs. Boyd Walker lives in the Bear Marsh Community and is employed as Note Teller at chey, is a 4-H Leader, is active in Home Demonstration Club as Chairman of Crafts and County Song Leader.

As Publicity Chairman, Dr. Edward L. Boyette, will be responsible to inform the public about all the activities of the Duplin County Heart Associated Heart Month is the shortest month of the year, and all our Heart Fund Leaders of Duplin

County are getting set for a big job in February - to reach every home and farm in Duplin Count in our 1968 "Hope for Hearts"

ACROSS 28. Dines at 6. Top of a 1. Why you catch a lot or a little?

11. Muse of 39. Fish basket

The Economic opportunity Program dealing with the war pointed out the usual procedure when a federal program per-sents problems to answer is to throw in more money. "This program differs. When the pro-blems increase, more initiative on the part of those to be helpon p o v e r t y faces some structural changes resulting from Congressional action. The changes were not as sur-prising as the fact that the program was apporved, and by the widest margin in its brief history. During early fall few would have wagered more than a plugged nickle on its ed must be forth coming." Di-rector Cording supported his theory by the observation that many middle aged citizens re-member when first class letpossible survival yet change of opinion is one of the wonders ters were mailed for two cents. in the political arena. January 1 the same letter will When Congress began passing cost six cents to mail. "When the Postal Department, as one out pay raises OEO employees were singled out as nonbene-ficiaries. Continuing appro-priations were also terminated and closing of many Community Action Agencies became imminent. Local and business interest began to underwrite the programs, OEO employees pledged to continue their work without pay and a wave of sympath for the program began to reach C on gress. The National Association of Mayors, County Officials, business people and millions of underpriviledged in no un-certain terms made their wants and wishes known. Then Congress voted in favor of the

The North Carolina delegation unaninously opposed to the program in last year's vote, broke ranks and two of the state's Congressmen voted for the program. The vote of Congressman Galifanakis, a liberal, was not surprising. The vote of Congressman Jonas, generally regarded as "Mr. Conservative" was a surprise, although pictures of Mr. Jonas visiting Community Action centers in his district had been program not for one but for more frequent of late.

M.G. Cording, Executive Director of the agency covering the counties of Duplin, Pender, and Sampson, and one of the most experienced and seasoned directors in the state, when interviewed discussed the interviewed discussed the political change. He observed that a sharp increase in speaking engagements to discuss the various facets of the program was being tendered by civic organizations. "I suspect," he stated" some of this is due to the vote of Congressman Jonas, and the emerging fact that this is not a handout nor a give away program." "We have repeated over and over again that our program is a self-help program and not one penny is given away." Half asserting, half questioning, Cording suggested no program was perfect and wondered who so many in asthority were demanding complete perfection in a program "in which we

Wells!!! By: Ruth Wells

The flue continues to make its rounds! Ruby Campbell, who was recuperating from surgery has had the "bug", and also our Magnolia Correspondent, Mrs. Turner, Surely wish for all of you, a speedy recovery Mr. and Mrs. Abner Phil-lips of Warsaw celebrate Gold-Duplin named "County of the year in North Carolina Rural Progress Campaign.

Mr. J. J. Armstrong, Manager of Warsaw A & P invites inspection of new store located in Clark Shopping center.
Free Will Baptist hold disputed to the convertion of the convention of the conve And Ruby, may I say, you do have competition with your pound cake! This morning my friend Mrs. Eva Hughes sent me a big piece of cocoanut pound cake. Believing that my co-workers were as unfamiliar with cocoanut pound. trict convention at Mr. Olive with cocoanut pound cake as I, through much effort I persuaded myself to let each one "taste" the delicious morsel. Before I passed it around, I made sure that it would break in thy Burrell Kennedy, Warsaw man is crushed to death in > Our friend Mrs. Warren Max-well sent us the following prayer. Lee, this is the most timeer, Lee, this is the most timely gem I've ever seen, As you > probably did not know, Ruth > (Mrs. Grady) left early Sunday > morning for Cape Kennedy. Other than my regular, and I thought > full time job of news gathering, > I have been selling advertising, > and sitting in the editors chair > in off moments. So I am sure.

SLOW ME DOWN, LORDI Ease

Financially the current fiscal of the program and its responsibility comes more under the domain of elected public of-ficials. One-third of the board this new economy is being felt by local business interest.

Prior to July 1, the operation must come from elected public officials, one third from the meaningful business and pro-fessional interests and one-today, I, for one, emphatically do not believe that. The deficiencies of our governmen-tal structure result, not from adherence to the notions of federalism and separation of pow-

Hidden Mid all sorrow The smile unmasking Neath the sleet and icy rows By the wayside White and glistening Lies the blunders Knowing knows.

Mid the strength
Of childhood laughter
Tears that are shed along All the thoughts of our hereafter

Berniece Wood Batts