over the meeting. He extended
a welcome to the group, Rev.
Leon Russell, District Superintendent, led in scripture and prayer. The North Carolina eyan College Choir from Rocky Mt. presented a program of vocal music.

Sam Stallings brought an inspiring message about the 71 new churches which have been added to the North Carolina Conference in the period from 1954 through 1968, Membership in these 71 new churches totals 20,442 of which 6,218 were on profession of faith. These new churches came about by sup-port from North Carolinians who are in the $10 Club.

What is the $10 Club? Any interested person agrees on his own free will to donate at least $10 not over three times in any year to help new churches get started. This is indeed an inspirational idea. An offering was taken for ministerial scholarships within the district.

Robert Rose, Lay Leader of N. C. Annual Conference of ethodist Churches introdu the speaker of the evening, Mr. Chirles L. McCulles, Conference Director of Methodist Men, His topic was "Christian Friendship". He said that Charles and the Christian followers that Charles are the said that Charles are the s ristian fellowship must come before Christian friendship, He emphasized that Christ was loved by the people, and he went about doing good. Our challenge is to have good fellowship leading to good friendship which will lead us to doing good in our delly lives. good in our daily lives.

The Camp Don - Lee Emergency Crusade was discussed with requests for financial as-sistance for them from the local churches. The laymen were consecrated as certified as lay speakers by Bishop Paul N. Garber. The duties of a lay speaker are to conduct services of worship, to hold meetings for prayer and exhortation wherever opportunity is afford-ed, subject to the consent and direction of the pastor-incharge; to attend all sessions of the District and Quarterly Con-

the District and Quarterly Con-ferences, and to present a writ-ten report when requested.
