awards and after graduating went to Virginia Beach, Virginia where he worked for several years with his uncle in commercial swine production. Still vitally interested in horticulture which also began with projects and work in the FFA in high school, he finally decided to pursue, yet another vocation, he studied landscaping, horticulture, flower arranging at N. C. State College and special courses at the University of Florida; afterwards going to work with the New River Nursery in Jacksonville. He staged several Spring Flower Shows in Raleigh and later in Charlotte where the show was moved. It was in 1965 that a hometown girl, Mary Jones, married this young man and Warsaw was lucky to share in his many talents as he attempted another vocation - barbecuing and slinging swine on a platter, while satisfying his green thumb on his garden and small nursery adjacent to their restaurant. He learned he could cook as well as grow things. At one point in his life, his family thought perhaps he would become a mechanic as by the time he reached 16 (old enough to get his driver's license), he had assembled an old Model T Ford, all by himself in his backyard, painted it red and yellow and named it Nature Boy - which the family has affectionately teased him over. Friends and associates have tagged him "determined" since coming to Warsaw as his devotion to doing a job well has been most outstanding. Perhaps this determination was inspired by his mother who always told her children that it didn't matter what job they did - but how well they did it. She said if they had to dig ditches - to dig the best ditch that man had ever dug. Bill says if its worth doing at all - its worth doing well. He means this and lives up to it, and he expects others to do likewise. Since becoming Scoutmaster of Troop 20, the number has grown until it is bursting at the seams with 49 boys, seven are now working on their Eagles, 12 on Star and 2 on Life. This is indeed a record. The progress of Troop 20 has inspired others until all the scouting goals have been reached. He inspires his boys to compete to win and work for the very best in everything they attempt. He is an example both physically and spiritually as everything is done reverently with gratitude toward God. As a member of the Mormon Church of Mt. Olive he has held many offices in his church both at Mt. Olive and Jacksonville. Offices include Elder, Secretary, and Sunday School Teacher, Etc.

Led by his able, willing hands, devoted to helping young boys become responsible men, Troop 20 grew both in mind and body, responding to their civic duty by participating actively in many projects about town; responding to their national duty by participating in many duties with the U. S. Flag (more flags fly in Warsaw due to their efforts); responding to their individual responsibilities by preparing themselves in advancing more rapidly in the scouting program; and responding to their Scoutmaster's never ending push - to do a job well - "Do it yourself" - He is often heard to say.

The Troop has earned many outstanding awards which their proud scoutmaster is first to say that it is their efforts which have done this. They earned several blue ribbons at a camporee in Goldsboro and during the last district physical fitness camporee held on the banks of the Neuse with each patrol winning a blue ribbon. They took the grand prize - Camporee Blue Ribbon. They lost only once - in a tug-o-war. They have also won first place in the Veterans Day Parade - twice!

Since coming to Warsaw, and becoming Scoutmaster of Troop 20, Bill Faust has had a big part in promoting Scouting. Although he might not have planned this, the progress of the boys in Troop 20, under their able leader, their enthusiasm working about town, and the outstanding accomplishments of the groups and individuals have made others stand up and take notice...

Beulaville

Presbyterians Observe 50th Anniversary

The members of the Beulaville Presbyterian Church observed the 50th anniversary of their church on Sunday, March 24. The church was organized on March 19, 1918 with 52 charter members, two elders and two deacons. The Rev. J. P. Stork, who had served as the first pastor was in attendance and took part in the morning worship service. The Rev. Walter H. Goodman, the first full-time minister, was the guest speaker at the morning worship service, and the Rev. Jim Tubbs, executive secretary of Wilmington Presbytery, gave the benediction. A picnic luncheon followed in the Fellowship Hall and at 2 o'clock members and friends reconvened for the special observance service. The Wallace Presbyterian Church choir sang "Breathe On Me; Breath of God" and "Be Still and Know."

Mrs. Tommie Phillips accompanied by Mr. Edgar Wells sang "Others." Mr. Carl Pate, Clerk of the Session, recognized the charter members and former officers, and Mrs. Andrew Jackson, historian, read a brief history of the church. The Rev. J. G. Morrison, a former pastor of the church, led the congregation in prayer. The pastor, the Rev. Frank Sawyer, told the group what the members hope and plan for the future of this church. If was a day that the members will long remember as they look back to the friends, former pastors, and former officers who gathered together for fellowship and a look at "The past, the present, the future." with them were three of the former ministers, the Rev. J. P. Stork of Albermarle, the Rev. J. G. Morrison of Wallace, the Rev. Walter H. Goodman of Greensboro, two of the former deacons, Aubrey Johnson of
