Rotation Agreement In Tenth Senatorial District

The rotation agreement between Democratic Party Leaders of the four counties of the Tenth Senatorial District is no longer in existence.

This fact was brought out this week when it was learned that there is some misunderstanding in the district concerning the once active rotation agreement. (Reapportionment did away with the agreement that did exist.)

The Tenth District is composed of New Hanover, Pender, Duplin and Sampson Counties. The original rotation agreement was between New Hanover and Sampson Counties.... Pender and Duplin Counties. This is according to records in Raleigh.

Now there is no rotation agreement at all, and the field is wide open.

The line-up for the coming primary shows three candidates for the Democratic nomination for the two 10th District seats.

Incumbent John Burney of New Hanover County faces no opposition for the Democratic nomination for seat No. 1, but there are two in the race for the Democratic nomination for seat No. 2...Incumbent LeRoy Simmons of Duplin County and former Senator Stewart B. Warren of Sampson County. Simmons was first elected to the Senate in 1963. He did not run in 1965, honoring the rotation agreement with Pender when Burgaw's Roy Rowe ran. Simmons was again elected in 1967.

Burney will be challenged by Col. John Jones, New Hanover Republican, in the November election, while the winner of the Simmons-Warren race will face Republican Deems H. Clifton, Sampson County Insurance MAN.

pel Hill; the Fall Forum; the World Affairs Conference; and the Special Research Study Project on Volunteers which culminated in the recently published book, Volunteers in Community Service, authored by Dr. Gulon Johnson of Chapel Hill, first president of the Council.

  - 2 tbsps. A.I. Sauce
  - 1 tbsp. lemon juice
  - 1/4 lb. butter or margarine

CLASSIC CASSEROLE AMERICANA

Make your favorite casseroles even better by pouring in a little dark corn syrup. It blends the flavors of macaroni, meat, baked and barbecued bean dishes; when tomatoes are included the results are sensational. Pick up the flavor of a sausage or frank and rice or noodle casserole. Have you made corn pudding recently? Seasoned and flavor-blended with dark corn syrup it's good.

"Lovelorn" Reader Buys Twin Beds

Is it time to check with your "advice" newspaper columnist when your husband announces he wants twin beds? It's doubtful; it just may be that he is one of those people who cannot sleep soundly or comfortably when he has to share his sleeping space... even if that space is a roomy king-size bed. If this is your husband's problem, turn to the wisdom of your local bedding dealer. And with all the wit and charm of an Abby Van Buren he will tell you how "toe-room" twin beds offer all the physical comfort and roominess afforded by the people-sized double beds as well as an added psychological comfort.

Your bedding dealer can assure you that if your better half has requested twin beds there is no need to worry that the bloom is off the rose. As a matter of fact, your new twin beds might be the magic chemical to keep that rose blooming for years to come. Any wife knows her husband loves her when he rolls over in their king-size bed to give her the goodnight kiss... but she knows he loves her more when he has gotten out of his warm bed, springing across a cold floor to plant that kiss on her forehead.

In a society which has relegated twin beds to the very young or the very old it would seem that with marriage and twin beds, never the twain shall meet. And so it is that many people spend approximately 1/2 of their total sleep-time—40 years of their life—sleeping unhappily in double beds. The new standard queen-size and king-size beds offer them all the room they need, but not the added security of knowing that you have the bed and covers all to yourself. If you and your hubby want this comfort, rebel against
