Dr. Quizmee, our information specialist, is happy to answer his readers' questions in his weekly column. All responses are verified by Funk & Wagnalls Standard Reference Encyclopedia.

Dennis L. has been reading about the Arctic and wants to know: "How can an igloo made from snow keep someone warm?"

One of the best insulating materials against cold air is air itself!

The blocks of snow used in igloos have lots of air trapped in them, which effectively, insulates these snowy homes against the minus 50 or 60 degrees reached in the Arctic!

"What is meant by the expression 'Trojan horse'?" Brenda R. asks.

Ancient stories say the Trojan horse was built by the Greeks 3,000 years ago to deceive their Trojan enemies. After 10 years of war, the Greeks built a huge wooden horse and offered it as a gift to the city of Troy. It was accepted, and dragged into the city. That night, Greek soldiers came out of the hollow horse and conquered Troy. Today "Trojan horse" means something deceitful.

"What causes breakers at the beach?" writes Peter D.

Wind and storms blowing over the ocean cause waves to form. These waves move forward uninterrupted for thousands of miles. When something like a sand bar blocks the way, it curls over and "breaks" - as at the beach.
