Saving Can Be Fun - - Free Book Proves It

There was a time, not so very long ago, when comic books were frowned upon by thinking parents.

Not so, today. The colorful booklets are used nowadays by governmental branches and major industries to educate, enlighten, and -- at the same time -- entertain. Of course they're available on the newsstands, too, by the millions -- and many educators applaud them because they inspire youngsters to do more reading.

The Comic Book industry has served as its own policing agent, creating a system of review in order for a book to merit the coveted Seal of Comics Code Authority.

There's a bright new comic

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Outlaw went to Richlands Sunday afternoon to see the horse show.

book available now, at no cost, which brings a vital message to the youth of America. It's called Saving Can Be Fun. It teaches a very real lesson of thrift to children, and it's available free for the asking at Home Federal Savings and Loan Association, 108 S. Pine Street, Warsaw, N. C.

In four colors and 20 pages in length, "Saving Can Be Fun" has been evaluated and commended by Parents Magazine. Any child old enough to read will benefit from the book, learning -- from a true-to-life illustrated story -- the values of thrift.

On this Mother's Day -- and every day -- show Mom that your heart is in the right place, says the North Carolina Heart Association. Help her to protect her heart by giving her a helping hand around the house.

VOTE FOR CARL V. VENTERS FOR DISTRICT JUDGE

On May 4th the voters of the Fourth District, comprised of Duplin, Jones, Onslow and Sampson Counties, will select four (4) Judges (out of seven (7) candidates) for the important and responsible positions of District Judges. The terms of offices will be four (4) years. For our judicial system to work properly it is imperative that capable men of honesty, integrity and experience be selected. I promise equal justice for all. I offer my qualifications for comparison against those of the other candidates.
