has been an important factor. Heavy rains and temperature readings in the 90s have led to some cases of heat exhaustion. Yet, "sick call" has been light. Alley observed, "Maybe they think the whole thing is so unpleasant they can put up with anything for two weeks. There hasn't been much 'goldbricking' in the past three or four years." "Men are prone to get in a little trouble and not do anything for several days," Quinn added. However, this is not always the case.

Alley recalled, "Several years ago when I was assigned to a basic training company, we had everything from 'tit to tat.' I saw one boy 27 times in two weeks."

The mental strain caused by the sudden shift from civilian to soldier can be as serious a problem as a physical ailment. "If you are tired," Quinn said, "emotional problems get bigger."

The small dose of tranquilizers prescribed by a civilian physician may not be sufficient when a man has to carry the load of his "problems back home" with his responsibilities here.

Both physicians said time lost from their practices is costly. "My office overhead for the two weeks I am gone is more than I make in the Guard during the whole year. When I'm not there, the business stops. It's not like a grocery store," said Quinn, who practices in the rural town of Magnolia.

Alley, a Guardsman for seven years, expressed the feelings of many reservists when he said: "Every time there is

Methodist Minister Magnolia Charge

Rev. and Mrs. Raymond W. Hall, Sr. and two daughters, Penne and Karen, have arrived in Magnolia where Mr. Hall was assigned by the Methodist Conference.

Rev. Hall will serve the Magnolia Charge of the Wilmington District of the Methodist Conference. This charge has three churches Magnolia, Charity and Providence.

a reserve call-up, I sweat it out."

Both indicated there are major drawbacks to being a guardsman, but each added, "I wouldn't give it up."

The Halls come to the Magnolia Charge from Hallsboro. He is a native of Melrose, Mass. and a veteran of World War II.

Mrs. Hall is a native of Shalotte, North Carolina and they have four children: L/CPL Dana Roy Hall, stationed at Phu Bai, Vietnam; Pvt. Raymond W. Hall, Jr., Camp Le Jeune, N. C.; Penne, 15, a sophomore at James Kenan High School, and Karen, a 5th grader at Magnolia Elementary School.

The Halls were very happy over the warm reception given them upon their arrival in Magnolia, and are already becoming a part of the community.

Page Home Appliance and Hardware of Warsaw has recently joined American Hardware Supply Company, with a dealer membership of over 1,000 stores. This simply means that instead of buying on a single store basis, "Old J.C.," now participates in a 1,000 store buying power.

American Hardware is the oldest dealer-owned hardware company in the United States, and from Maine to Florida is the predominant hardware supplier.

With Page's new connection, they offer a catalogue service of over 24,000 items, from

Ward Heads

Officers were elected for 1969 prior to the closing session on Tuesday June 25th.

The program will be centered around "Education and Society", with emphasis on classroom organization, curriculum, counseling, teaching techniques, and current events.

New Industry

Continued From Front Page motor agitators including four lagoons covering nearly 20 acres. The plant will operate three shifts and initially will employ approximately 15 persons.

P. B. Rafford, Executive Director of the Duplin Development Commission, who has worked closely with the plant owners, cited this firm as a prime example of how existing plants serve in securing new enterprises. He said that this plant, other than processing the finished product for market, would process everything but the "cackling and crowing of the chickens and the gobbling of the turkeys" into meal for use in poultry feeds.

Spokesmen for the new firm expressed appreciation to officials of the Duplin Development Commission, the State Highway Department, the Rose Hill Chamber of Commerce and other local and state agencies for help rendered in making this plant possible.

Under the management of Mr. Merritt Watson, President, Rose Hill Poultry Corporation produces under the name of "Rose Hill Brand Poultry" and markets government inspected Grade "A" chickens on the east coast primarily in Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and throughout North Carolina. Under the management of Mr. Leonard Fraum, vice president and general manager, Rufford Turkey Farms produces under the name of "House of Rafford" government inspected Grade "A" products in the form of frozen whole turkeys and processed rolls and roasts which are marketed on the entire east coast of the U.S., as well as a substantial amount being exported.

Ramsey

Continued From Front Page actors will be elected at the fall annual meeting for a one year term, seven will be elected for a two year term, and seven will be elected for a three year term.

Among the temporary directors are: Turkeyman, Marvin Johnson of Rose Hill and Bill Prestage of Warsaw; Feed Manufacturers, Dennis Ramsey, Rose Hill.

Articles of Incorporation have been filed with Secretary of State Thad Eure.

James F. Strickland Voted Rotarian of the Year

The Warsaw Rotary Club met at the Country Squire June 20, 1968, President Richard Cavanaugh presided. James F. Strickland was voted Rotarian of the year for the outstanding job he has done in the club and community during the year. Nathan Costin was the Guest Speaker, and did an excellent job giving a detailed account of Troop "20's" participation in the Scouts 100-mile-march to Bath, sponsored by Tuscarora Council. He was happy to report that out of 40 boys marching they had 100% completing the march.

Ladies Night will be June 27th at 8:00 o'clock at which time new officers will be installed. Al Smith will be the incoming president.

Remember too that few family men are the athletes they were while on the high school or college varsity, the North Carolina Heart Association cautions. Participate in sports if you're physically fit and up to the particular stresses involved. But don't try to impress your family or friends with your strength or endurance. They'll love you anyway, and probably longer. No need to climb the highest mountain, especially if the stairs in your split-level house are the only thing you're climbing.
