

VETS Q.

Q--I receive a monthly compensation check from the Veterans Administration. I have recently had a change of address. Should I report the change to the VA or the Treasury Department? A--Your change of address should always be reported to the VA Regional Office where your records are located. Q--I am interested in the new Modified Life plan of government insurance I have been reading about. I now hold $10,000 of government insurance. Where can I get more specific information about the Modified Life plan? A--Write to the Veterans Administration Regional Office where your records are held or to the VA insurance office (Philadelphia or St. Paul) where your premiums are paid. Ask for a copy of VA Pamphlet 29-22 which discusses the benefits of this plan. Q--I read recently that the Post-Korean G. I. Bill is two years old. I got out of service in 1965 after four years in the Army. Am I eligible for education and training benefits under this bill? If so, how long do I have before my entitlement expires? A--First, and most important, you are eligible for education and training benefits under the Post-Korean G. I. Bill. This third generation G. I. bill was enacted for veterans who served for at least 180 days consecutively in the Armed Forces, some of which was after Jan 31, 1955. Since you were released from active duty between Jan. 31, 1955 and June 1, 1966, your eligibility for VA education and training assistance runs until May 31, 1974. Veterans discharged since June 1, 1966, when the Post-Korean G. I. Bill went into effect, have eight years after their separation from service to use their benefits.
