

MRS. GERALDINE J. WRAY

Super Dollar To Open New Store Thursday

Super Dollar Stores, Inc. will open their new store at 118 South Front Street in Warsaw Thursday morning July 18 at 9 a.m. Officiating at the ribbon cutting ceremonies will be Leor Melvin of Raleigh, president; Harold Lamm, director of stores development; Mrs. Geraldine J. Wray, Warsaw store manager; and Warsaw Mayor, J. Edward Strickland.

The Variety chain store has been in operation in Warsaw at a different location, and on a much smaller scale since August 1966. The chain now has 32 stores, and six more will be opened before the close of this year.

The new location in Warsaw allows more than twice the previous floor space, and all departments have been expanded. The drug department and shoe department have more than doubled, and many new departments have been added, among these are automotive supply and hardware.

Mrs. Wray, manager of the store in Warsaw, is a native of Rt. 4 Mount Olive and has lived in Warsaw for the past fifteen years. She graduated from Brogden High School and has attended the business department of Mount Olive College. She was previously employed by Leggett-Meyers Tobacco Corporation in Durham.

She is daughter of Mrs. Norah Jones of Rt. 4, Mount Olive, and the late Mr. Jones. She has three children; Linda, a 1968 graduate of James Kenan who will enter Western Carolina University in the fall; Robert, 16 and a tenth grader at James Kenan High School; and Debbie Kay, 9 and a fifth grader at Warsaw Junior High. The Wrays are active members of the Warsaw Presbyterian Church. Little time is left for hobbies, but Mrs. Wray loves art and dabbles in paint whenever time permits, she also loves gardening.

A portable GE television will be given away on Saturday July 27. Registration for the drawing is being held at the store. No purchase is required to register, and the winner will not need to be present at the drawing.

The Super Dollar Stores are known in the retail trade business as "low-margin merchants". We are able to discount prices with the savings being passed on to the consumer and are reported to be the fastest growing chain discount dollar store in America, stated president Melvin.

A publicly-owned North Carolina Corporation in the Carolinas with some 30 stockholders having supplied one-half million dollars of the corporations authorized capital of one million dollars, the chain has headquarters in Raleigh.

The stores carry clothing, shoes household goods, toys, health and beauty aids, all at a discount price, and all sales are made on a "satisfaction guaranteed" basis.

special sheet gives priority to samples from problem areas so that the samples can be processed and analyzed as rapidly as possible in the event that corrective measures can be applied to the growing crop.

Watch your crops carefully for signs of nutrient deficiencies, and if observed, take prompt action to diagnose and treat the problem. It should be remembered, however, that the best way to prevent problem areas is to have your soil tested in advance of planting time and use the results of the tests as a guide to a sound lime and fertility program.

Summer Management

3. Control flies during the next three months.

4. The breeding season should be over and all bulls removed from the cow herds.

5. Check all calves to see that they are properly dehorned and castrated.

6. All cattle should have free choice to loose salt, a mineral mixture, and a clean supply of water.

7. Cull cows should be sold in July or August.

8. If your present calf crop was poor this year, it would be a good practice to pregnancy check the entire cow herd and market any cows that are not bred.

9. Plans for renovation of some permanent pasture may be in order to improve the quality of the grazing for next year.

If we at the County Agricultural Extension Office can be of any assistance to your more efficient beef production, please let us know.

Good Packaging For Frozen Foods

MRS. JUDY H. WALLACE
ASSISTANT HOME ECONOMICS
EXTENSION AGENT

You and I have heard all our lives: "You can't judge a book by its cover." This is true. This is not true about frozen food. You can judge it by its "cover."

If frozen food does not have a good "cover" (packaging material or container) you will not have good food. Good packaging acts as one "scotch" to help hold the frozen food at the top of its goodness.

Without good packaging, frozen food goes down in goodness. The longer it stays in the freezer or locker, the lower it goes.

What is good packaging? Good packaging keeps the air out; keeps the moisture in.

To learn the hard way, take two fresh pork chops. Wrap one in butcher paper. Wrap the other in heavy aluminum foil (or other good material). (Place the chop in the center. Bring the sides evenly together at the top. Make a druggist fold snug against the meat. Fold the ends. Then fold ends under the package. Fold the pointed ends under and tape.) Keep them frozen for a couple of months or so. Unwrap and look. Cook and taste. The longer you keep them, the more difference you can tell in looks and flavor.

Try freezing peas (scalded and chilled) in a milk carton. Try others in a tin can with aluminum top (or other good container).

These tests will show you the difference between good food after it is frozen and stored in a good package and good food after it is frozen or stored in a poor package.

Watchtower Convention Hears Roy L. Dowell

"All honest persons who have lost faith in man's rule have solid reasons now to rejoice that man's rule is about to give way to God's rule," stated Roy L. Dowell, special Watchtower representative and featured speaker, during the public lecture held Sunday, July 14th at the Memorial Coliseum in Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Speaking to an overflow crowd of 12,385 gathered at the four-day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses on the subject, "Man's Rule About to Give Way to God's Rule," Mr. Dowell pointed to the inability of man to rule himself, the misrule of the oppressive governments of Babylon, Egypt, Assyria, Persia and others in times past, of the so-called "Theocracies" of religious priests and clergymen of the pollution of the planet earth to the crisis stage, the destruction of the "balance of nature," and of the death-dealing weapons in the hand of man at the present time, and said: "Viewed from the standpoint of the world situation today, it is becoming undeniably plain that man is unable to rule himself. He is unable to survive by his own human efforts and without the help, guidance and blessing of the God who created man and all the laws that govern man's environment. From sheer necessity of man's present extremity, the time has come when God simply has to take over the rule of this earth for the saving of the human race."

ASCS

TO ALL INTERESTED IN AGRICULTURE

Farmers participating in the 1968 cotton and feed grain programs will begin getting final payments soon after July 22. Price support payments will also be made to wheat program participants at the same time. Cotton and feed grain sight drafts will cover both diversion and price support payments. We realize that farmers need money to defray expenses of this year's crops so all payments will be made as soon as possible. There is no need for farmers to call or visit the county office to inquire about these payments. All drafts will be mailed.

TOBACCO MARKETING CARDS

Tobacco marketing cards are now being prepared in the county office. Cards will be mailed to farm operators prior to the opening of local markets. Cards may be picked up at the county office for early sales. Persons other than the farm operator must have written authorization from the operator of the farm before tobacco cards will be issued to them.

REMINDERS

Loans on grain bins and drying equipment are available through your local ASCS office.

Farmers participating in the 1968 Wheat Program may offer their wheat for purchase by the county committee at the rate of $1.36 per bushel.

Our new telephone number is 296-4081.

Mrs. Carr To Attend Institute

Mrs. James W. Carr, a Social Studies teacher in the James Kenan High School will enroll next week at Wilmington College for a four-week course on "Constitutional Democracy and Totalitarianism". Mrs. Carr will attend the Institute on a scholarship granted by the North Carolina Education Council of National Purposes.

The Council is a state-wide, non-profit organization which exists on contributions from the private sector of our economy. Its purpose is to engender a greater appreciation on the part of our youth for the politics and economics of the American System of free enterprise as contrasted with totalitarian forms of government. The subject of comparative government is not being taught currently as a part of the standard public school curriculum.

In qualifying for a scholarship grant, it was necessary for Mrs. Carr to be under contract to teach in a North Carolina school during the coming school year and agree to pass on to students in her several Social Studies classes the information gained at the Wilmington College Institute.

When notifying Mrs. Carr that she had been accepted for a scholarship grant, C. Alden Baker, Executive Director of the Council in Raleigh, wrote: "The one best hope for preserving our free enterprise system is an informed youth. If our young people understand the advantages offered by our own system, they will be less likely to fall prey to the peddlers of foreign ideologies."

What would you do if your wife asked you to clean the oven?

Go out and buy her a new flameless electric range with a self-cleaning oven. Then all you'd have to do is latch the door and flip the switch. By the time you finished nine holes, the oven would be clean, except for a smidgen of ash that wipes away in seconds. Simple? You bet. Let an electric appliance dealer show you the latest models. Your wife deserves it. So do you!
