Soil Analysis Map Presented To Raiford's Office

A general soil map of Duplin County showing seven soil associations, their location and extent in the County, has been presented to Mr. Preston Raiford, Director of the Duplin County Development Commission.

The map was presented to Mr. Raiford by Mr. Kenneth Futrell County Soil Conservationist and was prepared by the Soil Conservation Department under the direction of Mr. Leslie Barnhill of Goldsboro.

The seven soil associations, which derived their names from where the first type of that particular soil was identified, are designated on the map by number and color, showing at a glance the different types of soil and their uses.

The map may be seen at Mr. Raiford's office and similar maps are on display at Mr. Futrell's office at the Soil Conservation Service.

The upper right hand corner of the map shows explanation of each number-color of soil in the county and their suitability for use.

No. 1 Goldsboro-Norfolk Association, nearly level to sloping moderately well to well drained solid with loamy sand surface layers and yellowish brown, friable sandy clay loam subsoils, which composes 20% of the county. About two thirds of the soil in this association is cultivated and some is pastured. Crops grown are corn, tobacco, soybeans, small grain and truck. Seasonally high water table is a moderate limitation for use of Goldsboro soils for septic tank filter fields. Norfolk soils have only slight to no limitation for urban uses. Goldsboro soils make up about 30% of this association. Norfolk 30 percent, with the remainder consisting of Orangeburg, Craven, Wagram, Duplin, Wragston, Troup and Bibb.

No. 2. Kenansville-Wagram Association, nearly level to sloping well drained soil with thick sandy surface layers and yellowish brown, friable, sandy loam to sandy clay loam subsoil covers 25% of the county. About two thirds of this association is cultivated in corn, tobacco, soybeans, small grain and truck crop. ### Ambulances Approved Now Serving Duplin County Complying with recently enacted laws of North Carolina, Duplin County has purchased, or leased, and equipped ambulances to comply with specification of the North Carolina State Board of Health.

Three Ambulances are leased by Duplin County for use by: Magnolia, operated by the Magnolia Rescue Squad; Rose Hill operated by the Rose Hill Rescue Squad; The third ambulance is stationed at Duplin

General for out-of-the county trips.

The Duplin County Board of Commissioners operating under a franchise effective July 1, 1968, have had the vehicles transformed into a unit of hospital type efficiency, or a mobile emergency room.

Many long hours of work have gone into the tedious tasks of cabinet making by the county maintenance engineer, Willard Quinn who worked under the supervision of County Sanitarian, Joe Costin. Space has been provided for the 31 life saving devices that are standard equipment on each unit. The first item of renovation probably was the installation of a second floor which was installed several inches above the metal hull which allows storage space for collapsible equipment a stretcher and chair. ### 14 LPN's To Graduate

To be a Licensed Practical Nurse is a proud accomplishment for any young woman. As graduation time again approaches at James Sprunt Institute, the 14 practical nurses are completing a full year of academic studies at James Sprunt, with actual practice in patient care, record keeping, food service, medications, and specialized skills at Duplin General Hospital.

Mrs. Susan Saunders, R.N. of Rose Hill has instructed the Practical Nurse program since 1962 and again is highly successful in training a class of well qualified practical nurses to enter the nursing profession.

Practical nursing in its modern sense is really a new vacation! Today, the graduate Licensed Practical Nurse is an important member of the health team. In addition to the nursing care she is able to give the convalescing patients and those with chronic or handicapping conditions, she is equipped to assist registered nurses in providing care for the more acutely ill and injured. She works in hospitals, private and nursing homes, doctors' offices, schools and industries.

In recent years the demand for health services has been increasing and shortages of health personnel continues to be critical. James Sprunt Institute continues to provide the training in this critical area and is already accepting applicants for a new class of practical nurses to begin in September.
