Ed of the Valley Fidelity Bank Bldg. The building, one of the most attractive in the South, was dedicated three years ago. It is a landmark of downtown Knoxville.

A native of Warsaw, Joe Allen was graduated from Campbell College at Bales Creek in July 1968 with a B.S. degree in business administration with emphasis in accounting.

George Harris, a native of Henderson, became a partner in charge of the Knoxville office at the beginning of the year when the merger of Elliot D. Adams and Associates with A.M. Pullen & Co. was completed. Joe Allen was highly recommended to Mr. Adams by his Campbell Professor Albert Gaskill.

Joe Allen is a member of the National Association of Accountants. His hobbies include golfing, hunting, and painting. Joe is married to the former Becky Todd of Warsaw, and they are now living in Knoxville. Both are Baptists.

Knoxville is the location of the first Pullen office west of the Smokies. Its enormous and varied recreational facilities are particularly attractive to recreation-minded persons. T.V.A.'s "Great Lakes of the South" are literally at the city's edge. The city itself has a rich cultural life in its theatre, museum, and galleries. There is even a 90-member Knoxville Symphony. Three colleges and universities are located within the city, including the University of Tennessee which has an enrollment of 16,000 students. The annual Dogwood Arts Festival (an international event held in April) exemplifies miles of pink and white dogwood in bloom along the city's six "dogwood trails."

Joe Allen's associates include Jerre Bruce Gibson,
