

MRS. HARLAND GEORGE LANNING, JR.

Double-Ring Ceremony Unites Miss Vickie Lenoria Goodson and Harland Lanning, Jr.

In a double ring ceremony solemnized Sunday afternoon in the Memorial Baptist Church, Miss Vickie Lenoria Goodson became the bride of Harland George Lanning, Jr.

The Rev. Percy B. Upchurch officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Charles E. Goodson and the late Mr. Goodson. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Harland George Lanning, Sr., of Arlington, Va.

Miss Lanning is the granddaughter of Mrs. T. A. Jernigan and the late Robert L. Summerlin, and the late Mrs. Leonora Smith Goodson and Charles E. Goodson of Mount Olive.

The church was enhanced by spiral candelabra flanked by emerald greenery and spring-eri greenery. The choir rail was garlanded with smilax. Preceding to the altar were pyramidal candelabra with bouquets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

At the altar was a Pri Dieu decorated with greenery and satin bows where the vows were spoken and the bride and bridegroom knelt for "The Lord's Prayer" and the benediction. Pews were marked with tall pew holders tied with bridal satin and improved smilax.

A program of wedding music was presented by Page Shaw, organist and Mrs. James W. Lee, soloist. She sang "Because," "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. Robert L. Summerlin. She wore a gown featuring a fitted bodice, elbow-length bell sleeves, bouffant skirt and chapel train. Appliques of Venice lace highlighted the neckline, the sleeves and midriff of the silk organza formal length gown. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of organza petals trimmed with seed pearls and Venice lace. She carried a slender cascade bouquet of baby's breath and phalaenopsis orchids accented with sprays of English ivy tied with moss green velvet.

Miss Valerie Goodson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a formal length skimmer style dress of turquoise Sakkette dramatized by back panels. Her headpiece was of matching silk illusion and organza petals and she carried a white wicker basket overflowing with painted daisies and sweetheart roses tied with loops of narrow apple green velvet bows with long streamers.

Miss Brenda Edwards, Miss Caroline George and Miss Cherris Goodson, cousins of the bride, all of Greenville, and Miss Karen Lanning, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. Their dresses and headpieces were fashioned identically to that of the honor attendant and they carried white baskets filled with painted daisies and narrow green velvet ribbons connected by daisy chains.

Miss Grayson Castellow, was flower girl. She wore a formal gown and a veil of silk illusion identical to that of the honor attendant. She carried a white wicker basket decorated with a spray of painted daisies and rose petals tied with apple green velvet bows.

Honorary bridesmaids were Miss Ann Lautares, Miss Margaret Burnette, Mrs. Walter Hinson, Jr., all of Greenville and Mrs. Danny Cleaton of Wilson. They carried nosegays of daisies tied with pastel ribbons to match their formal gowns.

Harland G. Lanning, Sr., was his son's best man. Ushers were Melvin Hoot, Walter Hinson, Jr., Michael Wheeler, all of Greenville and Robert Wall of Monroe.

Mrs. Goodson chose for her daughter's wedding a pink dress of all-over embroidered organza with a high set-in satin belt and matching accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Lanning, the bridegroom's mother, wore a turquoise crepe sleeveless dress with a lace coat and matching accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Cornelia Jernigan, maternal grandmother of the bride, wore a blue costume and a corsage of phalaenopsis orchids. Following the ceremony, the couple received in the vestibule of the church.

For traveling, the bride chose an emerald green three-piece suit and hat with matching accessories. She wore the orchid corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Summertime - Season For Fun

RALEIGH--Don't let summertime housekeeping come between you and your family, says Mrs. Justine J. Rozier, extension home management specialist, North Carolina State University.

This is the season for fun that should include mother as well as the rest of the family. So when the family is ready for a trip to the shore or mountains, be ready to relax with them.

You can set up a leisurely housekeeping that will keep your house more than respectable and your family happy--because you'll be spending more time with them.

Short cuts are the secret to easier summer housecleaning. So get down to the essential chores and stay there, Mrs. Rozier advises.

Put away the silver that always needs polishing. Replace draperies with "wash and hand" curtains. Store the vases, bowls and knickknacks you've been dusting constantly. Substitute easy wash bedspreads for light-colored, quilted and synthetic ones.

Also, put slipcovers on furniture in the family room and living room. Turkish towels make good "throws". They're easy to wash and feel soft and cool to the touch, Mrs. Rozier says.

Of course, beds still have to be made every day, but it doesn't have to be drudgery. Make it a time for fun with your children. It's surprising the good times that come from doing simple jobs together.

For those cleaning "attacks" divide your house into areas. Devote one morning each to the living area, the sleeping area, and the bath and the halls. Friday is a good time to put the living room in shape for weekend company.

Just vacuum the floors and walls, dust the furniture and you're all set, points out Mrs. Rozier.

Even if your house isn't perfect, your family and guests won't notice. What they will notice is what a rested and relaxed hostess you are. And they'll never guess you got that way by just sticking to the essentials, Mrs. Rozier predicts.
