Miss Hines And Mr. Cheek Exchange Vows

The marriage of Miss Mary Frances Hines and Mr. Clyde Alexander Cheek, Jr. was solemnized at eight o'clock in the evening Saturday August 24, in the Warsaw Presbyterian Church. The Rev. J. Don Skinner, minister of the bride, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Earl Hines of Warsaw. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cheek, Sr. of Greensboro.

Vows were spoken before a satin-covered kneeling bench. Seven nine-branch candelabra and baskets of glads and mums graced the chancel. In the vestibule, a five-branch candelabra was used on a table. A prelude of classical wedding music was presented by Mrs. Ben C. Bowden, organist, of Warsaw. Selections were "Ave Maria" by Schubert and "Liebestraum" by Mendelssohn.

Miss Donna Sue Edwards of Warsaw sang "O Lord Most Holy" by Cesar Franck preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction. The traditional bridal chorus "Lohengrin" by Wagner was used for the processional, and the recessional was "Mendelssohn".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of candlelight deluster satin with a jewel neckline. The sheer lace yoke was heavily beaded with seed pearls and crystals. The skirt was adorned with a pyramid of Alencon lace which extended to the knee and formed a scalloped hem which was also heavily beaded. The chapel train flowed from her shoulders. Her chapel-length mantilla of tulle was edged in lace and had numerous appliques. It was attached to a Duchess cap, and the entire headdress was encrusted with seed pearls and crystals. She wore matching lace applique slippers. Her entire ensemble was designed and created by Miss Segrid Ann Ellis of Warrenton, college roommate of the bride. Her only jewelry was diamond earrings which were a gift of the bridegroom. The bride carried a nosegay of ivory roses and lillies of the valley mounted on a Bible which she had as a child.

Miss Patricia Ann Hines was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a full-length gown of tangerine worsted silk fashioned with no sleeves and a cowl neckline. The dress was elegantly simple with an A-line skirt and a wide bias yoke. Her matching headpiece was illusion veiling, flowing the length of her dress, attached to a Duchess cap. She carried an arm bouquet of bronze mums, tied with a moss green velvet ribbon with floor length streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Martha Louise Dall of Rose Hill, cousin of the bride; Miss Susan Ellen Cheek of Greensboro, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Janie Marie Strickland of Warsaw; Miss Kathryn Scott Alden of Charlotte; Miss Allie Johnson Sheffield of Warsaw; Mrs. J. Everette Phillips of Chapel Hill; and Miss Segrid Ann Ellis of Warrenton. Their dresses and veils were identical to that of the honor attendant. They carried crescents of bronze mums tied with moss green velvet ribbons and floor-length streamers.

The mother of the bride wore a floor-length gown of ice turquoise crepe overlaid with chiffon. She wore matching accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a pink formal gown of lace over satin and matching accessories. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Mr. Cheek, Sr. was his son's best man. Head usher was Gilmer Lyn Cheek, Jr. of Atlanta Ga., cousin of the bridegroom. Other ushers were John Edward Cheek, Jr. of High Point and Sidney Michael Cheek of Greensboro, both of whom are cousins of the bridegroom; James Herman Hines, Jr. of Kenansville, cousin of the bride; Thomas Joseph Frye of Fairmont, college roommate of the bridegroom; Michael Warren Clary of Raleigh; and Herbert Fletcher Johnson, Jr. of Harrisonburg, Va.

The wedding was under the direction of Mrs. Allen W. Drughan, Jr. of Warsaw.

For the wedding trip the bride wore a beige three-piece walking suit trimmed with brown and tangerine. She wore brown lizard shoes with a matching handbag. Her corsage was white roses.

Mrs. Cheek Jr., a 1966 honor graduate of James Kenan High School, has attended the University of North Carolina at Greensboro for two years. She will be a Junior there in mid-September where she majors in Home Economics, specializing in child development. Mr. Cheek, Jr. was a 1964 graduate of Grimsley High School where he received honors in base ball and basketball and received an award as "most representative teen-ager" in Greensboro. He is an August 1968 graduate of North Carolina State University where he pitched varsity baseball for 4 years.

After a wedding trip to Hilton Head Island, S.C. the couple will be at home at 3511 Parkwild Drive, Greensboro. Mr. Cheek will teach seventh grade at Stoneville Junior High School and he will be assistant coach of the high school.

RECEPTION
Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents,

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Earl Hines, and sister, Miss Ann Hines, entertained the wedding party and guests at a reception in the Church Annex. Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Hines of Kenansville introduced guests to the receiving line which was composed of the parents of the bride, parents of the groom, the bridal couple, maid of honor, and the bridesmaids.

The bridal table was centered with a beautiful ivory satin cloth edged with lace with a lace-edged net overlay. Each corner had net bows with orange blossom centers. A four-tiered wedding cake was placed in the center, flanked by three-branch candelabra. After the bride and groom cut the first slice of cake, it was served by Mrs. J. H. Hines. Punch was served from a silver punch bowl at one end by Mrs. L.D. Dall, Jr., aunt of the bride, of Rose Hill.

Petit fours were served by Mrs. S.M. Hines, Sr., aunt of the bride, of Alexandria, Va. Guests were directed to the refreshment table by Mr. & Mrs. F.W. Oakes, Jr. of Baltimore and Mr. & Mrs. R.L. Edwards of Winston-Salem.

The bride's book, on a wrought-iron, glass-topped table was presided over by Mr. and Mrs. F.W. Oakes, Sr., grandparents of the bride, from Greenville. A beautiful five-branch candelabra decorated with gladiolas and roses graced the table.

Misses Betty Jo Page, Catherine Buck, and Susan Dall assisted in serving. Goodbyes were said by Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Page and Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Buck.

Candelabra and palms adorned the Church Annex. In one corner, against greenery, a three tiered waterfall was used. White wrought-iron yard furniture was placed on the patio and in the church yard with lanterns. Organ music was furnished throughout the evening by Mrs. Douglas Townsend and Mrs. Walter P. West.

Easy Care Shirts

RALEIGH--Something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue.

That old adage is getting a new lease on life this fall as it is used to describe the latest happenings on the men's shirt scene, says Mrs. Ruby Miller, extension clothing specialist, North Carolina State University.

The something old is the classic button down collar shirt that has helped many a man make the transition from classroom to business conference table.

The something new is the bright new coloring that's being given to men's shirts. White remains the shirt staple, but oranges, bright blues, and even shades of plum are being given a different whirl.

Something borrowed finds the man trying printed scarves borrowed from the Apaches and guru shirts direct from the Indian sub-continent.

Something blue could mean a blue oxford shirt that can be livened up by the addition of a boldly patterned scarf loosely knotted at the neck. Even without a scarf, the new blue shirts are bright or deep-toned and no longer washed out looking.

One thing that hasn't changed for fall shirts, however, is the demand that the fabrics be easy-care and easy-wear.

Whether the shirt choice is from the old, new, borrowed or blue category, the fabric that keeps its shape and that launders with a minimum of bother will be the popular choice.

For easy wear, easy-care shirt can maintain its fashion image for all seasons and all occasions, Mrs. Miller observes.
