Deputy's Report

Three Falson men have been charged with larceny of a chain saw from the Falson Wood yard of Weyerhaeuser Paper Company.

Theodore Falson, 29, Jessie Aycock, 34, and Grover Aycock, 20, colored males of Falson have been charged with the theft of the saw on December 27 of last year.

The men were picked up last Wednesday by Deputy Jernigan and were given a hearing before Magistrate W.J. Sitter of Kenansville. Bond was set at $200 each for appearance in District Court.

Ramsey Announces Office

A full-time office to serve the newly formed N.C. Poultry Federation will be opened in the Capital Club Building in downtown Raleigh, according to Dennis Ramsey of Rose Hill, president.

Ramsey said the space will be the first permanent headquarters for the Federation. It will be staffed by an executive secretary, Ed Woodhouse.

The Federation was formed in June. It is composed of individuals, firms and organizations subscribing to the objectives of the poultry industry in North Carolina.

Ramsey commented:

"The Federation hopes to inform the general public of the impact of the poultry industry on the economy of North Carolina. The industry is growing and adding to the state's income each year."

Duplin Students On Deans List At NCSU

RALEIGH --- The Dean's List at N.C. State University for the fall semester contains the names of 10 Duplin County students.

Fourth Fatality Of Year

A pedestrian was killed about five miles north of Beulaville in the Cabin Community Sunday afternoon, bringing to four the traffic deaths thus far this year.

State Trooper R.G. Crocker said that Jay D. Hall, 38, white male of Rt. 1, Beulaville was killed instantly on Rural Paved Road 1700, at 6:55 p.m. February 9. His companion and neighbor, Noah D. Mercer, 48, was seriously injured when the men apparently stepped, without looking, into the path of a 1961 Oldsmobile driven by Joseph Elton Summerlin, 28, white male also of Rt. 1, Beulaville.

Mercer was taken to Duplin General Hospital in Kenansville and later transferred to North Carolina Memorial Hospital in Chapel Hill with multiple fractures and other injuries.

Summerlin was charged with driving under the influence and reportedly refused to take the breathalyzer test when it was offered.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 4 p.m. at Quinn-McGowan Funeral Chapel by the Rev. John Holton. Burial followed in the Kennedy Cemetery near the home.

Surviving are: his mother, Mrs. Carrie Hall of the home; two sisters, Mrs. Lila Kennedy and Mrs. Lucille Hall of Pink Hill; six brothers, Rayford, Alfie, Frank, Calvin and Alvin of Beulaville and Ed Hall of Pink Hill.

Chancellor John T. Caldwell announced that the 10 were among 1,849 students who earned averages of "B" or better to attain the high honor.

Two of the students also made the Dean's List both semesters last year. They are Freddy R. Horne and Cecil D. Raynor.

Horne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Horne of Rt. 1, Richlands, is a junior and is studying math education.

Raynor, a senior electrical engineering major, is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Raynor of Rt. 1, Chinguplin.

Three of the Duplin students are married, reflecting a growing number of married students at NCSU.

The Duplin students, their courses and parents' names are:

ROSE HILL---Philip W. Longest, a senior in textile technology, son of Mr. and Mrs. B.B. Longest, 107 Center; John A. Moore, a junior in electrical engineering, Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Moore, 314 W. Main.

WALLACE---Harold V. Blake, a sophomore in wildlife biology, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Blake, Rt. 1; William H. Browder Jr., a senior in politics, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Browder Sr.

Farm Bureau Insurance Companies Honor Agent

Robert Worthington of Kenansville was announced by T.R. Kirkpatrick, Sales Manager, as the state's most outstanding Agency Manager for 1968.

The award was presented to him at the Annual Sales Conference which was held in Greensboro, February 5-7. On February 5th at the Award Banquet, Mr. Worthington was escorted to the stage by his District Sales Manager, Mr. Henry Barfield. He was presented a trophy and handed a red and white corsage which he was asked to pin on his lovely wife, Alice. Mr. G.D. Culp, General Manager, in presenting the trophy said of Mr. Worthington: "This outstanding young man is really blazing a trail of solid success. During the past year, his agency produced 13 A & S policies, five family medicals, 194 Blue Cross and Blue Shield certificates, $21,063 Crop Hall premium, 230 autos, 41 FCL's, $36,287 of Fire and Allied Lines premium, and $2,158,839 of Life coverage." Mr. Worthington was also honored for his work in his community and county and for an outstanding job in service to the Farm Bureau Members.

Worthington, in accepting the award said, "I want to thank the Home Office Staff, the Agents in Duplin County, the County Office Secretaries, and my wife, Alice, for the help they contributed in helping me to earn this award."

Recognition also was won by other members of the local agency. William J. Knowles was awarded the Top Producing Agent for his district as well as an All Star for 1968 and a $700,000 Club Member. Arthur Edwards was recognized as a $300,000 Club Member.

Robert Worthington won further recognition as 5th in Fire and Allied Lines, One Million Dollar Club, All Star for 1963, National Quality Award, and National Sales Achievement Award.

JSI Introduces N.C. State Community College Flag

With a reputation for pioneering in many fields, it is fitting and appropriate that James Sprunt Institute of Kenansville is flying the first Community College Flag.

James Sprunt, President Dixon Hall said that the flag was designed by Dr. Dallas Herring, a native of Rose Hill who is also chairman of the North Carolina State Board of Education.

The Community College seal is a circle with three beams, representing the purpose of North Carolina's state-wide system of Community Colleges and Technical Institutes. These beams signify liberal arts education, technical education and vocational education.

Inscribed with Latin phrases--Lux Lucet, which means "Let There Be Light"; and Palmam Qui Meruit, which means, "Bear The Palm Who Merits It". The emblem was spray-painted on material donated by Burlington Industries to make the first flag signifying the community college seal.

Mrs. Graham Hanchey was named club leader of the year. Records of two former club leaders of the year will be submitted for district competition. They are Mrs. David Williams, Rockfish Club and Mrs. Jerry Smith, Smiths Club.

South Kenansville Club was recognized for having the largest number of their members present for the Achievement day program. Ninety-three club women, representing 22 clubs, and several visitors attended.

Local interest really boomed at the second meeting of the Mill Swamp Ruritan Club Monday night. Sixty-two were present including six visitors. The meeting was a great success as interest and local concern for community development was on the upward trend. The number one objective for the present is for the club to acquire a track of land and build a community center. The community has long needed a community development program and recreation center for the young people. Now that the interest has been created we hope to become one of the outstanding communities of the eastern part of the state.

All that attended the meeting and took part in getting the temporary club house in very good condition are to be commended.

Mr. Johnson III

The many friends of former Superintendent of Schools, O.P. Johnson, will regret to learn that he is a patient at Watts Hospital in Durham where surgery is scheduled for Thursday.

After supper the guest were introduced. Deck Williams, Zone Governor, Wilbur Williams and Early Sanderson, The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll which was followed by the treasurer's report. Following the business the guest speaker was introduced--Mr. Early Sanderson. His speech consisted mostly of a forty minute film in which he explained well. The film was taken on a recent trip to Tokyo, Hong Kong and the Hawaiian Islands.

Beulaville Scout Receives God And Country Award

In a ceremony during the morning worship service at the Beulaville Presbyterian church on Sunday, February 9, Carl Daniel Pate Jr., better known as "Danny" was awarded the God and Country Award by the Boy Scouts of America. Danny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Daniel Pate of Beulaville. Danny is twelve years old, holds the rank of first class and senior patrol leader. He is a member of troop 47 sponsored by the Lions Club and led by scout masters Rod Dew, Rayburne Cottle, and Milton Jones.

Prior to the service the American flag was borne in by scout Danny Pate, followed by the other members of the Boy Scouts troop 47, Explorers post 240, Cub Scouts pack 47 and their leaders of Beulaville.

The presentation service was opened with the salute to the American flag. Scout master Rod Dew gave the requirements for receiving the God and Country Award and commended Danny upon attainment of it. Scout Master Rayburne Cottle, presented the candidate, and scout master Rod Dew presented the candidate parents. The Reverend G. Frank Sawyer presented the award to Danny and read a letter of congratulations from Reverend James B. Tubbs, executive secretary of the Wilmington Presbytery. Danny then presented his parents with miniature awards.

Reverend G. Frank Sawyer's message of the morning "The Young and Foolish," challenged and encouraged the youth and the adults in the congregation.

The God and Country Award is not a merit badge in scouting but is a recognition of spiritual achievement given by the boy's own church. A Boy Scout who fulfills the standards outlined in the program receives his award at a service in his church from the hand of his pastor. Under the guidance of Mr. Sawyer, Danny successfully completed one and a half years of work with his pastor, meeting thirty or more requirements to the satisfaction of a reviewing council which was held on a date prior to his receiving the award. Danny is the first scout ever to receive the God and Country Award in Beulaville.
