Duplin County Art Show

The day was perfect for an outdoor art exhibit. The white colonial home with Old Glory flying from a front column, the azaleas at their peak and the pines with sunlight filtering thru them all contributed to the atmosphere of enjoyable relaxation felt by the many people who came to view the talent displayed in the paintings of the students of Mrs. Margaret Blanchard Cooper. It has been called the "most creative" of the annual exhibits she has presented.

Mac Teachey of Rose Hill shows his proud parents and grandfather the best of his years work exhibited in the group of paintings by youth students. Crayon and ink combinations, water colors and tissue collages dominated this group.

Light and shadow among the pines from an interesting foreground pattern for artistic display of paintings.

Mrs. Cooper studies a painting in oils, done with palette knife by Mrs. Dudie Hawes Blanchard of Wallace. The subject is a coastal scene with trees in the foreground. In the background is the studio. Inside it the guests were served punch and cookies. On its outside walls, paintings in oils can be seen. Two ladies enjoy a college water scene created from acrylic paint which is propped against a pine tree. In it pebbles, tree bark and broom sedge were used by Janet Lee of Faison to furnish the collage media.

After an early hanging of their paintings in preparation for the show, Mrs. Charity Kaimor of Faison, Mrs. Margaret Carroll of Turkey and Mrs. Nan Precythe (back to camera) of Faison relax while they wait for others to arrive and hang their works in the adult student group.

Bridge Club Meets

Mrs. Kirk Carawan entertained her bridge club on Tuesday evening at her home on North Hall Street. Enjoying the play were Mrs. Billy Brown, Mrs. DeWitt Miller, Mrs. Richard Burrows, Mrs. Verne Cayton, Mrs. Bobby Lee Jones, Mrs. J.T. Kelly, Mrs. E.G. Murray, Jr. and the hostess.

Assorted hostess crackers with pepsi and candy were served during the play and at the close of the game the guests enjoyed Hawaiian pie and coffee.

After the progressions prizes were presented to Mrs. Cayton, for high score, Mrs. Brown won traveling prize and Mrs. Jones low score.

Mrs. Cottle Hostess

Mrs. Albert Cottle was hostess to her bridge club on Thursday evening, April 24th at her home just off Highway 117 North of Rose Hill.

Two tables were in play in the living room and those playing were Mesdames Ward Farrior, Irkson Rouse, Harry T. Davis, C.F. Hawes, L.A. Wilson, James Newton, Hugh S. Johnson and Mrs. Cottle.

After progressions were finished, high score prize was awarded Mrs. Wilson, a guest club high to Mrs. C.F. Hawes and Bingo to Mrs. James Newton.

Refreshments of ham biscuits, pineapples, pineapple-cheese curls, drinks and chocolates were served the guests.

Outdoor Art Exhibit

Sunday, April 27 was a delightful day for an outdoor art exhibit. The pines and blooming azaleas at the Cooper home made a perfect setting for the art work on display.

Under the trees on the north side of the house there was an exhibit of children's work. On display here were pictures by children from six years to high school.

On the south side of the house there was work done by high school students. Some of these students have received instructions from Mrs. Cooper for four or five years.

Behind the house, and in the studio there was displayed a beautiful collection done by adults in Mrs. Jack Coopers classes. There were landscapes, portraits, still life, and many others. It would have been very difficult to select one as the best.

In the studio punch was served to the guests. On the lawn there were chairs for anyone to rest a bit, and enjoy the beauty of the day.

Boy Scout Camporee

The boy scouts of the Tuscarora Council held a camporee on May 25, 26, and 27 at the fairgrounds near Goldsboro.

Attending from Rose Hill were fourteen scouts from Troop no. 245, and eight Explorers from Troop #245. J.T. Kelly, Maury Henry Staring, and Sidney Smith accompanied the boys.

The scouts left Rose Hill about noontime on Friday, and traveled to Goldsboro by cars and truck. They reached the camp ground in time to set up camp before dark.

There were over 1150 scouts registered from Duplin, Sampson, Wayne, and Johnston Counties. On Saturday, different events in scouting skills were staged. On Sunday night there was a program with singers from the area. On Sunday morning a devotional service was held, and then everyone proceeded and to break camp, and pack to go home.

This was a most enjoyable and constructive weekend for the scouts of Tuscarora Council.
