East Duplin's Library Club

Ben Frank Outlaw was guest speaker at the April meeting of the East Duplin Library Club. President Elaine Turner introduced Mr. Outlaw.

Outlaw spoke on "The Value of an Education to Today's Youth." He compared its importance today with that in his day. He pointed out the fact that education is becoming more and more important to the twentieth century American. He urged students to stay in school. "Go ahead and get an education, you will never regret it," said Mr. Outlaw.

During the past year, "Mr. Ben Frank" has donated a number of books, pamphlets, clippings and magazines to the East Duplin Library. The librarian said, "when he comes to visit us, he comes with his arms loaded. When he unloads, it is just like opening a treasure chest." He has donated many valuable books to the library.

Outlaw is a native of the Outlaw Bridge community. He attended Outlaw Bridge School, Mount Olive High School, and West Point Military Academy.
