Poppy Day

By Lee Maxwell, Chairman
Poppy Drive Post 379

Saturday, May 31st is National Poppy Day and thousands of American Legion Auxiliary Ladies will be swarming over the nation carrying baskets of red paper poppies. They are replicas of the famous blossoms that are in full bloom now "Beneath the crosses row on row", that mark our blessed heroes' graves in Flanders Field.

These paper poppies are made by feeble and crippled hands, during the long, lonesome, winter months in Veterans' hospitals. When we pin one on you, if you listen carefully the poppy will say to you, "Every penny you give goes for helping disabled veterans and their needy families." Let us wear a poppy 'Lest we forget.

MEMORIAL FLOWER

A million grieving women--- Praying---yet trying to be brave---

Lord---I could bear it better Were there just one flower on his grave.

A pitying angel heard their sighing
And with compassion in his heart,
Thought to give them some reward
For having bravely done their part.
