Energy and enthusiasm are the main traits of those born under the sign Aries, while red is their color, smythst their birthstones, and tulips their flowers, according to FTD horists.

Like the rams who direct the flocks, Arians are leaders and pioneers, and an Arian will pack more into a lifetime than most others dream possible.

But Arians must always take care, or their individuality will become egoism, and their independence will bloom into reckless impulsiveness.

As the first sign on the zodiac and the herald of spring, Aries truly begins the year with a tremendous rush of energy.

JSI EAST CAROLINA PROFESSOR TO BEGIN FORUM ON "ELEVEN GREAT ARTISTS"

A series of lectures on "Eleven Great Artists" will begin on Thursday, September 11, 1969, at James Sprunt Institute, at 7:00 P. M. Dr. Emily Farnham's subject will be "Picasso".

Dr. Farnham is professor and chairman of the Department of Art History in the School of Art at East Carolina University. A native of Kent, Ohio, Dr. Farnham studied a year at the Cleveland Institute of Art before receiving the B. S. degree from Kent State University. She earned the M. A. degree in watercolor painting and the Ph. D. degree in the history of art at Ohio State University, where she taught watercolor painting and costume design during the year 1964-65. In 1949, 1960, and 1963 she studied with Hans Hofmann, the noted teacher of abstraction, in Provincetown and New York City.

Before coming to Greenville in 1962, Dr. Farnham taught at Ohio State, Michigan State University, Utah State University, Stout State College, Southern Illinois University and Mary Baldwin College.

She is a member of the College Art Association of America, the American Association of University Professors, and the Daughters of the American Revolution.

All persons 18 years of age and older are cordially invited to attend.

Before becoming a state memorial, it took 2,000 officers and men to operate the Battleship U.S.S. North Carolina during her four years of World War II duty.

IMPROMPTU PARTIES CALL FOR CAREFUL PLANNING

Everyone knows it takes weeks of careful planning to have a successful dinner party. Therefore, a hostess who can entertain guests for dinner with just an hour's notice is hailed as a genius. It can be done, but it takes advanced planning, a survival kit and a small bag of tricks.

First and foremost, you just keep in stock certain basics that are not to be used except for emergencies and quickly replenished when they are used. These for part of your survival kit and will include supplies for three areas that require attention; the house in general, the table, and the food to be served.

The house: Guest towels with a supply always on hand for unexpected guests. Extra bars of soap... nothing adds more spark to a bathroom than a sweet fresh cake on a clean soap dish. It says "Welcome!"

A few brightly colored extravagant paper flowers, that add a gay note to the coffee table or mantel, will give the room a lift. You may not have time to get fresh flowers.

The table: A clean tablecloth, hung on a hanger that has been lined with a towel to minimize folds, then wrapped in a plastic bag. This will eliminate any wrinkling or last minute ironing. Matching napkins, too, kept in a plastic bag will be fresh when needed.

A pair of new candles and amusing candlesticks used only for surprise guests are a festive mood.

If you have "company" dishes, wash them in sudsy water, rinse, dry, and wrap in storage bags so that they can go from shelf to table.

The dinner: Offer a menu that consists of soup, main course, salad, and dessert. You will be preparing dinner in a hurry, therefore, soup is a good idea because it gives your main dish a little more time to cook. You will have stocked the major ingredients; good suggestions are frozen, cleaned, and deveined shrimp; canned pre-cooked ham, tuna fish, or salmon.

Rehearse the dinner with your family first, taking note of all ingredients required and preparation time. Scan recipes to find one that seems a little exotic, yet easy to prepare. Here are some suggestions: The soup can be cream of chicken. In summer, add mashed avocado and serve chilled with lemon slices. In winter, add a little curry powder and slivered almonds.

Since you may not always have fresh greens on hand for salad, consider some of the canned vegetables. Try sliced pickled beets and string beans served with a dhallop of mayonnaise. Artichoke hearts, as-
