JSI Enrolls Over 1100 Students

Dixon Hall, President of James Sprunt Institute reports that the 1969-70 school year promises to set a record and is to be the most exciting one yet with a present enrollment of 1140 students, with new students still enrolling each day. Three hundred nine (309) new students and returning sophomores enrolling in the associate degree and diploma programs converged on the campus for an orientation program and registration for the fall quarter.

This represents approximately 130% increase in students studying for the degree and diploma programs.

Educational centers have been established throughout the county at the Chinquapin School Teacherage, Albertson Branch School, Rose Hill Elementary School for a total enrollment of 111 students taking studies in Adult Basic Education on three levels. Fifty-two (52) students are enrolled in the high school diploma program in the programmed materials laboratory on campus at James Sprunt Institute.

Additionally 868 students are enrolled in day and night courses at James Sprunt Institute and the educational centers at Chinquapin, Albertson and Rose Hill in Old Testament, Ambulance Attendants, Arts and Crafts, Auto Mechanics, Aviation Ground School, Brick Masonry, Cake Decoration, Ceramics, Eleven Great Artists, Fire Service Training, Flower Arrangement, Hunting, Safety and Marksmanship, Knitting, Oil Painting, Sewing (Beginning and Advanced), Shoplifting (Civilic and Welding).

Thirty-five (35) of the degree students have enrolled in the new college transfer program which is being offered by University of North Carolina at Wilmington in cooperation with James Sprunt Institute. The professors from The University of North Carolina-Wilmington travel to James Sprunt Institute four days and nights per week to offer the freshman year toward a baccalaureate degree.

Thirteen (13) additional staff members have been employed for the James Sprunt Institute campus due to the increased enrollment in degree and diploma programs and 45 part-time instructors have been employed to instruct the extension programs in the county and at night.

The school eagerly awaits completion of the new shop building on campus in order to provide needed spaces due to the increased enrollment.

Ralph Cottle, Personnel Director for Comfy Division of Reeves Brothers Industry of Kenansville presents a pillow to Mrs. Margaret Johnson, President of Area 29, Licensed Practical Nurses Association as Mrs.

Lillian Rouse, LPN, and Mrs. Annie Mae O'Leary, LPN, look on. The pillow is one of many contributed by Reeves for the Duplin County unit of Cherry Hospital, Goldsboro.

Reeves Brothers Contribute Pillows To LPN'S

Area 29 Licensed Practical Nurses Association of which Mrs. Margaret Johnson is president, has taken as one of their projects for the year the Duplin County unit of Cherry Hospital.

An appeal has been made by the Director of Volunteer Services of Cherry Hospital for material to be used in the Duplin County Unit, to help relieve the bleak drabness of the unit.

Reeves Brothers Industry with Comfy Division located at Kenansville which manufactures an assortment of colorful home furnishings, has contributed generously of their pillows to the L. P. N. Association to be used at Cherry. The contribution was made by Ralph Cottle, Personnel Director of Reeves Brothers, on behalf of his company.

Mrs. Johnson said the big shipping carton presented by Comfy Division of Reeves Brothers held a beautiful assortment of colors of pillows which she is sure will be most welcome in the institution.

Extension Home Makers County Council Fall Meeting

Cordell, a Foreign Service Officer serving with the Agency for international development has been in Vietnam for over three years now and has received several awards both from U. S. and Vietnamese Governments for his outstanding service.

Attention Magnolia Residents

It has been reported that the Film Flamer recently operating in Magnolia contacted a resident of the area and asked for and received the name and address of each widow residing in Magnolia. The informant was so helpful that the supposedly film-flamer gave her $5.00.

It would appear that the person had in mind to make more contacts in the area and to obtain money under false pretense. Anyone seeing a neatly dressed man of medium height and size with dark hair and pretending to clean out septic tanks as a representative of the Duplin County Health Department should call the law immediately.

Home Makers Urged To SEEK BETTER HOUSING

Housing is one of Duplin's major problems. The term housing also includes furnishings and the adequacy of the two is usually synonymous. For most families housing constitutes major expenditures and an investment which reflects the management of family income.

The Housing Committee of the Duplin County Agricultural Extension Service Board met recently in the Agricultural Building to discuss housing problems in the county and also to make suggestions for a county housing program. Unfortunately, suitable credit is not available to all families for housing, but the use of available credit is not being used to the fullest potential. Through educational programs, Agricultural Extension Service plans to inform the people about available commercial and governmental credit in order to promote a wise use of credit. Farm Home Administration, Federal Land Bank Association, and Veterans Administration are local sources of credit.

Land-use planning was also discussed. Many families would qualify for a housing loan if a suitable lot were available. Extension workers strive to make communities aware of land-use planning for all segments of the population.

There is an increased interest in beautification of private and public grounds. One major problem in beautifying Duplin is lack of motivation. Dump heaps and abandoned houses are increasing in number. Perhaps the greatest immediate need is for better appreciation of beauty by underprivileged in our towns as well as our rural areas. The Committee suggests community projects that would involve local citizens in beautification projects.

Representatives of O. E. O., F. H. A., James Sprunt, contractors and Community Development pledged their cooperation in making a concentrated effort to motivate better housing in Duplin. Mrs. William Igoe of Faison is chairman of the Housing Advisory Committee.

Whaleys Rest Home Residences Visited By JSI Cosmetology Class

Whaley Rest Home in Kenansville was a bustle of excitement Friday Morning. Wheel Chairs were shooting hither and yon as all the residents converged on the "shampoo room" of the Rest Home and were given a real treat by the Cosmetology class at James Sprunt Institute.

Wallace, took his entire Cosmetology class of thirteen girls to the Rest Home on invitation of Mrs. John Hall, co owner-operator of the home. Residents received hair styles, shampoos and sets which allowed the students valuable experience and proved quite an asset as a morale builder for the ladies.

Members of the class are Carolyn Hatcher, Wilma Batts, Judy Epley, Hilda Byrd, Gall Hatcher, Patricia Sikes, Roleen Hennessee, Syble Maready, Joyce Rouse, Macy Casey, Clara Carter, and Glenna Thornton. Instructor Blanton is owner of Mrs. Stephen's Styling Studio of Wallace.

Rose Hill Church Vandalized

Deputies Rodney Thigpen and George Williams are looking for what might qualify for one of the meanest works of vandalism of the years.

First Christian Church of Rt. 2, Rose Hill, in the Register's Cross Roads area, was entered on Saturday night. Furniture was turned over, and windows broken. Officers fixed the time between 9:30 p. m. Saturday and church services on Sunday morning.

Damages were estimated at $150. No arrest has been made, but investigation is continuing.

Post Office Robbed

An all out investigation has been launched by the local sheriffs department, the SBI and the postal department into the robbery of the Calypso Post Office which occurred on Monday night of last week.

Deputy Rodney Thigpen said that entry into the building was by jimmying locks on two doors. Inside the building the door from the safe was ripped off and an undetermined amount of money and stamps were removed from the safe.

Mrs. Ruth Farrior is postmistress at Calypso and discovered the robbery when she entered the office Tuesday morning. Assisting Thigpen in the investigation is Bill Green of the SBI and William Stanley of the U. S. Postal Department.
