Plan For Consumer Information Week

As a part of its ongoing commitment to consumers, A&P Food Stores will participate in Consumer Information Week, April 30 to May 5. Mr. J.D. Whitfield, Sales Director of A&P's Carolina Division, announced their plans to promote this program, sponsored by the Council of Better Business Bureaus Inc., to demonstrate how constructive consumerism is working to provide consumers with the information they need to make intelligent, carefully considered buying decisions.

The "Get your Money's Worth... Get the Facts!" theme of Consumer Information Week fits in perfectly with A&P's WEC (Where Economy Originates) selling philosophy. Mr. J.D. Whitfield said, "Long before there was such a word as consumerism, A&P was dedicated to helping their customers get their money's worth. And, of course, A&P was the pioneer in offering consumers such innovations as grade labeling, informative labeling and choice of our own brands and national brands." The visual symbol of Consumer Information Week will appear in A&P newspaper advertising for the week of April 30 to May 5. The symbol will remind consumers of eight important points which go into many consumer buying decisions. The cautionary points are: Read the label, understand the guarantee, shop price and quality, know the cost of credit, read use and care instructions, check seller's reliability, read contract before signing, and ask who services it. Two additional suggestions for consumer satisfaction are to ask questions and to take your time.

Music Recital

MOUNT OLIVE—Miss Jackie Lambert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lambert, Jr. of Calypso, will be participating in a music recital sponsored by the Mt. Olive College Music Dept. on Wed., May 2, at 8 p.m. in the College Auditorium. The recital will feature students from the general student body and music majors in their minor performance area.

The public is cordially invited to attend. There is no charge.
