Workshop on Alcohol Abuse

The Kenansville Jaycees will sponsor a Community Awareness Workshop on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism on Friday, Oct. 26, 1973.

The Workshop will be held at Rose Hill Restaurant in Rose Hill.

The Community Workshop will begin at 8:30 a.m. with registration and will include morning, afternoon and night sessions. Hughie Rhodes, Chairman of the local sponsoring organization, said leaders in the community, and especially those who might be involved in any phase of working with or assisting alcoholic people, are urged to attend all three sessions if possible. The evening session is open to the general public as well as those involved in the day-long workshop.

The Community Awareness Workshop is to be professionally staffed by the Alcoholism Training Program for N.C., based at ECU, Greenville; and the Eastern Regional Alcoholism Program of N.C., Dept. of Human Resources, Division of Mental Health.

Staff members from the Duplin County Mental Health Center will also participate in the Workshop.

The purpose of the one-day Workshop is to provide more detailed education for the appropriate community leaders and officials, as well as family members, on the delivery of services to alcoholic people.

A portion of the workshop will deal primarily with community attitudes toward alcohol abuse and alcoholism, appropriate confrontation and early identification of developing alcohol problems, according to Wade H. Williams, Jr., Eastern Regional Alcoholism Program Coordinator.

The individuals who desire to attend the Community Awareness Workshop on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism are urged to contact the Duplin County Mental Health Center or the Kenansville Jaycees, local sponsor.
