The Kenansville Intercom

with Woody Brinson
Town Administrator

Spring is with us, hopefully to stay. With this thought in mind, the Kenansville Beautification Committee encourages you to clean-up your yard and prepare for the beauty of spring. To aid you in improving your yard's appearance, or to replace any shrubbery that was killed or damaged by our unusually cold winter, the Beautification Committee will be conducting their annual Spring Shrubbery Sale on Friday afternoon, March 25, and Saturday, March 26 at the parking lot of Jackson's IGA. Come by and help them raise some money to conduct their projects as well as helping improve your yard.

Also, when spring fever hits us, our thoughts turn to recreation and being out-of-doors. The Kenansville Recreation Commission is meeting this week to outline plans for this summer. Details should be available for next week's column.

The Kenansville Jaycees will be sponsoring two events in the near future to help raise money for the Park project. On April 19, they will be sponsoring another Mid-Atlantic Championship Wrestling match, and also in early April the senior basketball players from UNC will return for their annual event. No exact date has been set since the Tar Heels are still involved in the NCAA playoffs. Support these two projects as the Jaycees try to raise money to support community projects.

The new Kenansville Area Chamber of Commerce met on March 8, at which time they officially adopted by-laws for the organization and approved dues for membership. If you are interested in joining, please contact me at the Town Hall. The committee which drew up the by-laws consisted of Earl Hatcher, Kenansville Drug Store; Ray Johnson, Bank of North Carolina; Phil Kretsch, Waccamaw Bank and Trust Co.; Doris Jernigan, Guardian Care; and Carol Jenkins, J&B Service Center. The next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be on April 5 at 7:30 p.m. at the Duplin County Farm Bureau building. Officers will be elected at this meeting. Serving as a nominating committee are Violet Phillips, H. E. Phillips, Attorney-at-Law office; Kirmey Kenan, B&K Grill; and Ray Bell, Bell Motors.

The DO SOMETHING campaign has caught on like wild fire. I had 200 of the buttons and now only have about 50 left. Thanks go to the people at Carey's Body Shop for their help in promoting the idea. Always be willing to make the best of what you have. If fate determines that you should inherit a lemon, make the best of it -- open up a lemonade stand. We have a lot to work with here in Kenansville (and no lemons); so let's make the best of it and DO SOMETHING. If you want one of the buttons, see me soon while the supply lasts.

Many new citizens have recently moved to Kenansville.

These include the Earl Brinkley family, living in Mrs. O. P. Johnson's house next to the Kenansville Baptist Church on Rutledge Road; the Jerry Jordan family, living on Williams Street; the James Evans family, living on Rutledge Road at the corner of John Street; Alfred Wells and son, living in Dr. Dan Young's house; and Starkey Norris, living in the Canal Street apartments. We are glad to have you as citizens of our community, and hope you will work with us to improve it. We here in Kenansville are Proud of Its Past, and take Pride in Its Future.

Kenan is employed by Jackson's IGA in Kenansville. The presentation is a part of the observance of National Employ The Older Worker Week (March 14-19). Elizabeth H. Grant, Supervisor-in-Charge of the Kenansville Job Service office, stated, "The older worker who has been on the same job for many years is certainly to be commended. This worker has shown discipline, diligence and ability. Work is honorable and all work has dignity. A good attitude toward your job, your co-workers and others can mean success or failure. The older worker is a good prospect for a good teamworker! It has been proven older workers have a greater job stability and better record of continued acceptance by the employer once they are hired. I offer my congratulations to all older workers during this week of recognition."
