There is, secording to reports, move affoat to change the way he School Board is elected.

That it will be taken from the county-wide vote and put into listricts, as is the vote for County Commissioners. This would be an injustice to the stizens of Duplin County, in my opinion . I can see nothing wrong with School Board numbers coming from a district. But I still think is should

Caveat emptor. . Let the buyer beware. . . In the early days of the United States, this days of the United States, this was the rule. Whatever you bought, you took the chance it was not as it looked. And if it was not, you had no legal recourse. The horse could be blind, the meat rotten, the sewing machine broken, the canned food mislabeled, and so on. And nothing could be on. . And nothing could be done. . But a few new laws changed this, and nowadays. one can be assured that what he buys from the shelf is correctly represented, . Or the buyer has and III recourse. . Many counties have has re-gone a step further and included homes by employing a building inspector to see that the home-buyer gets what he pays for. . Or at least, it will meet some standards. . A committee was appointed to look into this in Duplin County and they recommended a building inspector. . But according to the mood at Monday's meeting of the Board, if Commissioner D. J. Fussell, a former home builder, has his minister D. J.
