Lanier-Summerlin United in Marriage

Myra Lynn Summerlin became the bride of Mr. Keith Lanier in a twilight ceremony on Friday, March 24 at five o'clock in the afternoon at the Free Will Baptist Church, Kenansville. The Reverend N. Lopez Barrow, pastor of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. Barry Fountain, organist, presented a program of wedding music prior to the ceremony. Reverend Eugene Price, soloist, sang "The Faith of Never" and "The Lord's Prayer." Traditional hymns were used.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Lee Summerlin of Route 1, Kenansville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wood Lanier of Route 1, Chinquapin.

The church decorations included an arch candelabra and with spiral candelabra on either side. Baskets of palms, Trinity candles and kneeling bench completed the setting. Pews were decorated with ribbons. The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal gown of white silk tulle over taffeta. The bodice featured a Victorian collar and a sheer Chantilly lace overlay collar and edged the skirt. The full A-line skirt ended into a full chapel train and was edged in double ruffle bounce of tulle lace at the hemline. The empire waist was accented by a white ribbon and with streamers. The gown was complimented by a cathedral mantilla of forested bridal illusion edged in matching lace and to a framed lace-trimmed cap. The bride carried a nosegay of yellow daisies and babies'-breath with yellow and white streamers.

Miss Sally Jo Rhodes of Kenansville served as maid of honor. She wore a yellow gown of polyester-cotton with sheer polyester. The fitted bodice featured a ruffle at the scoop neckline and a formal length train with a ruffled hemline. The mantilla featured a tie. She wore a picture hat edged with yellow ribbon and a long-stemmed mum with matching ribbon. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Annette Anderson of Kenansville, Mrs. Gail Mercer of Chapel Hill and Miss Betty Ruth Outlaw of Mount Olive, cousins of the bride. They were dressed identically to the maid of honor but in green and also carried mums. Flower girl was Miss Jennifer Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jones of Kenansville. She wore a formal gown of yellow polyester-cotton overlaid with a pinafore of sheer polyester and carried a white basket with spring flowers. Ring bearer was Master Kevin Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Anderson of Kenansville. He carried a white-satin pillow edged in lace with white ribbon tying on the rings. Willie Earl Lanier, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were James Allen Dunn and Harold Jones Dunn of Kenansville, uncles of the bride. The mother of the bride selected a street-length dress of sea green giana knit with green accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a street-length dress of peach giana knit with black accessories. They wore white rose corsages. The church was decorated with baskets of palms which outlined a lighted mural in the background. A spiral candelabra containing fifteen candles and two branched candelabras containing three candles each, accented with daisies and palm greenery were on each side. The kneeling bench was placed in front of the Trinity candles. It was decorated with greenery, streamers of light blue ribbons, two doves, and a long stemmed red rose to be given to each mother at the recessional. A large all white arrangement of mixed flowers was placed on either side of the altar. Lighted pew markers with daisies, greenery and light blue ribbons designated the seats for the mothers. Traditional wedding music was rendered by Miss Yvette Miller of Beulaville, Mrs. Feannie Smith of Albertson sang "There Is Love" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a gown of white bridal satin fashioned with a Queen Ann neckline. The empire bodice was overlaid with peau d'ange lace and seed pearls and the long sheer fitted sleeves with matching lace and pearls. The redingote skirt had lace trim and scattered pearl trim down the front, and a deep lace border at the hemline. The skirt extended into a full chapel refreshments included the traditional wedding cake, punch, wine, sausage balls and coffee. After the traditional first slice of cake was cut by the bride and groom, Mrs. Mary Outlaw, aunt of the bride, completed the sewing. Punch was poured by Mrs. Virginia Turner, aunt of the groom. Hostesses-at-large included Mrs. James A. Dunn, Jr., Mrs. Dill Smith, Mrs. Archie Benson and Mrs. Paul Logan.

Bachelor Dinner
On Friday, March 23, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Summerlin and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lanier entertained the wedding party with a barbecue supper at the church Fellowship Hall.

Bridal Shower
Friends of the bride and groom elect honored the couple with a floating miscellaneous shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Summerlin on Saturday night, March 10.

He wore an ice blue formal tuxedo with a red rose boutonniere.

The groom wore a formal tuxedo of ice blue with matching ruffled shirt and a white rose boutonniere.

Earl Barwick, father of the groom served as best man. He wore a formal navy tuxedo with a light blue ruffled shirt and a red rose boutonniere. Ushers were Vernie Barwick, brother of the groom, Nick Bryant, Kynwood Holland, Phil Mazingo, Linwood Price and Jerry Rhodes, brother of the bride. They were dressed in navy tuxedos with light blue ruffled shirts and red rose boutonnieres.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rhodes chose a formal gown of melon giana with a sheer cape. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Barwick chose a formal gown of aqua giana with matching jacket. They wore white orchid corsages.

Miss Robin Maye attended the register and Byron Barwick, nephew of the groom, distributed programs. The wedding was directed by Mrs. Elna Gray Bostic of Kenansville.

The bride is a graduate of James Sprunt School of Nursing and is employed as a registered nurse at Lenoir Memorial Hospital in Kinston.

The groom received his degree as an Emergency Medical Technician from Wayne Community College and is presently employed at Lenoir Memorial Hospital Emergency Medical Service in Kinston. He is also engaged in farming.

After a wedding trip to Beech Mountain, the couple is residing at Seven Springs.

Reception
After the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained the wedding guests with a reception in the church fellowship hall.

Bachelor Dinner

On Saturday afternoon, March 17th, the wedding party was honored with a pig-picking. This was given by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barwick and Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Barwick at the Bernie Barwick home.

After the rehearsal, Mrs. Hughie Rhodes, Mrs. Marvin Rhodes, Mrs. Pat Matthis and Mrs. Davey Thomas entertained the wedding party at the church with refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Price honored the groom with a wedding breakfast in Goldsboro on March 18.

Barwick-Rhodes Vows Spoken

Susan Annette Rhodes and Frederick Neil Barwick exchanged their marriage vows in a double ring candlelight ceremony on March 18 at four o'clock in the afternoon at Beulaville Pentecostal Free Will Baptist Church. Officiating ministers were the Reverend Richard Murray, pastor of the bride, and the Reverend Chris Singleton, former pastor of the groom.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Rhodes of Beulaville and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barwick of Seven Springs.

The church was decorated with baskets of palms which outlined a lighted mural in the background. A spiral candelabra containing fifteen candles and two branched candelabras containing three candles each, accented with daisies and palm greenery were on each side. The kneeling bench was placed in front of the Trinity candles. It was decorated with greenery, streamers of light blue ribbons, two doves, and a long stemmed red rose to be given to each mother at the recessional. A large all white arrangement of mixed flowers was placed on either side of the altar. Lighted pew markers with daisies, greenery and light blue ribbons designated the seats for the mothers.

Traditional wedding music was rendered by Miss Yvette Miller of Beulaville, Mrs. Feannie Smith of Albertson sang "There Is Love" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a gown of white bridal satin fashioned with a Queen Ann neckline. The empire bodice was overlaid with peau d'ange lace and seed pearls and the long sheer fitted sleeves with matching lace and pearls. The redingote skirt had lace trim and scattered pearl trim down the front, and a deep lace border at the hemline. The skirt extended into a full chapel train with lace enhancing the neckline of the train. Her cathedral-length mantilla was attached to a re-embroidered Alencon lace Juliet cap with pearls highlighting it and lace and pearls embroidering the veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of red and white roses, yellow and white daisies, lily-of-the-valley and babies'-breath.

Miss Sonya Rhodes, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a formal gown of light blue giana with empire waist and Venice lace inset at the neckline. The dress was accented with a chiffon cape. A light blue hat with blue flowers and ribbon streamers completed her outfit. She carried a basket of red roses, yellow and white daisies and babies'-breath with blue lace ribbon streamers.

Bridesmaids were June Jones, Myra Murphy, Linda Price, Joette Rhodes, Charlotte Rouse and Pam Wilson. They wore dresses and hats identical to that of the maid of honor and carried similar baskets.

Catherine Barwick, niece of the groom was flower girl. Her gown was floor-length of light blue chiffon with a white pinafore. She wore a white hat with light blue ribbon streamers and flowers in the back. She carried a basket of mixed flowers, and dropped rose petals as she entered.

Ring bearer was Chuck Barwick, brother of the groom. He carried a white lace pillow with lily-of-the-valley encircling the wedding
