

Son Of A Gun

by Joe Lanier

By the way, averages and comparisons most often do not show actual facts. . . An example. . . Duplin County pupil-teacher ratio for 1978 was 19.2. . . However, classroom teachers will tell you the classrooms had 30 or more. . . Also, the millions of dollars of revenue sharing the county commissioners have turned over to the schools do not show up in any comparison figures. . . When we know these millions are not used on comparison and average charts, we can readily understand why others are amazed at dollar accomplishments when the figures show so few dollars. . .

I was talking to a little girl awhile back. . . She said she was in the second grade. . . I asked her the usual questions. . . What did you learn in school today? . . . She said, Nothing, I was too tired. . . Well, why were you tired? . . . I sat up last night, all night studying. . . Well, didn't your mom make you go to bed? . . . Yes, but I sat up in the bed and read. I have to go to bed every night at nine o'clock but I didn't go to sleep. . . Well, if you didn't learn anything while you were in school today, what did you do? . . . I went to sleep. . . You know you didn't! . . . I did. . . Didn't the teacher wake you up? . . . No, she couldn't find me. . . Why not? . . . I hid under the desk. . . Somehow, I think you are putting me on. Did you have cake for lunch? . . . No, I had something better. . . What? . . . Meat loaf. . . Bye, little girl, I have been suckered enough for one day. . .

Son-of-a-Gun and a blunderbuss.
