VOL. XXXXV NO. 48

KENANSVILLE, NC 28349 .

NOVEMBER 26, 1981

16 PAGES THIS WEEK

10 CENTS PLUS TAX

Top photo, Jim Graham, Nurham Warwick and W.E. Craft, roasters at the Hardison Roast. Jim gets up to make a talk, he just mumbles. . .Says Senator Hardison, "You don't know what he has said. You have to call on one of his aides to interpret. . . . Pot Craft. . . His wife Anne saved his life. . . You know he believes in signs. . . He saw one one time that said, "Drink Canada Dry." . . . Thank goodness Anne explained it to him. . . . Hardison said Nurham Warwick was feeding his pigs by holding them up to the hmt to Warwick it would be easier to pull the apples from the tree and feed them to the pigs, said to Nurham, "Isn't that time consuming to feed pigs that way. .Nurham replied, "What is time to a pig?". .In the bottom picture is George Harper, N.C. Department of Transportation; Benny Wilson of Quinn Company, and Senator Hardison. The Hardison Roast was sponsored by the Kenansville Jaycees to raise money for the North Carolina Cystic Fibrosis and Leukemia Foundation.

Pastor Pleads Guilty In Murder Of Inez Jernigan

The Rev. Sheldon Howard of Mount Olive pleaded Tuesday to second-degree murder in the brutal death last April of Inez Quinn Jernigan, 53.

The prominent Duplin County businesswoman and civic leader was found dead in her home north of Kenansville April 22. An autopsy showed Mrs.
Jernigan, owner and manager of Jernigan Tractor
Co. of Kenansville, died the previous day of blows to the head and stab wounds to the

Howard, who was once her pastor, was charged with first-degree murder in the Howard, 44, entered a guilty plea to the lesser charge after a plea-bargain was reached between his attorneys, Doug Connors of Mount Olive and E.C. Thompson III of Warsaw, and Duplin District Attorney

The penalty for a second-degree murder conviction is two years to life in prison. If a defendant is sentenced to life imprisonment, parole becomes possible in 20

Andrews said he plans to ask for life imprisonment. He said there was sufficient evidence for a jury to convict

Howard of first-degree murder but that did not mean he would have faced execu-

Thompson submitted the plea during an arraignment hearing for Howard in a special session of Duplin County Superior Court.

Superior Court Judge Henry L. Stevens III delayed sentencing pending a mental examination of Howard at Dorothy Dix Hospital in Court officials said sentencing will take place in late December or early January at the earliest. Howard has been in Duplin County jail since his Stevens asked Howard if he understood the consequences of his plea, and Howard replied that he did. Reviewing evidence from an earlier probable cause hearing, District Attorney Andrews said Mrs. Jernigan was beaten with a wooden kitchen chair and stabbed in the throat. He said the investigators found a hair on a placemat covering her head a placemat covering her head that laboratory analysis showed was consistent with hair from Howard's head. Andrews cited evidence which indicated a $20,000 loan made by Mrs. Jernigan to Howard figured promi-nently in the state's case volved in a lawsuit, you know against Howard.

Her estate has filed suit seeking to recover the money and interest, but a date for the civil case has not been

Howard claimed he repaid the loan in cash, but did not have a receipt.

Friends of the Baptist minister formed a defense fund to help Howard meet expenses, and sent letters to churches saying contribu-tions to Howard's defense fund would be welcome.

A letter distributed and signed by the Rev. L.B. Woodall Jr. of Princeton estimated the cost of defending Howard would exceed $100,000. Woodall said after Tuesday's hearing that he and other friends of Howard's were "sorry," but not par-ticularly surprised by the

"The state had a strong case, though it was mostly circumstantial," Woodall said. "We knew about some of the evidence, but of course we couldn't say anything."

Despite the apparent doubts on the part of Howard's supporters, Woodall said his friends still "wanted him to have an adequate

"If you've ever been in-how expensive it can be. Woodall said.

Howard was pastor of the Northeast Original Free Will Baptist Church in Mount Olive, and a former pastor of Pearsall Chapel Church near Kenansville, where Mrs. Jernigan attended church.

The church board Thursday night accepted a letter of resignation submitted by

He also is a former professor of religion at Mount Olive College.

Defense attorney Thomp-son commented, "The plea is consistent with the truth of the case We received full cooperation of the state law enforcement agencies during our investigation. They made the system work. We think justice will be done."

Thompson said previous examinations of Howard indicated a mental problem that should be considered by the judge in sentencing Duplin County Sheriff Elwood Revelle said he was satisfied with the seconddegree murder conviction. Revelle noted that no one had been put to death in North Carolina after a first degree murder conviction ince Theodore Boykin of Duplin County was executed in 1961.

Duplin Schools Approve Changes In Heating

Alterations to the old Kenansville school's heating. system to permit the heating of portions of the building instead of the entire structure were approved by the Duplin County Board of Education Tuesday night of

Cost of the project was estimated at about $4,000 for materials and space heaters and $1,200 for labor.

The project calls for installing 30 cut-off valves in the steam lines. When completed, the project will permit heating of the first floor only. If only one or two space heaters will be installed so heating can be limited to the area in use. Last year, heating the building cost $7,933.66. The board estimated the alterations will save 30 to 40 percent of the heating cost over a year. Money for the project will come from the contingency fund county tax appropria-

The board established a $20 fee for use of the auditorium if it is heated and $15 if it is not. The fee for use of one room in the building will be $10. In addition to the room fees, a custodial fee of $6 per hour will be charged.

The building was abandoned the new Kenansville Elementary School opened two

The old building had been condemned by the Kenansville fire department as unsafe for occupancy by chil-

In other business, the board adopted a policy of charging from $1 to $208 for each child non-domiciled in Duplin County. An estimated 50 to 100 non-domiciled children are attending local schools. Duplin residents pay $208 per pupil in school

Riddick Wilkins, a new board member, said the state had permitted the domicile charge when it appeared federal impact money for out-of-district students would be cut off. However, he noted, the county is receiving $25,000 in impact money this year. "If the full charge of $208 is made, it will force students out of school," he added.

Sandra Worsley of Wallace and Albert Brown of Rose Hill were named to the Charity Middle School advisory board.

The board's only meeting next month will be on Dec. 1.

Duplin Airport Plans Ok'd

The Duplin County Airport Commission was authorized last week to accept low bids totaling $145,400.75 for extension of the P.B. Raiford Airport runway west of Kenansville.

The county board of commissioners unanimously approved the authorization resolution following discussion of the project by airport commission chairman Bennie

The resolution called for some changes in the erosion control and paving plans to 4 ld the total project cost, including engineering fees, to $156,000.

Wilson said if the contracts can be signed, work would begin immediately. He said work could be completed by Blaylock Construction Co. of Lillington was the low bidder on the general construction contract at $130,180.

Low bidder for the electrical contract was Barnes and Powell Electric Co. of Elm City at $15,220.75.

thened 1,100 feet - from 3,700 to 4,800 feet. The extended runway will be long enough for medium-sized jet planes to land and take off nanced by a $50,000 county expropriation, $31,000 in donations from area indistries and $81,000 in a state

Wilson said 17 firms bid on the project. "They must be hungry," he told the board. In other business, Robert Hospital board. It also re-

Swain submitted his resignation as county extension livestock specialist, effective Nov. 30. Swain will become extension swine specialist for southeastern North Carolina December 1.

David Underhill, mosquito control program director, re-The runway will be lengported a backhoe was damaged by a fire that started in the electrical system. Repairs to the $90,000 machine will cost between $10,000 and $18,000, depending on extent of damage discovered The project is being fias the machine is dismantly. Underhill said while this machine was valided at $90,000 prior to the fire, a new machine would cost

The board reappointed Commissioner Allen Nethercutt to the Duplin County appointed Garland King Milford Quinn and C.W. Surratt to the industrial development board. George Cowan was reappointed to the county soil and water district board of supervisors.

A contract with Dr. Corbett L. Quinn for $321 per week was approved. Cuinn will be the contractural medical director for the county health department.

By a 3-2 vote, the board appointed Dr. Steve Griffish Warsaw to the county health board to succeed Dr. Cary Br. rick, who has moved from the county. Voting for Griffith were commissioners Calvin Turner, W.J. Costin and Nethercutt. Voting against the appointment were Commissioners D.J. Fussell and Franklin

Pate Receives Dameron Award

Carl D. Pate Jr.

Carl D. Pate Jr. (Danny). son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Pate Sr. of Beulaville, who is a senior at the University of North Carolina school of medicine, has been selected as the recipient of the Frank Dameron Award. This award was established by the UNC school of medicine Class of 1975 in memory of their classmate in recognition both of his achievements as a medical

Tax Credit

Employers, did you know that by hiring extended day school students you can get a major tax break?

Through the Revenue Act of 1978, the federal government is offering just that kind of opportunity. For more information, call Joreka Allen, Eddie Hatch or W.T. Stokes at 296-1818 at Extended Day School in student and of his commitment to return to his hometown in a medically deprived area to practice medicine. The award is given to a member of the fourth year class who is a student in good standing and committed to practicing primary care medicine at the end of his training in a rural or medically deprived area of the state. Selection is by class ballot, Dean's office, and president of the Whitehead Society.

Danny will finish his medical school studies next spring and will begin postgraduate residency training in family medicine. His plans are to return to his home area to practice when he completes his residency. He is a 1974 graduate of East Duplin High School and did his undergraduate studies at UNC-CH, receiving his B.A. degree in 1978. He is the grandson of Mrs. Phoebe Pate of Beulaville, and Mrs. Ruby R. Brinkley of Teachey and the late Ben F. Brinkley

Duplin High On Farm List In USA

Duplin County ranked 49th among counties throughout the United States in gross farm income, according to the 1978 census of agriculture, the U.S. Department of Commerce reported Thurs-

The only North Carolina county ranked among the top 100 of the nation in this category, Duplin increased its standing from 62nd in 1974 to 49th in 1978.

The census reported the county's gross farm income at $173,125 million. The county has been ranked among the top 100 since the late 1960s with income from poultry the primary factor.

The county's gross farm income continued to rise in the years after 1978, reaching an estimated $238.7 million last year.

Thanksgiving Service

There will be a Thanks-giving Worship Service at 9 a.m. Thanksgiving Day at the United Methodist Church in Warsaw, according to the pastor, Rev. Jimmy Creech.

Outside of Wisconsin and Illinois, only 10 counties east of the Mississippi River ranked among the top 100. Six of these were in Florida, two in Pennsylvania and one in Virginia.

Twenty-one of the leading counties - including Fresno, the national leader - were in California, 13 in Texas, nine in Iowa, eight in Illinois and seven in Kansas. California, lowa, Illinois and Texas are the top four states in gross farm income virtually every

The Duplin County extension service estimated that poultry brought a gross re-turn of $120.2 million in 1980, an increase of about $35 million from 1978. The county's swine industry grossed $27.8 million in 1980 about the same as two years earlier because of depressed

Duplin is among the top poultry producing counties of the nation with turkeys as the leading factor. Last year the county's turkey crop totaled 10.7 million birds and grossed $69.9 million, compared with about $40 million in 1978. In 1980 broilers grossed $34.77 million, turkey- and chicken-hatching eggs $11 million and market eggs $3.15 million. The county's 1980 turkey crop was just under half the 23 million turkeys produced in North Carolina.

In addition to its burgeoning poultry industry, Duplin remains a major tobacco producer, ranking 10th or 11th in the state in most years. Last year its tobacco crop grossed $39.6 million. The tobacco income is limited by production quotas designed to keep the nation's crop in line with supply. Tobacco demand has been limited in recent years.

The county's poultry de-velopment began in the middle 1950s. By the mid-1960s gross income from poultry topped that from tobacco.

The nation's appetite for poultry has increased sharply in the last decade and exports of poultry meat, par-ticularly turkey, have risen, largely through marketing innovations such as selling turkey parts, turkey ham, turkey rolls and chiefen hot dogs.