

THE PINK HILL REVIEW

"Serving Pink Hill, Deep Run, Albertson, Beulaville, And Their Surrounding Areas"

VOL. 4, NO. 6

KENANSVILLE, NC 28349

February 11, 1982

THE PINK HILL FIRE DEPARTMENT personnel accompanied by Capt. Guy Basden and Lt. Cecil Duke from the Kinston Fire Department inspected local businesses last week for potential fire hazards. The first and initial visit was made to American Field Corp. Although a town ordinance was adopted in 1952 require fire inspection to take place bi-annually, it has not been enforced for several years. The purpose of the inspection is to educate the public and to make them more aware of the potential fire hazards. Barwick Files For County Board

P.C. Barwick Jr. has filed as a candidate for county commissioner of Lenoir County. Barwick, 44, is a member of the law firm of Wallace, Barwick, Landis, Rodgman & Bower, P.A. and has been practicing law for 18 years. He is a native of Lenoir County, a graduate of Moss Hill High School, Wake Forest University and Law School. He served in the U.S. Army and the N.C. National Guard from 1960 until 1967, receiving an honorable discharge from the Reserve as a captain, infantry.

He is married to the former Nancy Costin of Asheville and they have two sons, Collins, a junior at Wake Forest University and Scott, a senior in high school. They are members of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, where Barwick has served as senior warden. He has been active in local, civic and political affairs for a number of years. He is a past president of the Kinston Jaycees, the Kinston Lenoir County Chamber of Commerce, Lenoir County United Way and the Kinston Country Club, and served as chairman of the Lenoir County Red Cross blood program for four years as well as chairman of the local Caswell District committee of the Boy Scouts of America for three years. He was co-chairman of the drive to build the East Carolina Counsel Headquarters for the Boy Scouts. In 1981 he was appointed to a term on the board of directors of Lenoir Memorial Hospital.

Barwick is a charter member of the Home Builders Association of Kinston, attorney for the Kinston Board of Realtors, and a member of the Elks, Lenoir County Farm Bureau and the Power Squadron. Barwick received the local Jaycees DSA Award in 1968 and 1970 was made a life member by the local chapter in 1974. While serving as state chairman of the N.C. Young Republicans from 1971 until 1972, he was one of five Jaycees in the United States to receive the Freedom Guard Award for political and civic involvement.

In announcing his candidacy, Barwick said, "I am running because I believe that we need more involvement in local government to meet the challenges before us. To get that involvement the county commissioners must provide the leadership. With good effective leadership at the county level, we can again make Lenoir County a leader in the East. The 'New Federalism' doctrine of the Reagan administration, while offering many new opportunities for local governments, adds some additional responsibilities. We must meet this concept head-on in a very positive manner. Most of us want power restored to the people by way of local and state governments. We need leadership able to work with federal agencies in the transition."

In concluding, Barwick noted, "I believe that my record of involvement and service in Lenoir County qualifies me to serve in this very important capacity and this record clearly indicates that I will serve in the interest of the people of our county."

Teachey Files For Board Of Education In Lenoir

Gary Teachey, a Pink Hill native, has filed for candidacy for the Lenoir County board of education. He attended Pink Hill Elementary School and was among the first class to attend South Lenoir High School for four years. From there he went on to Methodist College in Fayetteville to earn a B.A. degree in sociology.

Gary is employed by Carolina Power & Light Co. as a senior customer service representative. He is a member of the Queen Street Methodist Church, the Kinston Homebuilder's Association, and the Neuse Electrical Contractors Association, as well as being a state certified energy auditor and a North Carolina real estate broker.

His philosophy on education is that we basically have a good system in Lenoir County, but at the same time one that could be refined and improved upon. We need to look internally at the system to see how it can help itself. Our young people are the most valuable resource we have as far as development and growth in Lenoir County. They need all the preparation they can attain to be ready to combat the startling reality of "life after high school." There are numerous sources of knowledge and skills available to help solve the ever-present problems facing our educational system. The greatest of these are parents and teachers accompanied by state and local agencies which could be called upon for assistance.

"Being a product of the Lenoir County school system, I feel that my knowledge in the areas of energy and people in general could

Smith Files For BOE Re-Election

T. C. Smith of the Moss Hill community has filed for re-election as a member of the Lenoir County Board of Education. He is a veteran of six years on the board, being elected in two previous elections.

Smith is married to the former Nell Harper and they have two sons, one a student at South Lenoir High School and one a student at Lenoir Community College.

Smith is a graduate of Moss Hill High School and spent four years in the U.S. Navy. He holds a bachelor's degree from Atlantic Christian College and a Masters degree in chemistry from Duke University and has done further graduate study at Duke. He taught for four years at Lenoir Community College prior to entering into the agribusiness area. Smith is currently employed by the Food and Drug Protection division of the N.C. Department of Agriculture.

Smith serves on the executive committee of the Advisory Council of the school of agriculture and life sciences at NCSU. He is past president of the Lenoir County Livestock Association and is currently a member of the N.C. Cattlemen's Association. He is a former vice-president of agricultural affairs with the Kinston-Lenoir County Chamber of Commerce.

Smith is a member of Holy Innocents Episcopal Church where he serves on the vestry and is a member and past president of the Moss Hill Ruritan Club.

In filing for re-election, Smith stated, "Lenoir County has no greater responsibility than the proper preparation of our children to meet the world they will face, and we must provide the best educational opportunities in the public schools so this might be accomplished. If re-elected, I pledge to continue to put my strongest efforts toward achieving this purpose."

benefit the educational system in Lenoir County. This in turn would contribute to the advancement of the county and its people. I want not only to be the people's choice, but the people's voice as well," said Teachey. Teachey resides at Route 2, Kinston, with his wife, Virginia and their two daughters, Shelley and Leslie.

Tips On Shopping For Valentine's Day Flowers

Valentine's Day, February 14, the most romantic occasion of the year, is coming up soon and Richard E. Daudelin, president of Florists' Transworld Delivery, the cooperatively-owned floral wire and membership service, has these tips for those planning to give flowers to their Valentines.

- Order early. Valentine's Day falls when the weather is bad in many parts of the country, which can affect both the growing and shipping of flowers. Remember, too, that the holiday is on a Sunday in 1982.
- Let your budget be your guide. Romance is priceless but florists can provide floral Valentines for any budget, from just a few flowers, or even a single bloom, to elaborate bouquets.
- Red flowers are in great demand. But your Valentine flowers can be any color and your florist will be happy to decorate your gift so it conveys your message.

Hardison Visits Schools

State Senator Harold Hardison recently took time off from his busy schedule and visited the county schools. Hardison is the chairman of the Senate appropriations committee and a member of the advisory budget commission.

Superintendent Young Allen said that the Senator was interested in viewing the entire Lenoir County schools program and was especially interested in the reading classes, arts, exceptional children, and the food service program.

Hardison mingled with students, teachers and principals during his day-long visit to the county schools. "He was interested in what everyone connected with the schools had to say," Allen noted.

SENATOR HAROLD HARDISON is shown in the classroom at one of the many schools he recently visited in Lenoir County.
