WARSAW AUTO SHOW - "They is more mobiles here than you can shake an oil stick at," said one old fellow looking at the 1930 Model A. "This old, new-looking car sure brings back memories." The fellow he was talking to said, "I saw one over there two years older than I am." ...A 1924 Ford. Bluegrass music filled the air and the emotions stirred all, as they saw their dream car, a car from the past, or a car they hoped to be in their future at the Warsaw Branch Banking and Trust Co. parking lot Saturday. New car dealers displayed their latest models . . cars and trucks. Old car buffs showed off their restored antiques. Hot rod association members showed off their slightly remodeled old-new cars. Racing drivers showed their high speed track cars. High priced sports cars such as a stainless steel Delorian made in Australia. . .Highway patrol cars. . .Ambulances where one could have his (or her) blood pressure taken. . .A fire engine with a real live Dalmatian mascot dog. . Jeeps and army trucks with guns.
