

Quinn - Torrants United In Marriage

Telza Torrants and Erroll Bertice Quinn were married in the Warsaw Baptist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor of Kenansville and the late Samuel E. Torrants. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bertice Quinn of Magnolia.

The double-ring ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Mack Thompson after introductory songs sung by Margaret Lloyd of Warsaw accompanied by Katherine Vestal, organist.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her stepfather. She wore a formal gown of white silk organza and Chantilly lace over peu de soie, fashioned with a fitted lace bodice and designed with a Queen Anne neckline accented with seed pearls and a keyhole back and long full bishop sleeves with deep lace cuffs. The A-line skirt was enhanced with a crystal pleated panel of silk organza edged with lace and a wide lace panel flowed down the cathedral train trimmed with lace which continued around the hemline. She chose a finger-tip mantilla of imported silk illusion with pencil edging and lace which fell from a lace camelot cap adorned with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pastel silk spring flowers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Megan Maready, who wore a formal gown of navy and ivory sheer silesta. Her gown was designed with a sheer silesta navy blue skirt and an ivory spaghetti-strapped Schiffli lace bodice with a removable long-sleeved ivory sheer silesta peplum jacket with an ivory satin ribbon belt.

Bridesmaids were Caren Baily of Faison and Elva Quinn of Magnolia, sisters of the groom, and Claire Hill of Fayetteville, cousin of the bride. They wore gowns of navy sheer silesta designed with a gathered peplum bodice with a square yoke of ivory Schiffli lace and high neckline trimmed with navy and tying over the shoulder, with long full sleeves with deep ivory lace cuffs. Dyed to match buttons closed the cuffs and left shoulder of their gowns, and a self-tie belt encircled the waistlines.

Caroline Padrick of Magnolia, niece of the groom, attended as flowergirl. She wore a dress of ivory tinted polyester trimmed with navy lace.

The groom chose his father as best man. Ushers were Sam Hill of Fayetteville, cousin of the bride; Ted Baily of Faison, brother-in-law of the groom; and Neal Tucker of Magnolia, cousin of the groom.

The wedding was directed by Jean West of Warsaw. Presiding at the guest register was Sandra Padrick of Magnolia, the groom's sister.

After a short wedding trip, the couple is residing at Route 1, Magnolia. The bride and groom are graduates of James Kenan High School and the bride is a graduate of Hardbarger Business College in Raleigh. The groom is self-employed as a farmer, and the bride is employed by Lundy's in Clinton.

Wedding Reception

The wedding reception was held in Powell Hall immediately after the ceremony. Guests were greeted by Helen Hill of Fayetteville, the bride's aunt, and introduced to the receiving line composed of the bride and groom and their parents. Guests served slices of the three-tiered wedding cake which was topped with a Cupid, a symbol of love. Along with the wedding cake, cheese straws, lady fingers, nuts, mints and punch were served.

Powell Hall was decorated with blooming African violets, fresh greenery and flowers and candles. Hosting the reception were Mrs. R.P. Wood Sr. of Warsaw and Pauline Brooks of Wilmington, aunts of the groom; Madeline Merritt of Newport News, Va., and Iska Killete of Warsaw, aunts of the bride; and Mrs. Faye Price and Wilma Herring of Warsaw. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chestnutt of Warsaw said the bride and groom's good-byes as guests left the reception hall.

Showers

The bride and groom were given their first wedding shower prior to their wedding in Powell Hall of the Warsaw Baptist Church. The hall was decorated with fresh cut spring flowers and potted plants and a bouquet of fresh yellow roses at the register. The miscellaneous shower was given by the bride's grandmother, Mattie Torrants of Warsaw; aunts, Iska Killete and Doris Warren of Warsaw, and Dot Strickland of Salemburg and Wilma Herring. The shower was attended by friends and relatives.

The bride-elect was honored by her co-workers with a surprise shower held at the Golden Corral in Clinton. The couple received useful and decorative gifts.

The couple was honored with a floating miscellaneous shower in the fellowship hall of Magnolia Baptist Church. Hostesses were Dorothy Mae Parker, Barbara Batts, Mrs. Tom Kissner, Harriet Kissner, Mrs. Gordon Wilson and Mrs. Paul Tucker. A color scheme of yellow and white was used throughout the hall. Refreshments consisted of cake squares, mints, assorted toasted nuts and punch.

The bride- and groom-elect were honored with a miscellaneous shower by Megan Maready and Kaywood Graham of Warsaw at the Maready home.

Wedding Parties

The couple was honored with a pig-pickin' at the home of the groom's parents. The guests included members of the wedding party and close friends and relatives of the couple.

Carl and Faye Price of Warsaw entertained the couple and their parents at Bland's Restaurant in Warsaw. The Price family presented them with a plaque entitled "Love Is Sharing."

The wedding rehearsal was held at the church and followed by a party at the home of the groom's parents. The couple was honored with a three-tiered groom's cake which was served along with nuts, mints, chicken salad cups, cheese straws and punch. The groom chose this occasion to present his attendants with gifts of pewter mugs.

The bride-elect and bridal attendants were honored with a luncheon at The Country Squire on May 1, given by the bride's aunt, Helen Hill of Fayetteville, and great-aunt, Ruth Herring of Mount Olive. The guests were served a light lunch and juice. The bride chose this time to present her attendants with gifts of gold floating hearts.

Dickson - Quinn Exchange Vows

On Saturday, the fifth of June, at four o'clock in the afternoon in Johnson Baptist Church of Warsaw, Miss Donna Marie Quinn and James Thomas Dickson II exchanged their wedding vows. The Reverend Kenneth Durham, pastor of the bride, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse J. Quinn of Warsaw. Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas Dickson of Mount Olive are the parents of the groom.

A program of pre-nuptial music was rendered by John Wright Boyette Jr., organist, and Mrs. John Bartlett, pianist, cousins of the bride. Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Tommy Phillips of Warsaw sang "One Hand, One Heart," by Sondheim-Berstein and "Through the Eyes of Love" by Sager-Hamlich. For the wedding benediction, she sang "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. The processional was "Trumpet Voluntary in D Major" by Purcell, and the bride made her entrance to the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" by Wagner. "The Wedding March" by Mendelssohn was used for the recessional.

The couple spoke their vows before an altar-setting centered with flowing palms flanked by two large stately arrangements of pastel summer flowers consisting of snaps, mums, carnations and gypsophila. Two fifteen-light spiral floor candelabrams and two nine-light cathedral candelabrams completed the regal setting. The couple knelt on the satin covered profile prie-dieu while "The Lord's Prayer" was sung.

Just prior to being seated, the mothers of the bridal couple lit tapers which were used in the unity candle ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by her father and presented in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a formal gown of white chiffon and lace. The fitted bodice featured a Victorian neckline with an illusion yoke outlined with pearl and lace appliques and long sleeves accented with matching appliques. The floor-length skirt flowed into a cathedral train and was trimmed with scalloped silk venise lace. Her camelot fingertip mantilla of bridal illusion with a blusher veil was trimmed with matching scalloped silk lace. The bride wore a string of pearls that are a family heirloom of the groom's family. She carried a simple Victorian cascade bouquet of white silk summer flowers with a touch of yellow accented with a white satin ribbon.

Attending as matron of honor was Mrs. Gerry Wallace of Newton Grove, a friend of the bride since childhood. Mrs. Wallace wore a formal length gown of turquoise linen designed with an open scooped neckline outlined in white silk venise lace. The gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice and short cap sleeves. A self-fabric rolled tie sash encircled the natural waistline from which fell the modified A-line skirt. She wore a string of pearls given to her by the bride. She carried a small hand-picked style bouquet of mixed summer silk flowers featuring yellow roses and tied with yellow lace streamers.

The bridesmaids were Miss Dwala Sutton of Warsaw, cousin of the bride; Miss Betsy Rogers of Fayetteville, college roommate of the bride; Mrs. Michael Watkins of Smithfield, and Mrs. George King Jr. of Wilson, both college friends of the bride. The gowns, necklaces and bouquets of the bridesmaids were identical to those of the matron of honor.

Honorary bridesmaids were Mrs. William Holt, Miss Cathrine Phillips and Miss Barbara Outlaw, all of Warsaw.

The groom chose his father as best man. Other groomsmen were Robbie Quinn of Warsaw, brother of the bride; Joseph Caviness of Mount Olive, Hain Ficken of Sleepy Creek and Dick Ray of Belhaven.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Quinn chose a formal-length gown of tina-crepe in misty rose with lace appliques on the shoulders and a peplum accented with a matching self-fabric tie belt. The mother of the groom was attired in a formal-length gown of lilac sheer chiffon over-dress with a boat neckline, puffed sleeves and a satin sash. Both mothers wore a matching all white silk gardenia corsage with white lace bows. Mrs. Jesse Kirby of Warsaw, grandmother of the bride, chose a street-length dress of aqua invisible polyester lace with a matching jacket. The groom's grandmother, Mrs. E.C. Casey of Mount Olive, was attired in a street-length dress of rose mauve of embroidered georgette with a V-neckline and open flared sleeves. Both grandmothers wore a corsage of yellow silk roses tied with yellow lace ribbons.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Edmondson attended the register in the vestibule of the church. Miss Janice Grice and Miss Mary Grice distributed bulletins. David Sutton, cousin of the bride, was keeper of the bell. The wedding was under the direction of Mrs. David Boney of Wallace.

The bride is a 1982 graduate of Campbell University with a B.S. in home economics. The groom is a graduate of East Carolina University and is employed by Southern Bank and Trust Company.

After a wedding trip to the beach, the couple will reside in Aurora.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony, the parents of the bride entertained the wedding party and wedding guests at a reception in the fellowship hall of the church.

The guests were greeted and presented to the parents of the bride and groom by Dr. and Mrs. J. Ray Kirby of Durham, aunt and uncle of the bride. The guests were then invited to the refreshment table by Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Sutton of Warsaw, aunt and uncle of the bride. The table was thrown with an Irish linen cloth accented with yellow bows on the corners and centered with a regal bouquet of pastel summer flowers featuring snaps, carnations, daisies and gypsophila accented on either side by four single candelabrams. The goodies consisted of chicken salad puffs, cheese straws, lady fingers, nuts, bridal mints, sandwich tray and a fresh fruit tray. The punch was served by Mrs. Doris Leonard, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Parham Nunn, friend of the groom's family. The four-tiered wedding cake, decorated with pale yellow rosettes and separated with white posts and topped with a miniature bride and groom that were used at her parents' wedding, was placed on an individual table covered with white linen and a lace overlay. After the bride and groom cut the first slice, the cake was served by Mrs. Eugene Outlaw, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Gene Outlaw, cousin of the bride.

As the good-byes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Griffin, aunt and uncle of the groom, attention was given to the bride's table thrown with an imported, handmade, embroidered linen and lace cloth with a yellow underlay holding the bridal portrait surrounded by the bride's and bridesmaids' bouquets.

Mrs. Katie Mae Kirby and Mrs. Martha Chappell helped with the serving at the reception.

The guests were entertained during the reception by John Wright Boyette Jr. and Mrs. John Bartlett, pianists, who presented a program of the couple's favorite songs. The piano was adorned with greenery and three yellow tapers.
