12th Annual Awards Banquet

"The calvary is not coming," said featured speaker Dr. Tom Haggai at the 12th annual employee awards banquet at Quinn Wholesale Co. in Warsaw.

Dr. Haggai is featured daily on WTRQ radio at 7:30 each morning on the program "Values for Better Living." He is a resident of High Point and travels nationwide and abroad speaking to groups such as General Motors and Mayflower Movers. He serves as chairman of the Independent Grocers Alliance (IGA) and is a member of the corporate boards of Super Foods, Inc., Myrtle Desk, and National Pre-Paid Legal Services, Inc.

Dr. Haggai said we grew up going to the Saturday matinee for a dime, watching the old cowboy movies, and no matter how bad things got, the Calvary would always come in the nick of time and save the wagon train. However, in this day and time, it is up to the individual person or team of persons to make things come out right. The calvary is not coming to bail us out. The management furnishes the buildings, the equipment and the merchandise, but the employees make the company. The efficiency and loyalty of the employees determines the salaries and how long the company remains a leader — or, for that fact, in business.

Quinn Company president Gerald Quinn told the employees the newest account Quinn has (Byrd Food Stores in Burlington) did this past week become the number one billing account in volume — a direct result of the employees' efforts.

"The years of 1980 and '81 were years of preparation to move forward, and as a result of that preparation in perishables, produce and milk, we have received rewards in the new overseas account and the Byrd Stores," Quinn said.

dred ($500) and six hundred ($600) respectively.

Due to lack of funds, I was unable to continue on at Davidson and I accepted a position teaching school. In 1932-33 I was living and teaching at Outlaw's Bridge in Albertson Township in Duplin County. My salary was $85 per month and I had to wait for my pay the last two months of the year. We took script in lieu of money, which was a promise by the county to pay later. We finally had to trade in our script for 50% of its value at a clothing store in Wilmington. Two or three years later the store collected from the state of North Carolina.

I did not own a car because the school term was only six months, and at $85 per month, I was not financially able to do so. My daddy however, had owned several cars throughout the years. I remember a Reo touring car, which was replaced by a Maxwell touring car, and then he had a Star touring car. Our neighbor, Lonnie Smith, had a Franklin car and it had an air-cooled engine. It also had double springs on the axles and that made for easy riding. All of the above-mentioned cars had a cloth top and side curtains. Aunt Barbara Lawson, who lived on the other side of our farm, owned a Hudson Super 6 touring car.

I finally returned to college and graduated from Duke in 1936. I came back to Pink Hill in 1971 and married my old classmate, Pattie May. I love Pink Hill and the surrounding area and can think of no other spot where I'd rather retire.

Smith To Do Internship In Governor's Office

Reginald K. Smith, who will graduate from North Carolina Central University with honors on May 16, will work this summer in the office of the Governor under an internship arranged through the Institute of Government in Chapel Hill.

Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rayford Smith of Route 1, Kenansville, is a public administration major at NCCU. He will begin work on May 19th and will work under the supervision of Ben Ruffin, an NCCU alumnus who is special assistant to Governor Hunt.

Smith will complete his internship on July 30. He has been admitted to the University of Delaware's college of urban affairs and public policy, and plans to work toward a master of public administration degree.

During his study at NCCU, Smith has worked two summers with the Summer Youth Employment Program in Duplin County as the program assistant in charge of the program under the agency director. He has also worked as a Public Health analyst trainee with the Bureau of Community Health Services of the S.S. Department of Health and Human Services. This year he has been a technical student intern with Systems Research and Development Corporation in N.C. Research Triangle Park.

He has been active in student government at NCCU for four years, serving this year as a member of the student-trustee relations committee and the commencement planning committee. He has been president and vice-president of NCCU's public administration program, and is a member of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity.

Memories Of Remus Smith

[as told to Willbur Tyndall]

I graduated from Pink Hill High School in 1918. There were only three others in the graduating class besides me — Alton Tyndall, Richard Noble and Pat tie Mae Smith. After graduating from high school, I attended Davidson College for three years. The total cost of my first year at Davidson was four hundred dollars ($400) and the next two years cost me five hun-

"I've always believed that hard work was the most important part of success. It's hard work that turns failure into success. And that's what I want to do for my Duplin and Jones County neighbors. I want to work hard for you in the North Carolina House of Representatives.

"I'm not a politician. I've never even run for office before. But right now, politics is too important to leave to the politicians. Bad decisions by the Legislature...ones that hurt Duplin and Jones County farmers...hurt me too. Because I make my living here on the farm just like you do.

"I'm only going to promise you one thing...to represent you the only way I know how...with hard work."
