

Along the Way

By Emily Killeto

A group of more than 100 children and adults sat spellbound at the Kenansville spring across from the Duplin courthouse Sunday afternoon during 90 degree temperatures as they watched Golliwoppers! No, it is not a golliwopping tale — it is a musical play presented by the cast of THE LIBERTY CART for children. "The idea for 'Golliwoppers' came when David Thomas, artistic director and choreographer of THE LIBERTY CART and GODSPELL) suggested we do something for children," said Kerry Maher, director of GOLLIWOPPERS. Maher had directed a similar production of GOLLIWOPPERS while working at Rockingham Community College as a visiting artist. "We (RCC) presented a production of GOLLIWOPPERS and took it around to some of the public school classes in Rockingham County."

took its place in the sky and how honest people are rewarded for their labors. Admission is $1 and the Duplin County Arts Council will quench your thirst after the performance with lemonade and cookies!

Players in the cast include Paul Baker, Joey Chavez, Dwight Eastwood, Lamar Frasier, Karen Griffin, Jack Ireland, Duayne Maynard, Robin Stanley, Monica Woods, and Tony Yarborough with Beth McGee on the guitar and Tom Newman on the recorder. Janice Adams and Jeff Fender assisted with costume design. Brian Hoxie with musical direction, and Danette Naive with props.

KENANSVILLE TEAM PROUD, IF NOT VICTORIOUS — The Kenansville All-Stars gave a big cheer for themselves following the championship game of the Dixie Youth Baseball Tournament Thursday night. Although they were eliminated in the second round of play, watching the Elizabethtown team take the big trophy, they were proud of the award they received. The Danny Jones Sportsmanship Award. The All-Stars appear with their coaches Conrad Jenkins, Mike Outlaw and Herman Jones.

Golliwoppers are tall tales which we all have been guilty of telling at some time in our lives. And, the GOLLIWOPPERS production includes just that — four very tall tales! Many people can remember some golliwoppers told to them by their grandparents who probably learned those tales as children before every home became equipped with a television and radio.

GOLLIWOPPERS as presented by THE LIBERTY CART cast draws from a variety of tall tales and includes a pioneer tale, Indian legend, a swamp fable and a mountain ballad. The original GOLLIWOPPERS is a play for children written by Flora Atkin. The entire play was written to expose children to the art of storytelling and acquaint them with some of America's famous folklore.

"We opened last Sunday (August 1) to about 120 people," Maher said.

There have been three productions of GOLLIWOPPERS planned; this Sunday is the second performance. GOLLIWOPPERS is presented each Sunday at 3 p.m. on the grounds surrounding the Kenansville spring across from the courthouse. Next Sunday, August 15, is the last GOLLIWOPPERS performance of this summer. Treat your children to an hour of laughter and smiles and take them to meet "Big Jessie Fehold Ebenezer Chopalong" and "The Knee-High Man." Also, the children will learn how the sun

Update

The Duplin County Public School system has completed the update of "year three" of its three-year federal project to benefit handicapped children. Funds will be used to directly serve approximately 200 handicapped school-age children plus provide indirect services to all of the nearly 1,300 handicapped children.

Because public participation is desired, a copy of the project is available for review in the office of the director of programs, Duplin County Board of Education in Kenansville.
