Medical Center Picks Up Steam

Volunteer fund raisers for the Pink Hill Medical Center Inc. learned Tuesday night that their goal of $30,000 is within sight. W.E. Brewer, co-chairman of the campaign, told 75 people attending a report session at the Pink Hill United Methodist Church, "I can safely say we are over the hump. We have raised $19,377, just over 50% of our goal." Co-chairman Wilbur Tyndall praised his workers for their diligent efforts. "To have raised this much during a busy holiday season indicates that our dream for a full-time family physician for Pink Hill is becoming a reality."

The committee pledged to push further to complete the drive within the next two weeks.

General Chairman T. J. Turner praised the workers for their efforts and noted that a "positive attitude is essential for what we are doing. We have to tell ourselves constantly that we are going to succeed. Attitude makes all the difference, and I am excited by the attitude that the Pink Hill area families are showing."

Brewer stressed that the participation from donors within a ten-mile radius of Pink Hill has been "generous, but there are still people out there to be contacted. In order to receive our five-to-one grant from the North Carolina Department of Rural Health, we must have contributions from a minimum of 750 families. To date 650 families have made their contributions."

Brewer and Tyndall praised the efforts of campaign captains Jerry Stroud, Jeff Turner, Cletis Jones, Fred Chitty, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Rouse, Tom Yates, Carl Kornegay Jr. and Mrs. Edith Wiley.

"The time to give is now," added Tyndall. "We have a doctor who has agreed to serve, we have the land, a building committee, and a board of directors. We have a dedicated organization and all we need now is an additional $10,600 to ensure quality medical care for every person in this part of the county."

Persons who have not yet donated but wish to do so, or persons interested in assisting with the drive, are urged to call Secretary Carol Sykes at 568-3181.
