CBA Summer Project

The Duplin County Arts Council announces cooperation with the Duplin County Community-based Alternatives Task Force in the formation of a special summer Arts Cart for specially invited students. The county commissioners have approved this program which began July 11. The program is designed to provide meaningful and positive summer creative experiences in art disciplines. The new program will consist of two teachers, a supervisor, and volunteers as needed, and approximately 15 children at each of the two sites. The responsibility of selection of students has been that of the CBA directors, local principals and teachers and other individuals working with Duplin youth.

This year's program will encompass two geographic areas which have been determined by the CBA project director. The sites to be used will be the area schools of Warsaw Elementary and Rose Hill-Magnolia Elementary.

Home or neighborhood pick-up and transportation to and from the sites will be a part of the program. The eight sessions (four at each site, will be of 2-3 hour durations each. Travel time is non-inclusive. The dates at Warsaw will be July 11, 18, 25 and August 1, and the dates at Rose Hill-Magnolia will be July 12, 19, 26 and August 2.

The primary focus will be to involve the groups in four activities which will incorporate various art forms and media: 1) individual expressions to build positive self-concept to achieve unique recognition. Art disciplines and topics to be considered as experiences will include "The Mad Sculptor: clay, objects, food." 2) Paired experiences - to work directly with a partner and promote positive peer relationships. Art disciplines and topics to be considered as experiences - "The Wild & The Woolly: Cartooning, Masks and Costumes." "Inside Bubbles: Painting within a Wind Tunnel" 3) Whole group experiences - to involve the entire group in decision-making, working and observing each other. Art disciplines and topics to be considered as experiences - "Cosmic Objects: Creating Space Monsters Together." "Painting the Walls: Making a Mural" 4) Visiting Artist experience - to have a positive role model and highly skilled musician to visit, perform, use seven different instruments, explore many types of music and make music together. Community-based Alternatives is a program which began in 1975 with the General Assembly's passage of an act providing for various means of involving and working with youth in their own environments but with alternate activities and challenges to stimulate their growth. The local CBA task force chairperson is Jim Flowers from the county schools. The summer project director is Merle Creech, Duplin County Arts Council and the two teachers are Sarah Farrior of Wallace and Darrell Washington of Kenansville.

Kevin Delaney To Perform In Duplin County

The Duplin County Arts Council will sponsor Kevin Delaney in various locations in Duplin County during the week of July 17. He will appear at the following:

Sunday, July 17, 6:30 p.m., Warsaw United Methodist Church for a "picnic, pickin' and strummin'."

Monday, July 18, 9-12 noon, Community Based Alternative Group, Warsaw Elementary School

Monday, July 18 - 1-2 p.m., Storytime, Rose Hill Library

Monday, July 18 6-7:30 p.m., N.C. Prison at Kenansville

Tuesday, July 18 - 9-12 noon, Community Based Alternative Group, Rose Hill-Magnolia Elementary, 4:30 - 5:30 p.m., Extended Day School, Kenansville. 7:30 - 8:30 p.m., public concert, Rose Hill Library - no charge. Wednesday, July 19 - 9:30 - 10:30 a.m., N. Duplin Migrant Program, Faison.

Delaney has been nicknamed the "American Son" and this has given him the name for his album. He grew up in Northern Virginia but has spent most of his last 16 years in North Carolina and the South. His early interest in different kinds of music led him to become a singer and performer and an accomplished musician on the guitar, fiddle, banjo, auto-harp, concertina and dulcimer. He learned most of his music from his travels and direct contact with many musicians and performers throughout the U.S. and the British Isles. This has given him insight into and appreciation of the many American music styles.

Delaney was in the N.C. visiting artist program for four years, where he performed over 500 times for 5,000 people. Here he learned to play for every type of group in every imaginable situation including schools, arts, councils, civic clubs, churches, nursing homes, hospitals, business and industry, and numerous appearances on regional radio and television. He has also played in many other areas of the country and abroad including New York, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., Ireland and Mexico.

Kevin enjoys his work and tries to incorporate the needs of his audience to his presentation. Every song or tune is explained so as to bring out the character and history of that particular piece. Years of experience have given his performances an educational, entertaining, informal and warm air.

GODSPELL

GODSPELL is an exciting rock musical, based on the gospel according to St. Matthew. It was one of the longest running off Broadway productions ever produced. It is widely accepted by the general public, and the clergy of all denominations as both a moving religious experience, and good musical entertainment. During the 1982 season, GODSPELL was introduced by Duplin outdoor Drama Society as an alternate show to its popular premier attraction, THE LIBERTY CART, playing only on five Wednesday evenings during the latter part of the season.

GODSPELL was an overwhelming success, receiving lengthy standing ovations each evening. It was widely acclaimed by all of the area press, and by the general public, as evidenced by the outstanding attendance the show enjoyed during its entire run. Join us during our 1983 season for an exciting performance of GODSPELL.

GODSPELL plays each Wednesday and Friday evening, opening on July 20th, through August 19, at 8:15 p.m. each evening. It is performed by the professional cast of THE LIBERTY CART, in William R. Kenan Memorial Amphitheatre in Kenansville, and features a live rock orchestra. For more information, contact us at (919) 296-0721, or write GODSPELL, P.O. Box 470, Kenansville, NC. 28349. Group rates are available.
