Pink Hill Library Opens Recently

The Pink Hill Library recently opened in its new location on Broadway St.

A summer reading program has just been completed with youngsters ranging in number from seven to 29. The 400th anniversary of North Carolina was the topic of study.

Beginning the first Wednesday in August a full length movie will be offered once a month. The August one will be a Walt Disney movie, Alice in Wonderland.

The library is open on Mondays from 1 til 9 p.m. Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays from 10 until 6, Saturday from 10 until 5 and closed on Sunday.

Teenagers are encouraged to come by the library for research material. If it should not be available on the shelf, it can be obtained from the Kinston library in a minimum length of time.

Sabra Waller serves the librarian. She is a native of the Woodington area and is married to Phil Waller. The Wallers have two children, Sabrina and Stephen and two favorite pets, a cat "Jots" and a dog "Pepper."

Mrs. Waller is very proud of the support Pink Hill has given the library. According to her some 900 people visited the new facility in July.

The Pink Hill Branch Library is a combined effort of the Lenoir County Board of Commissioners, the town of Pink Hill and interested Pink Hill citizens.

The Lenoir County Board of Commissioners allocated an $8,000 grant to the town of Pink Hill for the purchase of the building and the town contributed $2,000.

The house was renovated by J.J. Turner and will be known as the Etta Jones Turner Memorial Library.

Deep Run FWB Woman Of The Year

Each year the Deep Run FWB Church auxiliary elects a lady to be the woman of the year. She is a person that has contributed a lot of time and self to her church, community, and fellow man.

Pam Braxton

We have honored our woman of the year for this year. She is Pam Braxton. The flowers were placed in the church Sunday in honor of Pam by the auxiliary.

A person's life speaks for itself and there is no way you could ever name over the different things that they have done that are mentionable, whether big or small. Sometimes the little things that are done mean more to us or somebody for whom they are done than several big things. A Christian does not do things for praise. They do not want or expect praise, they do it for the love of God and their fellow man.

But we do want to mention a few things about Pam, for we are proud of her and her work here in our church and community.

Pam is the daughter of Arlene and Harold Hardison. She is married to Johnny Braxton and they one son, John.

Pam has been in our church all her life, so she is known by all of us. Her parents and both sides of her grandparents were and still are active and have contributed a lot to our church also.

Pam graduated from Deep Run High School and went on to continue her education at Salem College in Winston Salem. She graduated from Salem in 1971 with a degree in English. She worked at Salem for one year, and then she worked about 1 1/2 years at our own college in Mt. Olive. She worked in admissions at both schools.

She then came back home to teach at South Lenoir High School. But this wasn't enough for Pam, she wanted her Masters Degree, so she taught school and went to school at East Carolina. She received her Masters from East Carolina in Greenville.

Pam as I said before has been in our church all her life, but for the past few years she has been a lot more active. She is now president of our Woman's Auxiliary. She is also our church clerk. She and Johnny have a Sunday school class together and they both sing in our church choir. Pam plays the organ also. We are lucky to have several musicians in our church so they share the organ by Sundays. She also fills in on the piano sometimes.

The following is a poem written by Pam Braxton that was read as a special dedication to her.

An Evening Prayer

Dear God, as this day draws to a close, As the gentle breeze tosses the delicate rose, Help me to see in everything, everywhere, Your message you've written with such care. Help me to love my fellow man. Give me the desire to lend a helping hand. From doubt and suspicion lead me today. From thy way don't let me stray.

In this yellow and gold and fading blue, Help me to see what you'd have me do. In others help me to see the good; Help me to do just what I should.

And now as the sun sinks slowly down, I pray that you will make our lives abound with joy, and keep us always in thy care, For we'll be never wanting there.

Written by Pam Braxton-1964

Pink Hill School Renovations

Renovations have recently been made at the Pink Hill School auditorium. Ceiling fans have been purchased by area citizens and installed by the county. New paint and a new stage curtain add to the beauty of the project. Removed from the state area was an old stage backdrop. The 17 ft. by 9 ft. backdrop held some 30 advertisements that were printed on a canvas-like material and was rolled down between acts of a play at the school. It was painted by a Tommie Williamson around 1946-47. After the renovation project, the backdrop was placed in the Wilbur A. Tyndall Museum in Pink Hill by permission from the Lenoir County Board of Education. Anyone with information concerning the painter, cost of the ads, or information in general, is asked to call Lynda Stroud at 568-3562 or Wilbur A. Tyndall at 568-3261.
