

Hedrick-Seymour Exchange Vows

Tracey Denise Seymour, daughter of Mrs. Linwood J. Francis and Alpheus T. Seymour, III, of Apex, were married at a 6:00 p.m. ceremony on February 2 to Lonnie Dale Hedrick, Jr. Mr. Hedrick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Dale Hedrick, Sr. of Warsaw.

Vows were spoken in the Apex Baptist Church with the Rev. O. Phillip Qualls, pastor of the church and Rev. Jimmy Creech of Warsaw, pastor of the groom, officiating. The altar was decorated with spiral candelabras, unity candle, kneeling bench and ferns. A mixed arrangement graced the vestibule.

The bride, who was escorted by her father, chose a wedding dress of white messaline satin and schiffli embroidery. The gown featured a high neckline with a schiffli embroidered crown collar. The sheer net yoke was accented by a ruffle over the shoulders which extended down the front. Full bishop sleeves were cuffed with matching embroidery. Accented with lace, the raised waistline extended into an A-line skirt and chapel train, trimmed by a wide embroidered border. The bride wore a small picture hat accented with embroidery and pearls, featuring a fingertip illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, miniature carnations, stephanotis, baby's breath and satin streamers.

Kim Annas of Raleigh was maid of honor. She wore a lavender, formal off-the-shoulder taffeta gown accented with embroidery. Attendants were Claudine Hedrick, sister of the groom, of Warsaw and Shannon Honea of Cary. Their huckleberry taffeta gowns were designed identical to that of the honor attendant. Lavender pompons, pink roses and baby's breath were used to fashion the bouquets of the attendants.

Angela Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mills of Apex and cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Her dress of candlelight white was accented with lavender bows and she carried a white basket filled with pink rose petals.

Lonnie Hedrick, Sr., father of the groom, served as best man. Ushers included Joe Jones of Chapel Hill and Warsaw and Greg Hedrick, brother of the groom, of Raleigh and Warsaw.

Elizabeth Rhew of Cary rendered wedding solos, accompanied by Mrs. Glenn Farrell, organist, of Apex.

The bride's mother chose a formal gown of mauve chiffon and the groom's mother chose a formal gown of raspberry chiffon. Their corsages of pink rosebuds and baby's breath compliment their gowns.

The bride was graduated from Apex Senior High School in 1983. Her mother is employed by United Federal Bank of Cary. Her father is a veteran member of the town of Apex police department. Mrs. Hedrick is the granddaughter of Mrs. Cleve Sanders of Clayton and Mrs. A.T. Seymour, Jr. of Apex.

The bridegroom, who was graduated from James Kenan High School in Warsaw, attended North Carolina State University. His father is the divisional administrative manager at National Spinning Co., Inc.

The bridegroom's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Tughman Miller of Northhampton, PA, and Beatrice Hedrick of Lexington.

A reception, hosted by the parents of the bride, followed the ceremony at the C. C. Jones Memorial Park in Apex. White and pink flowers and candles accented the reception table. Greetings and good-byes were extended to well wishers by Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Reep, of Lincolnton. Presiding over the guest book was Anne Seymour, aunt of the bride, of Raleigh.

Following the reception, the bridal couple left for a honeymoon and upon return, will reside in Knightdale.

Out-of-town guests included: J. J. Poyner, great-uncle of the bride of Virginia Beach, VA.

Parents of the groom hosted an after-rehearsal dinner for the wedding party and friends at the Beef Barn in Cary on Friday, February 1.

Kinston Holds N.C. Hemisphere Pageant

A preliminary to the Miss North Carolina Hemisphere pageant will be held in Kinston March 9 at Northwest School.
