Pink Hill Young In Heart Club Officers

The Pink Hill Young In Heart Club meets every 4th Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Pink Hill Presbyterian Church. If weather permits, an income tax representative will be the speaker for the Feb. 27 meeting. New members are encouraged. Pictured are outgoing officers for 1984, Tom Davis, president, Lottie Noble, vice president; Gladys Howard, secretary and Essie Edwards, treasurer. Incoming for 1985 are President Virginia Lester, Vice-President Eloise Jones, Secretary Pauline Heath, and Treasurer Essie Edwards.

Crime Of The Week

Kinston police officers are investigating a break-in at the residence of Raymond Gurganus Jr. of 1000 W. Lenoir Ave., Apt. 3, which occurred Feb. 10. According to police reports, the thief or thieves entered the residence through the rear door. Items reported missing were a Remington 30-06, Model 700 rifle with a Lastco scope; a Remington 22 cal.-automatic rifle and a Belgium single shot 20-gauge shotgun. Total value of the items taken was $1,230. Lenoir County Crime Stoppers, Inc. will pay up to $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and indictment of the thief or thieves. Anyone having information is asked to call Crime Stoppers, 523-4444 weekdays from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Callers need not give their names as all callers remain anonymous.

Golden To Perform At Rotary Ladies Night

Valentines and love — all will be the music of John Golden on Feb. 21 as he presents the program for the Warsaw-Kenansville Rotary Club ladies night. John Golden will be playing his guitar as the evening's entertainment.

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. at the Country Squire's Jester's Court. John Golden composes many of his songs. Golden said he first got interested in composing "about two or three years ago." His first public effort was Appalachian Sunrise, a song he wrote especially for a Thalian Hall concert in 1982.

In addition to his own music, his songs range from Hoagy Carmichael to Dan Fogelberg, together with folk standards like Rocky Top and Cold

Vegetable Growers Meeting Feb. 25

The North Carolina Fresh Vegetable Growers Association is holding their annual membership meeting on Monday night, Feb. 25. The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. at Daniel Barefoot's Sweet Potato Warehouse, located just northwest of Newton Grove on N.C. Highway 50.

The evening events will include a pig picking at no cost, election of the board of directors, and a guest speaker. The speaker will be local produce broker Murray Crawford, who will talk on "Trends in Vegetable Marketing."

Everyone is invited to attend. New membership costs only $5.50 per year. If you need any further information or a ride to the event, contact Phil Denlinger, Duplin County assistant agricultural extension agent at 296-1996.

Ask The Doctors Lecture Series

The second forum in this season's "Ask the Doctors" lecture series will be "Diabetes — Living With The Disease."

Dr. Christopher Bremer and Dr. Rose Pully will discuss diabetes as to its definition, warning signs and current treatment.

The lecture/question-and-answer program will be held at the Kinston

Lenoir County Public Library on Feb. 27 at 7:30 p.m.

Everyone interested is encouraged to come to the free public forum.

Ask the Doctors lecture series is sponsored by the Lenoir-Greene Medical Society and the Lenoir County Chamber of Commerce. The first forum on breast cancer drew a large crowd with many questions.

The purpose of the series is to encourage patient responsibility for his own health through information and preventive measures and thus help control the cost of health care.

The remaining topics and dates are: Diabetes — living with the Disease, Feb. 27; Kidney Stones - New Technology, March 27; and Spring and Summer Maladies, April 24.

All lectures are at 7:30 p.m. at the public library and free to the public. Lenoir County physicians will give plain English lectures on each topic and respond to questions submitted by the audience. For more information, call Annette T. West, health affairs chairman, Lenoir County Chamber of Commerce, 523-8573 or 527-1131.

State Tax Refunds Are Not Always Taxable

By Larry King, H&R Block, manager

Many taxpayers received a form 1099-G in the mail from the N.C. Tax Commission. This form shows the amount of your 1984 State tax refund, and a copy of the form has been sent to the Internal Revenue Service.

Many people don't understand this form and think it means that they must show the state tax refund amount as income on their 1984 income tax returns. On some tax returns this amount is taxable on your Federal return, but it is never taxed as income on your state income tax returns.

In some situations, it is not taxable on your Federal returns. For example, if you did not itemize your deductions on your 1983 Federal tax returns, this State tax refund is not taxable income. This also means that if you used the 1040-A form or the 1040-EZ form in 1983, the State refund is not taxable. Another example is as follows: If you itemized your deductions on your 1983

Federal return, you will need to show as income, the smaller of (1) the amount of the refund, or (2) the excess itemized deductions over your zero bracket amount (line 28 of your 1983 schedule A).

For more information, contact your local H&R Block office or a qualified tax preparer.

Duplin County Arts Council Fund Drive Update

Duplin County schools are completing their fund drives for the 1985 Duplin County Arts Council fund drive. Although totals are not completely determined, the competition throughout the school system for collecting the most money per person has been keen in most areas.

"We are so happy and grateful for the responses we have seen," reports Merle Creech, executive director. "There seems to be a more widespread effort throughout the school system rather than one or two schools competing with the high figures."

Contributions for the Arts Council are used for programming for the county's 17 schools and for other county groups and agencies. The position of executive director is a county government job and because this is true, fund-raising is solely for maintaining a program budget.

"Our programming has been good and strong," says Creech, "and because that is true people have been asking and wanting more. The only way to have more or even to maintain the present level of programming is to appeal to the public and to county businesses. We need the support of Duplin County people and we surely appreciate the cooperation of the schools and businesses."

Questions or contributions, call 296-1922 or send to Duplin County Arts Council, P.O. Box 36, Kenansville, NC 28349.

Maranatha Revival Begins Feb. 25

Revival at Maranatha Pentecostal Free Will Baptist Church, on NC 24, three miles east of Beulaville, begins Monday, Feb. 25 and goes thru March 1. The Reverend Ronnie Weaver is the evangelist. Services are at 7:30 p.m. nightly.

The Rev. Weaver is the pastor of Delco PFWB Church, a graduate of Heritage Bible College, and is a member of the Heritage Quartet. The Rev. Harold Turner and the congregation invite the public to attend.

Wylene Booth Hewitt

Wylene Booth Hewitt was awarded the Master of Science in nursing degree from East Carolina in December. She is currently employed Cape Fear Valley Medical Center in Fayetteville.

She is the wife of Dr. Joseph Hewitt and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley T. Booth of Kenansville, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Eva Hughes, and Mrs. J.H. Booth, also of Kenansville.

WOODLAND REVIVAL

The evangelist John Hobbs will be holding a revival at Woodland United Methodist Church located near B.F. Grady School on RPR 1500, near intersection with NC 11.

The services will begin on Sunday, Feb. 24 at the 11 a.m. worship and continue each night at 7 through Feb. 27. A nursery will be provided at each service.

John Hobbs serves as president of Maranatha Ministries Unlimited, located in Bethel. The theme of the ministry is "Jesus Is Lord and Savior to All Men."
