

Tar Heel Fine Arts Society Announces 1985-86 Concert Series

The Tar Heel Fine Arts Society has selected four outstanding attractions for the 1985-86 season. They are the Chinese Golden Dragon Acrobats and Magicians of Taipei, The Steel Bandits, the Burlington Boys Choir, and the Mantovani Orchestra and Thomas Booth.

A membership campaign is now underway to support these fine concerts. Further information and season tickets may be obtained from any member of the Tar Heel Fine Arts Society Board of Directors.

Burlington Boys Choir

The Burlington Boys Choir is the oldest organization of its kind in North Carolina to have been continuously sustained in training and performance. Forty boys between the ages of eight and 14 comprise this choir and come from 15 schools in Burlington and Alamance County. Membership in the choir, which was founded in 1959 by Eva Wiseman who still directs, is warranted because of exceptional singing voices, high personal academic standards, musical ability and conscientious application to the choice training program. The Burlington Boys Choir will be the April 26, 1986 presentation of the up-coming Duplin County Fine Arts Society season.

Golden Dragon Acrobats And Magicians

The widely recognized Chang family has been considered the very best in all of China for their Chinese variety entertainments. Such feats as ring of fire and swords, pagoda of chairs, precision juggling, the dancing lions and others are performed with the skill and precision that have been popular for over 2,000 years. The Duplin County Fine Arts Society presents the Chinese Golden Dragon Acrobats and Magicians of Taipei as the October 29 entertainment in the up-coming season.

Mantovani Orchestra And Thomas Booth

Where does the magic of Mantovani come from today? What is it that still brings applauding audiences to their feet? Simply--the music. The orchestra, polished and skilled, performs brilliantly a program to remind us lovingly of all our yesterdays. Combine this with the magical voice of Thomas Booth and you have a winning combination. In addition to touring with the Mantovani Orchestra, Thomas Booth is performing with the Metropolitan Opera and the Lyric Opera of Chicago. He has most recently appeared in the Boston Concert Opera production of NORMA, singing the role of Pollione. Look for the Mantovani Orchestra and Thomas Booth, May 19, 1986 as part of the up-coming season planned by the Duplin County Fine Arts Society.

Steel Bandits

The Steel Bandits are six very talented brothers and sisters--each possessing a unique and infectious style. Their instruments--handcrafted from 55 gallon oil drums--are unique. Their music is versatile--ranging from the sounds of West Indian Calypso tunes to classical pieces to beautiful popular songs. And their show is sensational! The Steel Bandits will perform January 27 in the up-coming Duplin County Fine Arts Society season.
