

The Fear of Being Thought "Queer."

The fear of being thought peculiar prevents a great many people from reaching the limit of their possibilities. These people can endure unmerited blame, and even calumny, with fortitude. They are patient under great trials, and are not afraid to face difficulties, noble in many ways, and weak, perhaps, only in this one point. Fear of ridicule, of being thought different from other people, appears to be the one vulnerable spot in their armor. They seem unable to rid themselves of the idea that they excite comment everywhere because of their supposed peculiarities.

Nine times out of ten, this "queerness" is a disease of the imagination, and has no real existence. The victim of such a morbid condition of mind must be his own physician. The veriest tyro in the world's ways must know that men and women are too busy with their own affairs, too much occupied with selfish cares, to think much about him, whether he is like or unlike other people of his acquaintance. Rest assured they are not watching you or analyzing your words and movements. Be your natural self as far as you can, and do not trouble yourself about what others think or say of you. Do what you think to be right, and give yourself no concern as to what others think of your words or actions, and you will find that your "queerness" will soon fall away from you.—Success.

A Grim Tragedy

is daily enacted, in thousands of homes, as Death claims, in each one, another victim of Consumption or Pneumonia. But when Coughs and Colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. G. Huntley, of Oaklandon, Ind., writes: "My wife had the consumption, and three doctors gave her up. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which cured her, and today she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. Guaranteed at 50c. and $1.00 by all druggists. Trial bottle free.

The Best is the Cheapest.

Mr. R. L. Green has received the following high endorsement of the New Home Sewing Machine, which he handles, and the lasting qualities go to prove that those who buy a New Home get good value for their money:

Dix Hill,
State Hospital,

James McKee, M. D., Supt.,
Raleigh, N. C., April 29, 1904.

Sewing Machine and Supply Store,
206 South Wilmington Street,
Raleigh, N. C.

Gentlemen:—In reply to advertisement for one having the "oldest machine in continual use" will give you information in regard to mine. Dr. McKee purchased my machine, which is a New Home, No. 607200, of J. L. Stone, agent, in October, 1876. The machine has been in continual use, and I let the seamstress of this institution, where all the clothing for over four hundred patients are made, have the use of my machine (because it worked so nicely) one year. My machine is now in fine condition, and an agent who inspected it not long ago, thinking he could exchange a new machine for mine, said the construction and material of my machine was so far superior to many machines made now, that he would not, if he owned it, exchange for a new one—in other words, that my machine was now a good one.

Very respectfully,
MRS. JAMES McKEE.

The Southern Railway will build a fine new passenger station at High Point.
