

Local Matters

The Raleigh banks are closed today on account of Lee's birthday.

"Winsome Winnie" pleased the audience at the Academy Monday night.

King's Business College is still getting students. Four new ones were registered in one day since our last issue.

Mr. B. F. Scarboro, one of the best citizens and farmers in Lenoir County, attended the cotton meeting last week.

The Raleigh Savings Bank has over $630,000 on deposit, and has paid about $20,000 in interest during the past year.

Mr. W. M. Utley, a veteran printer and newspaper man, has been appointed night watchman at the Governor's mansion.

We regret to learn that Mr. Graham Haywood has been indisposed for some days. His friends will be glad to learn that he will soon be out.

The Raleigh Construction Company has been chartered to take over the construction, wiring and other work in that line of the Raleigh Electric Company.

We regret to announce that the little son of Mr. E. B. Nelson broke his arm last Thursday. He fell from a chair. The limb was set and the little fellow is getting on nicely.

Mr. C. C. McLelland asks us to say that he is from Cumberland instead of Harnett County. He gets his mail on a rural route from Dunn, however, hence the error.

Mr. M. N. Andrews has been appointed receiver for the Park Region Hail Insurance Company, which desires to wind up its business in this State, it having never been profitable here.

"Magda," with Miss Edith Kennedy in the leading role appeared at the Academy Friday night. While not a play to catch the general public, the acting was of a kind that is rarely surpassed.

The Southern Express Company has established a regular express service on the Cape Fear and Northern from Apex to Dunn, which will be quite a convenience to the people along that progressive railroad.

Messrs. J. P. Hayes and Col. F. A. Olds gave the legislators a stereoptican show and phonograph recital at the Capitol Tuesday night, which was thoroughly enjoyed. No charge was made, which goes to show that Messrs. Hayes and Olds are liberal with the strangers within the gates.

Mr. H. H. Brimley, curator of the State Museum and commissioner general in charge of the North Carolina exhibits at the St. Louis Exposition, returned Saturday from St. Louis, having gotten all the material and other properties connected with the North Carolina exhibit packed up and ready for transportation by the railroads back to Raleigh.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Melrose Knitting Mill was held last Thursday at noon. The directors chosen were J. S. Wynne, F. T. Ward, A. A. Thompson, C. J. Hunter, C. B. Park, J. W. Hardin, Jr., and V. B. Moore. The officers elected were V. B. Moore, president and treasurer, and J. S. Wynne, vice-president and secretary.

Great Bargains.

A new line of candies, dry goods and towells have been received at Kirby & Co.'s great 5 and 10 cent store in this city, and customers can secure unusual bargains in the next few days. A little money buys a great deal at that store.

$1.30 for $1.00.

See our great seed premium offer by which you get $1.30 for $1.00. Take advantage of it quickly.

Beautiful Window.

Mr. F. W. Burckhalter, salesman for Royal Cuticle Soap, has constructed a fac-simile of the Government Building at St. Louis World's Fair entirely of soap, and 4,000 bars were used. It can be seen in the window at the store of Messrs. Dobbin & Ferrall.

A Beautiful Building.

Mr. M. A. Moser, contractor, has about completed the Faircloth building at the Baptist University for Women. It will cost with heating plant, nearly $30,000, and is a most attractive building. It contains class rooms, society hall and dormitories.

New Firm.

Mr. M. N. Andrews and Mr. A. L. Detwiler, have formed a copartnership to conduct the sale of Simpson's computing scale and other useful devices for merchants. They have North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. Mr. Detwiler will have general charge of the fifteen salesmen on the road and Mr. Andrews will manage the office in this city. We wish them much success.

Mr. Berwanger's Sale.

Mr. Sam Berwanger announces his semi-annual clearance sale in this issue of the Enterprise. Most of our readers are probably familiar with these sales and they know that it is a good time to make purchases. Mr. Berwanger always sells as he advertises. A good quality of goods at a discount price and a dollar will purchase all that he says it will. If you take advantage of this sale you will not be disappointed. It will pay out of town people to visit Mr. Berwanger's store at any time, but especially well while this sale is going on.

A Business Puller.

Don't fail to read the large advertisement in this issue by Mr. J. P. Hayes, photographer and agent for Edison's phonographs and records.

Mr. Hayes started in business here a few years ago in a very modest way. Good work, good goods, an engaging personality and a liberal use of printers' ink has placed him in the front ranks. He does not hide his light under a bushel, but tells the public that he is here, what he can do, and what he sells. He is a business puller. He pulls, and if it doesn't come he goes after it.

A Lively Chase.

Tuesday afternoon Constable Pope arrested John Ray, a negro engine greaser working at Johnston Street station, on the charge of breaking into the residence of Mr. Stark S. Batchelor some time last summer. Mr. Batchelor was with Constable Pope when he escorted the negro to the city prison. And just as they reached the door leading down to the prison Ray jerked away and ran as hard as ever he could up Fayetteville Street to Hargett where he was recaptured. When the constable caught him again he carried him to the county jail, where he will await trial.

Officers Wake Water Company.

The stockholders of the Wake Water Company held their annual meeting at the office of the company at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The following directors were elected for the ensuing year: Julius Lewis, Chas. M. Busbee, F. H. Briggs, G. B. Cowper and H. E. Litchford. The directors met afterwards and elected the following officers: Julius Lewis, president; H. E. Litchford, vice-president; E. B. Bain, superintendent; T. H. Briggs, treasurer; Geo. W. Thompson, auditor; Ernest Haywood, attorney. Finance committee, C. M. Busbee, B. G. Cowper and Wm. J. Andrews.

The annual reports showed that during the last year extensive improvements and additions have been made, and the plant is now unexcelled in the United States. Regular monthly examinations are made of the water to see that it is pure and meets all requirements.

Sickening Shivering Fits

of Ague and Malaria, can be relieved and cured with Electric Bitters. This is a pure, tonic medicine; of especial benefit in malaria, for it exerts a true curative influence on the disease, driving it entirely out of the system. It is much to be preferred to Quinine, having none of this drug's bad after effects. E. S. Munday, of Henrietta, Texas, writes: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice, till he took Electric Bitters, which saved his life. At all druggists; price 50c., guaranteed.
