The Only Thing They Use.

Virginia, as everybody knows, is a State of wonderful and diversified agricultural wealth, but there are portions of it where the farms appear to be composed chiefly of rock, and the thin top-dressing of soil requires frequent treatment with fertilizers in order to produce any kind of crop.

As the result of a trade, a man from Ohio came into possession of a store in a small town in one of the rockiest of these sections. His first proceeding was to take an inventory of the stock on hand. Much to his surprise, he found there was not a plow in the store. He immediately dispatched an order for a dozen plows to the nearest wholesale supply house, fifty or a hundred miles distant.

The next day he "hitched up" and took a drive over the neighborhood, noting the general outlook and making inquiries among the residents.

On returning to his store, he sent this message to his wholesale house: "Cancel order for plows. Send me a ton of blasting powder."

"Look here!" exclaimed the old lady, "I want you to take back that parrot you sold me. I find it swears very badly."

"Well, madam," replied the dealer, "it's a very young bird; it'll learn to swear better when it's a bit older."
