A number of guests were present and the bride-to-be was the recipient of a number of nice presents. Delicious refreshments were served and all present had an enjoyable afternoon.

Plants Receive Wireless.

One of the most extraordinary recent discoveries in regard to plants is that they are "conscious" of wireless messages, says the Radio Amateur News. Experts who have experimented in the matter declare that plants receive wireless messages, and that the response can be detected by the newer electrical instruments. The latter are so sensitive that they can detect and register the minutest internal movements in plants.

Jackson-Bell.

A beautiful wedding took place at the Baptist church in Tryon Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock when Miss Iola Elenor Bell and Mr. Ralph Stephenson Jackson were united in marriage. The impressive ring ceremony was used, Rev. R. N. Pratt, the pastor officiating in the presence of a large number of friends.

The church was artistically decorated with a profusion of cut flowers, palms and ferns, the color scheme of pink and green being used. Miss Myrtle Reese of Asheville rendered the wedding march.

The ushers were Mr. Julian Hester and Mr. Oliver Andrews both of Tryon Mr. Raymond Jackson brother of the groom acted as best man. Miss Lillian Powell of Dillon, S. C. was maid of honor and Miss Alva Jackson bride's maid, both wearing blue organdie dresses and large blue hats carrying pink carnations. Little Miss June Leonard the dainty ring bearer wore a fluffy frock of white organdie and carried the ring in the heart of a rose.

The bride entered on the arm of her father and wore a suit of brown with hat and accessories to match, carrying a bouquet of bride's roses and swansonias. The groom entered with his best man and met the bride at the altar. The bride and groom left immediately after the ceremony for a brief wedding trip after which they will be at home at "Brookside" Tryon.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bell of Tryon where she has lived for a number of years and has won many friends. She is a graduate Littleton College, Littleton, N. C. The Wind Decides.

In Sumatra the wind decides the length of time a widow shall remain single. Just after her husband's death she plants a flagstaff at her door, upon which a flag is raised. While the flag remains untorn by the wind the etiquette of Sumatra forbids her to marry; but at the first rent, however small, she can lay aside her mourning, assume her most bewitching smile and accept the first man who presents himself.

Early Days of Tobacco.

While tobacco was getting a foothold in England marvelous medicinal properties were ascribed to it, and until Raleigh blew smoke ostentatiously from his nostrils because he liked it the addicts of the time usually professed to be smoking for the good of their health. By the year 1614 the number of tobaccoists in and about London was estimated at 7,000. Just before that time began the "great tobacco persecution."

Uplift Through Science.

It is the application of science to the work that helps the worker. The social reformer cheers but does not invigorate. As Prof. Milliken well said not long ago: "One little new advance like the discovery of ductile tungsten which makes electric light one-third as expensive as it was before, is a larger contribution to human well being than all kinds of changes in the social order."—Samuel Crowther in the World's Work.

Warning.

OUR INTEREST IN THE SMALL ACCOUNT.

To us the Small Account means much. We have watched so many of them grow into GIANTS. DON'T think your small account is not important to your banker. To him a small account is the first sign of financial independence. Your Banker says to himself, when a new account is established: "I will watch this account. Its owner is showing unmistakable signs of growing. He will be independent some of these days. The more I can help him the more he can help me." As soon as your Banker sees you making good with YOUR-SELF, he is willing to back your efforts. Drop in and let us tell you how this Bank can aid your business.
