Memorial to Guynemer Dedicated

France's tribute to Captain Guynemer, greatest of air heroes, was dedicated at Poel-Capelle, where members of the royal air force of England and the French aviation service attended the ceremonies. Guynemer, after downing 53 German planes, was himself killed in air combat.

Airplane View of New York's Financial District

The bulk of the world's wealth is handled here. The famous streets we hear so much about can be seen plainly. To the left is the narrow street called Wall Street; looking west toward Trinity church, the Bankers' Trust building is seen with its pyramid top. A little over toward the right are the Equitable building, the Singer building and the Woolworth.

VENUS OF LOS ANGELES

Miss Eugenia Gilbert, titian-haired Los Angeles beauty, received a prize of $4,000 and a compliment that money could not value when three judges—a movie actor, a director, and a noted sculptor—pronounced her measurements, profile and complexion nearly perfect during a beauty contest held recently in Los Angeles.

Arms Smuggled by Two Chinamen

Believed to be Chinese imperialists attempting to smuggle firearms and ammunition to their compatriots in China, Soo Shong and Wong Ching Wing were arrested in New York, charged with violation of the Sullivan law. They had thirty-six Mauser revolvers and 10,000 rounds of ammunition, shown in the photograph.

Mrs. Horchem Will Race to St. Louis

To a woman flier goes the honor of becoming the first entry in the International Air Races of 1923, to be held at St. Louis field, October 1, 2 and 3. Officials of the St. Louis Air board, in charge of the race, announce receipt of the first of more than 250 entries expected in the eight events. It was from Mrs. Bertha Dale Horchem of Ransom, Kan., who in a recent trial at St. Louis field reached an altitude of 16,300 feet, being the highest flight any woman has ever made. Mrs. Horchem will compete in the "On to St. Louis Race," for which the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce is offering a valuable trophy in addition to the cash prize of $1,000. In this race, which is open to civilians only, planes will be flown from all sections of the country to St. Louis.
