

Bailey Pleads for Reduced Land Taxes, and Lower Freight Rates and Secret Ballot

June 7th is the Time to Decide These Great Questions of Public Policy

After June 7th it Will be too Late

Mr. Bailey Asks the Voters to Make Their Approval of Causes Represented by Him Overwhelmingly Emphatic by Getting Every Democrat to Vote in the Primary Saturday June 7th.

To the Democratic Voters of North Carolina:

This is a campaign of issues. The Primary June 7th will settle certain questions of public policy—questions of real importance.

I. The first of these is the question of taxes

Land taxes have been steadily rising in this State for ten years. The increase amounts to thirty per cent a year for eleven years. And under the present system there is certainty that they will continue to rise. I hold that land is bearing more than its just share of the burden of taxes, and that we must change the system as to shift the burden. My opponent frankly defends the present system.

I am opposed to any taxes on or property, for State purposes.

I hold that when the State exempted from taxation more than $116,000,000 worth of stocks in foreign cooperations it did a great wrong. On this subject my opponent says nothing. THIS ONE ACT ADDED MORE THAN A MILLION AND A HALF OF DOLLARS TO TAXES ON LANDS. It took that much from the taxes of the wealthy and put it on property—mainly land.

The election June 7th will determine whether or not land taxes will continue to increase.

II. The second big question before us is the question of political control.

So long as we have machine control, we will have control by and for specially favored interests.

The people can manage the Democratic Party, and they can take care of it.

All the progress that ever was made was made in spite of the ruling powers.

Machines operate in politics by means of money; and they pay the money back at the public expense.

Machines are maintained for the benefit of a few. They give the people only what they dare not refuse.

We must put an end to this sort of thing, or the people will lose confidence in the Democratic Party. Office holders have no right to dictate to voters of the State by secretly nominating candidates for office for two, three and four terms in advance.

I am in favor of the Australian Ballot and of court review of election returns. The Australian Ballot will give the voters secrecy in voting and will make the purchase of votes difficult and will tend to put an end to the power of money in politics.

My opponent is defending our present election primary laws.

This question will also be settled June 7th.

III. The third big question before us is the question of freight rates

I propose to resist to the fullest extent the discriminations against North Carolina in favor of Virginia, and also to rest rates I hold that since ATLANTIC COAST LINE is now making more than 20 per cent on its capital, and the SOUTHERN RAILWAY is paying dividends at the rate of 5 per cent a year on $120,000,000 of watered common stock, there is no necessity for increasing freight rates; and I remind all our people that increased freight charges will increase the cost of living. My opponent is silent on the question of lower freight rates.

It is the Primary, June 7th, vote that will decide all of these issues. Vote early and then stand by and see the votes counted and certified.

What Kind of Fruit Are You Producing This Year

All indications for 1924 point toward a bountiful fruit crop throughout North Carolina. Added to the production of sound fruit, the output will be greatly increased by much knotty, scabby, and wormy material. In seeking high-grade produce, local dealers are forced each year to handle quantities of fruit from outside the State, since quality holds first place. There is no shadow of doubt but what the North Carolina apple or peach equals that produced in any other section, providing it is cared for properly. A basket of sound fruit is worth many of culls. The fruit grower should by careful and thorough spraying make the most of the plentiful crop which nature has supplied this year.

Orchard Program For June.
Sow the peach orchard to cowpeas between the middle and latter part of June. Soybeans will be found satisfactory for the apple orchard. These crops afford an efficient means for adding fertility to the soil.

About one month before the peach ripens apply spray to protect the fruit. Self-boiled lime-sulphur will be found effective with one pound of arsenate of lead added to each 50 gallons of spray. Bearing apple orchards should be sprayed according to spray schedule, using Bordeaux mixture spray material with one pound of arsenate of lead added to each 50 gallons of spray.

Green Manuring Crops

In Orchard.
Some green manuring crop should be sown in both the apple and peach orchard during the latter part of June. Soybeans and cowpeas make the best manuring crops for the orchard. They add nitrogen and increase the humus content of soil when returned to it. Most of the soils of the state are deficient in both. It is best to sow these summer crops about 3 12 feet apart in order that cultivation may be continued through the dry hot summer months.

Hay should never be grown in the orchard as it competes too strongly with the tree water at the time the tree needs it most, thereby neither the hay nor the orchard will do as well as they should.
